Important Matters Before Board Of Aldermen In 1931 Final Meeting

Petitions Discussed, Appropriations Made and Traffic Regulations Passed

The last meeting of the 1931 Board of Aldermen was held on Monday night with all the members except Alderman Harte present. Several important matters came before the meeting—including the confirmation of the new Public Buildings Commissioner and the motorizing of the Newton police force. Hearings on several petitions were announced but none appeared to favor or object when the hearings were announced. These petitions were as follows: 67201 Edison Electric Illuminating Co. of Boston and New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. of Mass., joint pole locations, poles originally set in a private way which is now a public street; Oliver street, Ward 5, easterly from Chestnut street, six poles; 67202 Edison Company, pole locations, Otis place, Ward 2, northerly from Otis street, three poles. First pole from Otis street is proposed new location; other two are poles originally set in a private way which is now a public street. 67203 Telephone and Edison Companies, joint pole location, Walnut street, approximately 220 feet from Commonwealth avenue southerly, one pole. 67156 Standard Oil Co. of N. Y., for permit to increase Gasoline Storage Capacity at 1100 Beacon street, corner of Walnut street, Ward 6; to install one additional underground tank with pump, 1000 gallons capacity, in connection with Gasoline Selling Station. 67157 Standard Oil Co. of N. Y., for permit to increase Gasoline Storage Capacity at 58 Winchester street, Ward 5; to install one additional pump; underground tank, 500 gallons capacity, already on premises, in connection with Gasoline Selling Station.

Alderman Hawkins reporting for the Licenses Committee recommended the granting of the following petitions—John Baker, express license, 69 Crafts street; Charles Pearce, 2nd class taxi license 873 Walnut street; Yvonne Paul, 2nd class taxi, 304 California street; Steeves-Murchinson Co., license to deal in second hand automobiles at 796 Beacon street; Garden City Taxi Co., by Peter Dugan, two 1st class taxi licenses at 233 Washington street; one stand only, present 2nd class license to be surrendered. The report of the committee was accepted by the Board. On recommendation of the Licenses Committee the Board voted to withdraw on these petitions—Texas Company permit for additional pump and 1000 gallon tank at 1295 Boylston street; Bolelaw Ebel, pool tables at 1028 Chestnut street; Dominic Proia, pool tables at 1261 Washington street; Jacob Kligman, gasoline filling station at 456 Watertown street; Antonina Kullizza, lodging house at 25 Mechanic street; Colonial Oil Company Co. additional tank and pump at 1294 Commonwealth avenue.

On the petition of the Atlantic Refining Company for a permit to conduct a gasoline filling station at 325 Boylston street in the Thompsonville district, Alderman Woodcock dissented from the report of the other six members of the Licenses Committee who had voted "leave to withdraw" on this petition. Mr. Woodcock explained his vote by saying that this petition had been held in committee because the reason was given that no permit should be granted for any station on Boylston street until plans had been decided upon regarding the location of the new State traffic artery between Boston and Worcester which will follow this street. These plans have been decided upon, so that this objection has been eliminated. There was but one objector to the petition—the owner of a house on an adjoining piece of property which is some distance removed from the locus of the proposed station. Mr. Woodcock said that this objector could not be much concerned about aesthetic considerations as he plans to build a fruit store alongside his residence. The Ward 2 alderman cited the filling station in front of the Turgeon garage at Newtonville as an instance where residents in the adjoining Colonna Apartments who had strongly protested against this station, now admit it has greatly improved the neighborhood. Woodcock argued that petitioners for gasoline filling stations should all be treated fairly and that this petition ought to be granted. He said that the petitioners had agreed to give a strip of land 15 feet in depth to the State if it is deemed necessary to widen Boylston street at this point.

Alderman Gallagher said he was impressed by Mr. Woodcock's argument and he asked that the matter be referred back to the Licenses Committee so that all the members of the Board might look into this petition more thoroughly. Alderman Hawkins replied that the Licenses Committee had held several hearings on this matter and had decided that the proposed location of the driveways at this station were not proper. Alderman Powers said that inasmuch as three members of the present Board are ending their connection with the Aldermen the petition ought to be referred back to allow the newly elected Aldermen to investigate this matter. Alderman Smith said the Licenses Committee had acted on this matter without prejudice, but a real estate transaction enters into the affair and that it could be explained to the members of the Board in a committee of the whole session if a recess were declared. Alderman Gallagher declared that if the committee had anything up their sleeves they should inform the other members of the Board.

On the recommendation of the Licenses Committee the Board voted to grant a permit for a gasoline filling station at 396 California street to Frank I. Fisher and leave to withdraw the petition of the Texas Company for additional tanks and pumps at its various stations in this city. This was done at the request of the Texas Company.

On favorable report of the Claims and Rules Committee a permit was granted to William F. Wright for a greenhouse at 992 Dedham street, Oak Hill. Leave to withdraw was granted to the following petitions—Charles Morgan, greenhouse at 540 Grove street; Robert F. Anderson, changing land bounded by Commonwealth avenue, Washington street and Bonmar circle from single residence to business zone; W. Frank Brown, changing land on Norwood avenue and Trowbridge street from private residence to general residence zone; Ida Schwartz, changing land on Washington street between Lowell avenue and Walker street from general residence to business zone.

Newton Man Shot By 17-Year Old Stepson

Richard B. Wilson, Well-Known Sign Painter, Victim

Richard Wilson of 263 Church street, Newton, was murdered Monday afternoon by his stepson, William I. Brown, age 17. Wilson was 42 years of age and a native of Everett. For the past 8 years he had been in the employ of the Winn Sign Shop at Newton, and was a skilful and industrious worker. He formerly resided in Somerville and moved to this city about 5 years ago. He had resided at the Church street address for the past 2 years.

Six years ago, Wilson, then a widower with 3 children, married a widow with 8 children. Since their marriage 4 children were born to him. At the Wilson home on Church street were residing with the parents their four children, four of Mrs. Wilson's children by her first marriage and Wilson's three children by his first marriage. There had been considerable friction between the couple because of the mixed family.

Shortly after 7 o'clock Monday night young Brown entered the Malden police headquarters and informed the sergeant at the desk that he had shot and killed his stepfather. According to his story, Wilson made a disparaging remark concerning Mrs. Wilson late Monday afternoon and a fight started between him and the stepfather. Brown alleged that following the use of fists, both tried to get a single barrel rifle which was in the attic of the house. The youth got the weapon and shot his stepfather. He then ejected the empty shell, reloaded the rifle and shot Wilson a second time. Brown then loaded a third shell in the rifle but did not fire it. Both shells, fired at close range, inflicted gaping wounds. One tore the victim's neck and part of his chin away. The other tore through his chest near the heart.

The Malden police telephoned Newton police headquarters and Serg. Moran with Patrolmen Jenkins, McDonough and Stevens went to Wilson's house. Wilson's wife told the police that she had gone to a movie theatre that afternoon and upon returning home observed his car in the yard and his hat on the living room table but she did not know where her husband was. The policemen went up to the attic and found Wilson's body sprawled on the floor. Medical Examiner West was notified and viewed the body. Newton police went to Malden and brought Brown to the scene of the murder where the youth told the alleged details of the crime to Inspector Goode of the Newton police. Brown was then taken to Newton police headquarters where he was questioned by Chief Hughes and Inspector Goode and a verbatim report of his statements taken by Miss Elsie Dunlevy, police headquarters' stenographer. Young Brown was seemingly little concerned over the enormity of the offence he confessed to. One of his brothers, Leslie Brown, told the police that William had come into the home of their sister, Mrs. Ruth Kincaid on Monday evening, handed him $15 and remarked, "Go to Newton and take care of mother."

Brown was arraigned in the Newton court Tuesday morning and his case continued until January 8 at the request of the Newton police. He was not represented by counsel. Chief Hughes and Inspector Goode have been questioning the youth in an effort to learn the real facts of the murder as they are sceptical of the version told by Brown.

The timely discovery of a fire by Patrolman Frank O'Donnell at 1:15 last Sunday morning enabled him to warn the family of Carmine Salvia at 7 Abundant avenue, West Newton, and have 5 persons rush from their beds to safety. O'Donnell was driving home after finishing his tour of duty at 1 o'clock when he discovered a fire in the store on the ground floor of the building under Salvia's apartment. The store was occupied by Frank Gorgone of Gannon court, West Newton. Gorgone was the owner of the store and building in which the explosion of a huge still caused a fire and the deaths of 6 persons in January 1928.

After the firemen had extinguished the blaze at Gorgone's store last Sunday morning they found two jimmies on the floor of the store and the rear door had the appearance of having been forced. The cash drawer in the store had been looted and about 60 cents, which it had contained was missing. The theory was offered that a burglar had entered the store and started the fire. The State Fire Marshal's office was requested to investigate the fire. The damage is estimated at about $2000.

BRISK FIRE IN NEWTON GARAGE

The large wooden garage at 70 Watertown street, Newton, owned by J. Edward Maloney, was burned early Tuesday morning. A large Packard sedan in the garage was badly burned and three other cars somewhat burned. The fire was discovered at 5:40 a. m., and Box 113 pulled. The fire was caused by an overheated chimney. The building was formerly used as a barn, and the old chimney was not constructed to withstand the heat coming from an oil heater which had been installed in the building.

TENEMENT HOUSE FIRE AT UPPER FALLS

A 14 family tenement block at 52 Mechanic street, Newton Upper Falls, caught afire Tuesday afternoon in the tenement of Gosson Onanian on the third floor. The many tenants in the building rushed to the street. The fire was confined to the tenement where it started. It was caused by sparks from a wood fire in the kitchen range igniting papers behind the stove.

Many Fires Keep Local Force Busy

Capt. Tripp Breaks Ankle At Watertown Blaze

Captain Benjamin Tripp of Engine 1, Newton, broke his right ankle when he fell while engaged in fighting a fire which destroyed the factory of the Weston Biscuit Company on Howard street, Watertown last night. The fire was a spectacular one and completely burned the big wooden building. It started about 11 o'clock and Engine 1 and Engine 4 of this city aided the Watertown firemen until nearly 6 o'clock this morning. Tripp fell while aiding in carrying hose and broke a bone in his right ankle. He was taken to the Waltham Hospital. Captain Tripp has been a member of the Newton Fire Department for nearly 40 years and is due to retire on a pension within several months.

BIG GARAGE FIRE AT NEWTON

The Newton Garage at 24 Brook street, Newton Corner, was swept by fire at 10:22 Tuesday night. Two alarms sounded, one from Box 115 and another from Box 15, brought most of the Newton fire fighting apparatus to the place and the fire was soon under control. It had spread so quickly, however, that damage amounting to some thousands of dollars was done to the building and its contents. John Quirk, night man at the garage, climbed out through a rear window when smoke suddenly filled the front entrance of the building. The fire started on the second floor near the elevator shaft and spread across this floor to the office. Several cars on this floor were badly damaged and smoke damaged the contents of the office and stock on the first floor. There were 28 cars in the garage when the fire occurred. The building is owned by D. Harry Robblee of Newton and was occupied by the Newton Garage & Automobile Company. This company is owned by Eric Lagerbald of West Newton, agent in this city for Studebaker cars. One line of hose laid across the tracks of the Boston Elevated on Washington street delayed electric cars going to and coming from Boston for over 30 minutes.

FIRE IN GORGONE STORE ENDANGERED LIVES

The timely discovery of a fire by Patrolman Frank O'Donnell at 1:15 last Sunday morning enabled him to warn the family of Carmine Salvia at 7 Abundant avenue, West Newton, and have 5 persons rush from their beds to safety. O'Donnell was driving home after finishing his tour of duty at 1 o'clock when he discovered a fire in the store on the ground floor of the building under Salvia's apartment. Aldermen Confirm Hageman Appointment

Experienced Engineer Becomes Building Commissioner

Mayor Weeks' appointment of Harry Hageman of Allerton road, Newton Highlands as Public Buildings Commissioner to succeed Cecil Chadwick was confirmed by the Board of Aldermen on Monday night by a unanimous vote. Alderman Ball said he has known Mr. Hageman for 14 years, has found him to be a man of high character and the city is fortunate to obtain the services of a man of his type. Ball said that Hageman is not tied by any political strings and can run the Public Buildings Department free from such entanglements. Ball, apparently acting as spokesman for Mayor Weeks, stated that the Mayor had asked Mr. Hageman if he will hold the position only as long as the present economic crisis lasts and that Mr. Hageman had replied "I shall be glad to remain with the city as long as it wants me."

Alderman Powers said that the information given the Aldermen from the Mayor's office when Mr. Hageman's appointment was made, stated that this gentleman is a civil engineer and a member of leading societies composed of members of this profession. The Newton directory states that Mr. Hageman is a hydraulic engineer. The list of the Newton assessors specifies Mr. Hageman as a mechanical engineer. Powers commented that the gentleman is versatile in the engineering professions and that the city is fortunate to obtain the services of a hydraulic engineer in case any more school buildings may be erected in sites such as the John Ward and Cabot Schools were built. Alderman Bowen said that the pertinent thing to know is what experience the appointee has had in building construction.

Alderman Gallagher said that Mr. Hageman was not the candidate he favored for the position but he has learned the gentleman has a fine record and the city is lucky to obtain his services. Gallagher stated that there is a report current in the city that it is intended to groom Hageman to eventually assume control of the City Engineer's Department and the Street Department. If this be so, the aldermen should knock down any such attempt.

THERE IS YET TIME TO HELP

Proceeds of the 1931 Christmas seal sale, to date, have been encouraging, but there ought to be much more to come.

More than twelve thousand letters were mailed to Newton residents. If every one who received a letter would contribute something—perhaps bring a part of the 100 stamps—at one cent each, which were enclosed in each letter, if not the whole, wonderful help toward health and strength would be given to many families. Prolonged unemployment and its results, not enough nourishing food, and warm clothing all open the doors to tuberculosis and other diseases. Just a small investment to preserve good health, will help to make Newton safe for your children and for yourselves. The passing of Christmas day, or the opening of the New Year, need not close the sale of Christmas seals.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

The bridge party which is to be held at the Commonwealth Country Club, Chestnut Hill, on Monday afternoon, January 4, will be directed by Mrs. Arthur L. Race and Robert L. Wayland. Assisting them are Mmes. Henry John Horn, Robert H. Hull, Ellis G. Hurt, George W. Johnston, Charles M. Keep and Alfred E. Knight. The families of disabled veterans will be the beneficiaries.

Newton Police To Patrol Routes In Radio-Equipped Automobiles

City Divided Into Seven Districts—Newton Is First City In State With New Plan

At the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night an appropriation was made to purchase seven Ford sedans and 11 short wave radio sets for these sedans and other automobiles owned by the Newton Police Department. This appropriation was made at the request of Mayor Weeks. Alderman Ball, chairman of the Finance Committee, told the Aldermen that automobiles and radios are for the purpose of modernizing Newton's police department. This radical change has been considered for some time by Mayor Weeks and Police Chief Hughes. Chief Hughes believes that the city can be patrolled more efficiently by having policemen patrol the streets riding in automobiles instead of walking. The city has been divided into seven patrol districts. Each car will cruise about with two policemen and will cover about 75 miles a night.

During the summer months the policemen in the cruising cars will try the doors of houses whose owners are away. Each car will contain a short wave radio set which will be tuned onto the broadcasting station at the State Police barracks at Framingham. Telephone messages sent from police headquarters will be relayed to the radio sets in the Newton patrol cars. At each of the business sections in the 11 villages of the city a policeman will be stationed on foot, but all other patrolmen will be taken off the existing patrolled routes. The 10 reserve policemen will have no further work and this will effect a savings of $10,500 yearly, so the cost of the change will save the city $4000 after allowing for the cost of the 7 automobiles and the 11 radios. Alderman Ball said it is expected that 4 of the present policemen will retire the coming year and this will give regular positions to 4 of the present reserve policemen.

Alderman Powers said that while he favors the purchase of the 7 automobiles and 11 radios to modernize the police department and enable it to cope with modern conditions, he objected to the radical change which will take all policemen now on foot patrol off the streets, except at the business sections. Powers commented that a policeman on foot can detect fires at night when policemen riding in automobiles cannot detect such fires. He also stated that he expects Newton's citizens will not approve the abolishing of all foot patrolling by policemen. Questioned by President Collins of the Board, Chief Hughes replied that he believes the city will be much more efficiently and thoroughly patrolled by the new method and better protection afforded citizens. Alderman Collins said that the change will allow more policemen for traffic work on the day shift. He asked Chief Hughes if other cities are using the motor patrol system. Chief Hughes replied that while cities in Western States are using this method, Massachusetts cities have not adopted it as yet, but he believes that in the near future they will and that foot patrolling by policemen will soon become obsolete. The change will take effect January 1st without permanent increase in cost.

The entire city has been marked off into police zones, and an automobile manned by two officers has been assigned to each zone. The only exceptions from complete motorization are police on traffic posts and men on foot assigned to the business districts of the 11 communities of the city. The new plan, moreover, will eliminate the necessity of a reserve officer appropriation, which last year amounted to $10,500.

Police in automobiles will be in almost constant touch with the new police headquarters building in West Newton. Moreover, one man in each automobile will be required to report back from a different signal box in his zone every half hour. A new blinker system of lights on each police signal box in the city will also go into effect at the same time so that police in the business districts and traffic police as well can be called in emergencies giving 100 per cent protection to Newton day and night. "Brass-buttoned police officers leisurely patrolling beats on foot will be memories of the past," declared Mayor Weeks, in announcing the plan. "Except in business centres, where sidewalk crowds gather and store doors must be tried, they will 'cover' the city's large area thoroughly in radio-equipped cars."

In a few years, in my opinion, the blue-coated law guardian will entirely disappear from the sidewalks of every city and town. Such an officer is too clearly visible for long distances to the law breaker. Moreover, he has been long at a disadvantage in coping with a fugitive who has a fast motor car to carry him away from the scene of his crime."

Nearly a year has been spent by Chief of Police Michael T. Hughes in a study of the most efficient police methods applicable to a city of the type of Newton and the motorization plan is the result. Newton's police problem is unique because of the 13 square miles which must be covered by a comparatively small force. In area Newton is larger than Cambridge, Somerville and Brookline combined, and if patrolmen on foot were utilized to cover this wide area and to cope properly with present-day law breakers a force as large as the combined forces of Cambridge, Somerville and Brookline would be necessary. This naturally would place a heavy tax burden on taxpayers and would not give police the speed now required to capture offenders. Hence the decision in favor of motor equipment was made. Appropriation to purchase 7 additional automobiles and 11 radios at the present time was made by the Newton Board of Aldermen last night. These added to the cars already in operation in the department by plain clothes men will enable the department to inaugurate its day and night auto patrol.

Newton's nearness to the State Police Barracks in Framingham makes it unnecessary for the city to install its own broadcasting station. Therefore, all broadcasts intended for the police cruising through the city streets will be relayed by special telephone to Framingham, and from that point broadcast to Newton's radio-equipped automobiles. Recent time tests showed conclusively that messages can be sent to police in moving automobiles from Newton Police (Continued on Page 2)

NEWTON POLICEMEN TO PATROL ROUTES IN AUTOMOBILES

Headquarters by way of Framingham and answers received by telephone at the point of origin within two minutes.

Chief Hughes is certain that better police protection will be possible throughout all of Newton by the new system. The police in motor cars will be able not only to cover more territory but such a mobile force will be immediately available for concentrating in any section needed. Complaints from citizens will be answered more quickly and fugitives will have less chance to get away.

Mayor Weeks pointed out that efforts of the city government have been directed for nearly two years on modernizing the police protective forces in Newton. A new headquarters building, completely equipped, has been erected at a cost of nearly $175,000, teletype has been installed connected with practically every police station in greater Boston, the blinker system of flashing lights has been added to the police signal boxes on the streets for calling officers. Other police equipment includes gas bombs and Thompson machine guns, and now the motorization of the force has placed, he believes, Newton's police department in the forefront of police departments of the whole United States.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

NEWTON SEXTET WINS TWO GAMES AND TIES FOR LEAD

By winning both of its Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey league games this week the Newton High School hockey team went into a first place tie for the league leadership with Medford, newcomer to the circuit, which also won two games. Last Saturday the opening games were played at the Boston Garden with Newton topping Stoneham, 2 to 1, Medford routing Rindge Tech, 6 to 0, and Melrose opening the defence of its title with a 4 to 0 margin over Belmont. The game between Arlington and Cambridge Latin resulted in a 2 to 2 tie.

Monday the orange and black was successful in its first outdoor encounter, edging Rindge Tech, 1 to 0. Good ice was lacking on other school rinks and the games were put over to Tuesday. On Tuesday Medford showed that its victory over Rindge was not a flash in the pan by slamming out a 7 to 1 victory over Arlington. Belmont topped Cambridge Latin the same afternoon, 3 to 1, while the Melrose-Stoneham clash was not played.

In winning its opening game with Stoneham on Saturday the Newton sextet stormed the opponent's goal and scored in the second and third sessions to take a 2 to 0 lead. With less than two minutes to go Stoneham saved a shutout when Avery's shot was taken on the rebound by Gross and whipped into the strings. In the first period Jack Skillins, Newton goalie, turned aside many hard drives while Moody who was in the strings for Stoneham saved on difficult shots by Al Carvelli and Dick Kelley. In the second period one of Stoneham's offensive drives was split by the Newton defence. Natole Sostillo gathered in the puck, swept down the right and let go a tricky shot that Moody failed to handle. Stoneham put on pressure but could not get in close on Skillins. In the final session Carvelli got in on Moody several times but each time was thwarted by the Stoneham net guardian. Later Houghton skated up to the Stoneham defence and let go a shot which Moody batted down right in front of the cage. Dick Kelley followed up Houghton's drive and batted the disc into the strings before Moody could sweep it aside.

The 1 to 0 score against Rindge Tech does not indicate Newton's superiority. It was only due to the remarkable work by Marty Rossio, Rindge goalie, that the score was kept down. The Newton forwards continually broke through the Tech defence but were stopped on all attempts. The sole tally and the only game came in the third period with Kelley and Houghton showing some excellent teamwork. Kelley sallied up the ice with the disc and fluttered through the defense. As he swung in on Rossio and the latter came out to save he snapped a pass to Houghton who slapped the rubber home. Later the entire Newton forward line of Kelley, Duane and Carvelli raced in on Rossio but Carvelli's drive struck the Rindge goalie in the head and knocked him out for a few minutes. The victory put Newton into the lead in the league circuit but for twenty-four hours only as Medford swamped Arlington the next day to tie with Newton for first honors.

Veterans Are on Hand
Several veterans are available for the Our Lady's High basketball team this winter, runner-up to St. Charles school of Waltham in the Catholic league race last year. In the squad which is practicing for the approaching campaign under Fr. Russell Haley are three of the 1931 regulars, Charlie Gallagher, Steve McLean and Jim Moran. Among last year's reserves who are striving for regular berths this year are Len Cummings, Dan Colletti, guards, and Dan Baccari and Jack Barton, forwards.

N. U. Freshman Prospects
Kirkwood B. Brown of Waban and Robert Ehlbeck of Newton reported to Coach Jerry Tatton of the Northeastern University freshman track team this week. Brown is a good prospect for the 600-yd. run while Ehlbeck is a candidate for a position on the mile relay team and in the dashes.

TRACK SEASON TO OPEN NEXT FRIDAY AGAINST MEDFORD

The Newton high school indoor track team opens its season next week Friday afternoon at the Boston Y. M. C. A. track against Medford High. The Newton indoor team has been through three consecutive seasons without a defeat in its dual meets with other schools and college freshman teams. Last year an all-star aggregation of alumni nosed out the best team in Newton's track history by a narrow margin. As many of this alumni team are well-known college stars the schoolboys were decidedly competing out of their class. Otherwise the string of undefeated dual meets has stretched to twelve in the past three years.

If Newton can top Medford next week it will be the thirteenth consecutive dual meet victory and the fifth in succession over the Medford lads. Through the season of 1927 Newton and Medford arranged alternate meets on each other's track, one year at Newton and the next at Medford. It was usually the case of the home team winning and is seen in the two tracks were greatly different with the home team having a great advantage. In the winter of 1928 the meet was arranged on the Boston Y track and has been held there yearly since. Newton has been the victor in all four of the meetings there, sometimes just managing to come through by a narrow margin and at other times have plenty to spare.

The Newton team held an informal interclass meet and this afternoon Medford is holding its annual alumni meet which will furnish some basis of comparison of the ability of the runners on each team.

Coach Enoch of Newton will depend upon Doug Sloane in the dash. The stocky Newtonville youth came fast towards the end of last year's outdoor season and is seen to take his place along with other recent star sprinters at Newton such as Carl Pessolido, Dick Reynolds, Bob Ewing and Walter Holmes.

Captain Jimmie Cahill is the orange and black's best 300-yarder and with the experience gained last year in interscholastic competition he will make the fur fly in the coming battles down the home stretch. On the Newton track Cahill is well high unbeatable through his ability to take the banked turns.

Willie Mullen, football quarterback, is carrying the burden in the 600 and although having had little track experience he was clocked in 1m. 25s. for the distance in the class meet. That is pretty good early season time and if pressed by runners such as Medford and the other schools turn out Mullen will make them step. Tom Connolly and Jim Fitzgerald are the outstanding distance runners in the 1000-yard run. Both showed up well in the cross-country races last fall and will give balance to Coach Enoch's indoor outfit if they can deliver the goods.

In the hurdles Stanley Johnson is showing excellent form and if he has the speed of foot to drive through the tape he will be among the leading hurdlers of the schoolboy season. Although he is not expected to develop into another Milton Green this winter and consequently will not quite be in the class with Johnny Donovan of Lawrence he will provide plenty of competition for the other would-be champions. Johnson may develop into the outstanding star on the Newton team this winter. In the interclass meet he won the standing broad jump with a leap of 9 ft. 11½ in. which should put him in the 10 foot class ere long. His work in this event will give him the opportunity to score points in two events in the coming interscholastic meets and add to his value to the team.

Home for Holidays
Three Newton Centre youths are home from the Moses Brown School for the Christmas holidays which will end with the opening of the winter term on January 6th. Emory Swan, son of Mr. Mrs. F. M. Swan of Prentice road, was awarded a varsity letter in soccer at Moses Brown school this fall. Laurence M. Smith, son of Mr. Melville H. Smith of Ward street, was active in athletics at Country Day school before entering Moses Brown. He played squash, tennis and football there. William H. Greeley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Greeley of Ashton avenue.

BASKETBALL FIVE OPENS SEASON WITH WATERTOWN SOON

Coach Simmons' high school basketball team resumes its practice sessions tomorrow morning in preparation for the opening encounter of the season with Watertown next Wednesday. The game will be played on the Newton floor. Although Watertown, a school which is always represented by a strong basketball team, is the favorite the Newton coach has considerable material available and a smooth working quintet may be found, through replacements as the occasion demands, which will press the invaders closely. Several veterans are available for the Newton team, among them Frank Vassalotti, George Gullian, Bob Patterson, guards, George Jones, centre, and Warren Huston, forward. The first four will probably see considerable service although some of last year's second team players and some of the new sophomore material are putting up a gallant bid for regular berths. Warren Huston will probably see but little service and is not rated as a probable starter. A back injury near the end of the football season put him out of action for a while and Coach Simmons excused him from basketball practice in order to give the injury as much time as possible to heal. Huston will be with the squad from now on, however, and will require little time to get in shape as his natural athletic ability is one of his outstanding assets.

After a few games during which Coach Simmons will probably experiment somewhat to determine the best outfit possible the Newton squad will be all set to make a determined bid for the Suburban league title.

MEETING OF ALDERMEN

recommended leave to withdraw on the following petitions—claims for personal injuries, Sophie Klinge, Suffolk road, Chestnut Hill; Harry J. Lovell, 20 Commonwealth Park, injury to daughter; Jean Howard, Chapel street, Newton; James Fraser, injury to daughter; Joseph J. Hayes; Mrs. Annie Dillon, Gardner street, Newton; K. A. Kroepsch, 524 Lowell avenue. Miss Klinge fell on a board walk on Suffolk road as a result of an alleged defect and received a painful injury. The city contends there was no appreciable defect on the sidewalk. Mr. Lovell's little daughter fell on the stone steps at the Rice School and received a severe facial injury. The law states that a city is not liable for such accidents at schools. Jean Howard, a young girl collided with an automobile at the corner of Jackson road and Pearl street, Newton, while riding a bicycle. It was alleged that a defect in the street caused her to lose control of the bicycle. The city contends there was no defect and it was the girl's own fault that the collision occurred. Mr. Fraser's daughter was injured when she was hit by a city owned truck last year. A suit against the city is pending on this case. Mrs. Dillon's coat was torn by a wire projecting from one of the large pipes for the water main which was stored on Washington street. The contractor is liable for any claim in this case. Mr. Kroepsch's automobile collided with a stone on Commonwealth avenue. The Board accepted the report of the Committee.

The Board also accepted the report of the Claims and Rules Committee refusing to grant the claim of Mrs. Flora Loker of Cohasset who fell while walking on Playstead road and received injuries besides breaking her eyeglasses. Alderman Powers dissented on this report. He said that the sidewalk where Mrs. Loker fell is granolithic and that one slab was over an inch lower than the next slab. The woman stubbed her foot against the raised slab and fell. Powers stated that he has had narrow escapes from falling because of similar defects in Newton sidewalks and that the city ought to be liable for the condition of many of the sidewalks in this city. He said that while the streets in the Newtons have had considerable attention, most of the sidewalks have been quite neglected. He commented that while "bithulitic" and "penolitic" street surfaces have been provided, many of the sidewalks might be termed neolithic.

The petition of the Garden City Sand and Gravel Company for a renewal of the permit to operate its plant on Beethoven avenue, Newton Highlands was granted with the restrictions that the machinery at the plant cannot be started before 7 a. m. or later than 6 p. m. without special permission.

The Aldermen amended the Traffic Regulations so that automobiles will not be permitted to be turned around on Union street, Newton Centre and vehicles of over 2 tons capacity will be prohibited on Charles street, Auburndale between Auburn street and Riverside road. A waiver of a setback line on Foster street, West Newton was granted M. J. O'Neill. An award of $50 was given E. A. Cole, Jr., for land damage on Walnut street, Newton Highlands.

Appropriations made at the meeting were—Street Department, additional for construction of Byfield road, $459.74; Engineering Department, maintenance of automobiles, $125; Executive Department, Memorial Day deficit bill, $125; Playground Department, automobile maintenance, $135; Police Department, 7 Ford sedans, $3185 and 11 radios at $65 each, $715; this money to be taken from the Excess and Deficiency Fund; Water Department for tools, $100; Health Department, care of disease, $550.

Contract Bridge Made Easy

A new and entirely different bidding system at contract is now being played with amazing results. Some of its features are:

1. There are no confusing conventions to learn.
2. Full value of contracting hands is reached in the first round of bidding, without divulging any information.
3. So simple a child can bid correctly.
4. Shuts out all informative systems.

MISSED OUT ON A CERTAIN SLAM BID AT CONTRACT

The following hand, the 405th in the Culbertson-Lenz contract bridge match in New York, on which the Culbertson team missed out on a slam bid well illustrates the accuracy of the new "Rapid Contract" method. Von Zedwitz (East), Culbertson's partner, made the only bid, an original fourth hand bid of three clubs. He took 12 tricks. Mr. Jacoby (South) commented, "more confusion in the enemy camp," to which Mr. Culbertson retorted, "hard to bid on a part score." Without a part score the Baron's hand would have been a Culbertsonian forcing two bid. The Baron, under the system, bid one more than enough to go game, showing slam possibilities, but the system's owner failed to go on. The hand:

South (Jacoby)

S Q, 8, 6, 5, 3
H 10, 9, 3
D K, 7, 4
C 7, 6

West (Culbertson)

S K, 10, 4
H 8, 7, 5
D J, 8, 5, 2
C J, 8, 3

North (Lenz)

S J, 9, 2
H J, 6, 4
D Q, 9, 6, 3
C 9, 5, 2

East (Von Zedwitz)

S A, 7
D A, 10
C A, K, Q, 10, 4

Mr. Fiske, an exponent of the new "Rapid Contract" system, says "this hand would have been bid as follows by the Rapid Contract Method. Von Zedwitz counting his hand by the Rapid Contract Chart has a count of 33 naming clubs trump and could make an original 5 club bid. Culbertson has a count of exactly eight which calls for a raise of one making the contract a small slam in clubs. The only possible losing trick is one diamond. With Russell's Rapid Contract Chart any hand may be bid as accurately as the above."

AS WE TURN THE PAGES

Before we turn our thoughts and attention to the new year ahead, it would be fitting to pause and glance over the pages of the past year. All in all the year 1931 in Newton was rather a quiet one from the standpoint of outstanding happenings. However, there were a number of noteworthy events which we will note in chronological order. During the year it was our sad duty to note the passing of several men whose achievements in life were of exceptional benefit to the city. Among these were Charles E. Kelsey, Arthur Kendrick, Joseph B. Jamieson, Frank H. Howes, Dr. Frank R. Stubbs, Thomas P. Curtis, Henry D. Woods, Fred H. Hayward, and Emerson R. Stoddard.

JANUARY first the city inauguration was held with no change in the personnel of the executive or aldermanic branches. Mrs. Cornell went on the School Committee from Ward 5. Aldermen Collins and Gallagher were re-elected president and vice president of the Board of Aldermen. Joseph F. Lockett was named chairman of the School Committee. In the first month of the year the water department changed over its billing system to a quarterly basis. A record for early presentation of the annual budget was made when Mayor Weeks sent his recommendations totalling nearly four and a half millions of dollars to the Aldermen late in the month.

FEBRUARY brought the budget before the Aldermen with the Mayor's recommendations being approved practically throughout for a total of $4,476,958, which was a reduction of $350,000 over the previous year. Another important event was the receiving of bids for the new Court House and Police Headquarters buildings. During the month the local quota of $11,400 for Red Cross Drought Relief was exceeded and nearly doubled as the $21,000 mark was passed.

MARCH and the coming of Spring, saw the acceptance of the plans for the New City Hall and War Memorial as the foremost happening of the month. Other events were the announcement by the White House Conference that Newton ranked first in the country in two of four child health measures, the closing of the high school indoor track season as the greatest in its history with championships won in three of the four big meets, the appointment of Ralph M. Sanborn as football coach at the high school, and the completion of ten years' service by Charles E. Hatfield as County Treasurer. The parting shot of winter was an unusual storm during which lightning struck twice in Newton.

APRIL saw the opening of the remodelled water department building at Newtonville, an appropriation of more than $60,000 to furnish the new Weeks Junior High School, authorization of a survey of traffic and parking conditions at Newton Corner, announcement of statistics showing Newton students lead the country in meeting college entrance examination requirements and the annual fire department report showing increased fire losses in 1930 over 1929.

MAY was a rather quiet month with a change in city ordinances regarding the Cousens Fund by which a board of trustees to administer the fund was formed, the adoption of a new type of surface for secondary streets with a gravel base and asphalt top, the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at which Will H. Rice was elected president, and the usual Memorial Day observance as the leading events.

JUNE and the closing of schools witnessed the graduation of the largest class in the history of the high school, 546 receiving diplomas. A reception to Dr. and Mrs. Edward T. Sullivan of Trinity Church in recognition of his 40 years' service as rector was held. The Newton Savings Bank observed its 100th birthday. The high school outdoor track team continued its record breaking ways, winning three interscholastic titles on the cinder paths. An order restraining all dogs for 90 days was effected to reduce the threat of rabies.

JULY witnessed the start of the installation of the Metropolitan Water Works huge main in Washington and other streets, a project which is close to completion. The report of the traffic survey of Newton Corner was made public with various recommendations over a period of years at a cost of nearly half a million dollars. Bids for the new city hall and the war memorial indicating a cost of about $800,000 were opened and a twenty-year bond issue of $700,000 was authorized to take care of this project. The Aldermen approved a petition for a filling station at the corner of Willow and Centre Sts., Newton Centre, culminating a lengthy controversy among Newton Centre residents.

AUGUST brought with it announcement of a tax rate of $26.60, sixty cents lower than the previous year. Ground was broken for the new city hall and war memorial. Wm. T. Halliday, long a well-known resident and business man of Newton, was named executive vice-president of the Hingham Trust Co.

SEPTEMBER was the Graphic's birth month, as we began our sixtieth volume. Schools re-opened with an increased enrollment setting a new figure for school attendance. The Weeks Junior High at Newton Centre and the new wing at the Bigelow Junior High in Newton were opened, making the junior high system in the city practically complete.

OCTOBER was chosen by Mayor Weeks as the time to announce his candidacy for re-election. The resignation of Building Commissioner C. C. Chadwick was accepted. The Second Church in Newton observed its 150th anniversary. Miss Fannie Fogg of Newton Highlands observed her 100th birthday. The young republicans of Newton planned to organize for the coming national election. Noisy radios were barred after midnight by passage of ordinance.

NOVEMBER came and on Armistice Day the corner stones of the new City Hall and War Memorial were laid with proper ceremonies. A start was made on another attempt to make Newton water purer by purchasing and installing a machine to reduce the content of carbon dioxide. Candidates for Aldermanic seats started their various campaigns.

DECEMBER and election day brought less than a third of the voters to the polls to re-elect eight of the present Aldermen and three new members to fill seats to be vacated. Two new members of the school committee were elected without opposition. The new Court House and Police Headquarters were opened. H. A. Hageman, experienced engineer and local resident, was named Building Commissioner. Andrew J. Ford was elected president of the Newton Business Associates. The Saco-Lowell shops announced their decision to move in the spring. Agitation for more adequate equipment as a junior high school at the Bigelow School was made by residents of that section. The Mayor's Relief Committee on Unemployment reported progress thru financial co-operation of local residents.

RETIRE FROM OFFICE

At the inauguration exercises of the city government this afternoon three places on the Board of Aldermen and two on the School Committee will be filled by men who were elected to the positions vacated by those five officials who retire to private life. The retirement of Alderman Edward Powers, Fred Woodcock and Chester Prior is a distinct loss to the city. As a business man in Newton Mr. Powers has a wide knowledge of the city's needs. He coupled this knowledge with a painstaking investigation of the details of important matters and the courage to express himself in the open board. He can rest assured that he has performed his official duties to the best interests of the city. Mr. Woodcock and Mr. Prior have also been valued officials. On the school committee the places of Chairman Joseph F. Lockett and Mrs. Helen M. Hutchinson will be filled by Prof. Kirtley F. Mather and Mr. George Fernald. Both Mr. Lockett and Mrs. Hutchinson have served faithfully and well. We trust that the incoming members of both the Board of Aldermen and the School Committee will keep in mind the high standards set by their predecessors.

STARTING HIS SECOND TERM

Mayor Weeks is about to start his second term in office. A most successful administration is our New Year wish to Mr. Weeks and his official family.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

If you get half as much fun out of taking down the Christmas decorations as you did in putting them up, you are in the proper mood for 1932.

Returning the Favor

In these days of juvenile disillusionment it is heartening to find the true childish imagination clinging to a firm belief in the existence of Santa Claus. As if realities were not severe enough, such a delightful myth cannot exist too long. Those of us grown-ups who recall the bitter experience of learning the awful truth, will, I am sure, join me in these sentiments.

A fine, manly little chap of my acquaintance not only cherishes the friendship of Saint Nicholas, but he visualizes his comings and goings and his daily life. Moreover, he believes that the dear old man is human and therefore must live much the same as the rest of us. On Christmas eve, 1931, this boy discussed with his parents the possibility of time of Santa Claus' arrival, the great task on his hands, and—now, note this, please—the possibility of the old gentleman becoming hungry during his night's labors.

What then did my considerate young friend do? He obtained two pieces of cake and left these on the mantel from which hung the children's stockings. Just a bite for Old Santa to keep him from becoming too hungry before breakfast. Of course they were gone and Santa left a note thanking him for the snack.

Name, Please?

One of those writers who like to twist things around for the sake of a laugh took a couple of famous sayings and made them into a phrase of his own, which, when finished, read, "Who steals my good name steals trash." This came to my mind when a man of considerable prominence, who has much correspondence with citizens of Massachusetts, revealed to me the many ways in which his name is misspelled. It did not seem that such things could happen, but this man has for some years collected the mistakes of those who address him by letter. It made me think how little, after all, a good name means to some people. His insistence that I keep the details to myself prevent me from letting you in on it, but believe me, the various blunders were enough to make a cat laugh.

Personally, I can contribute a few instances of this character, for my own name lends itself, or rather invites the fine hand of the less accurate. I have been addressed as "Leav-erette," "Leavitt," "Leavitt," "Leaver" and "Leaver" and other peculiar combinations of letters. Then my initials have been rearranged so many times I can hardly remember. A lot of people like to change the order and make the second and third initials read "G. D." instead of "D. G." A very old friend of mine, publisher of a weekly paper, evidently told his stenographer that I had more than the usual number of initials. For a long time the paper was sent to "F. L. G. Dr Bentley." Then I have seen the "D" where the "L" should be and "G" where the "L" should be and also a series of initials beginning with "L" and including some I never owned. A Scottish friend picks out the "Duncan" in my name, which is correct, but gives me an "M" in place of the "L" and "G." He may be thinking of Macbeth for all I know.

However, there are numerous people who can tell of much more interesting experiences than I, proving that the query, "What's in a name?" is more than a foolish question.

Quick Thinking

I wish I could remember that old saying, or was it a song? about the best regulated families and the possibilities of things going wrong even in the model household. At any rate, I never heard its philosophy challenged, and am still strong for family life and the advantage of young and old thrashing things out together at the dinner table.

This, then, concerns a Newton home where peace ordinarily prevades. But the members of the household are human and for that reason may be said to have their imperfections. Clashes of temperament occur even when the cause seems most trifling.

On the occasion of which I would write two members of the otherwise

By Edw. H. Powers

Did you listen in on Christmas Day to the address of G. K. Chesterton broadcast from London, England through the Columbia chair? Mr. Chesterton's talk to the American people was not exactly eulogistic. It was hardly of the "Christmas Gift" type. He certainly did not palaver his American listeners. Many greatly enjoyed the British litterateur's litling logic, wise wit, sapient sarcasm and his ultra English accent with its wheezy enunciation.

Talking about radio. Possibly the gentlemen who control radio broadcasting can tell us what the attraction is supposed to be in the extemporaneous lyrics composed by "Bing" Crosby and his imitators. This "da de da, dum de dum, boop ba boop" and the rest of the gibberage which is substituted for the choruses of songs warbled by the big time stars of radio. Are the listeners supposed to have the mentality of infants?

Those inscrutable Japanese. How utterly unreasonable they are in seizing Manchuria. Can you blame the United States, England and France for protesting? Especially when the United States have been expending much money to keep a force of marines in Nicaragua for altruistic purposes. And France and England have never seized any Asiatic countries. The League of Nations will surely settle this trouble to the satisfaction of all concerned.

MOTORCYCLE HITS WOMAN

Lillian G. Tufts of 117 Cypress street, Newton Centre was hit Christmas Eve by a motorcycle operated by Robert Cookson of 136 Jackson street, Newton Centre. The accident occurred at Centre and Beacon streets. The woman received a fractured rib and other injuries. She was taken to her home and later removed to the home of her brother, Royal Tufts at 270 Lowell avenue, Newtonville. Cookson, in his report to the police stated that the woman stepped in front of his motorcycle from between two parked cars.

contented group found themselves in dispute. Like many famous debaters they lifted their voices, vainly assuming that volume spells reason. At the most critical moment a third and more silent and judicial member of the household opened the front door to admit a neighbor.

The neighbor heard the clash of voices and expressed astonishment. "Why what's that I hear?" she asked. "Oh," laughed the diplomat who had admitted her, "that's our new radio." She got away with it too, for the conversation at the front door was a "tip-off" for the disputants, who promptly shut up.

No Quibbling Here

It will be interesting to learn the effect of the ruling of Dr. Payson Smith, Massachusetts Commissioner of Education, who opposes the collection of money among public school pupils as contributions to Federal and State George Washington memorials. This, and another decision of Dr. Smith, is likely to set the rest of the country to thinking and thinking hard. Dr. Smith is against the holding of the series of local, State and National essay and oratorical contests in connection with the Washington bicentennial of 1932.

It doesn't take Dr. Smith long to act and he can give his reasons briefly but succinctly, usually on one sheet of paper. He says, regarding the contributions of pennies, "It is unnecessary for me to state the objections to this plan, particularly in view of the present financial situations of many parents."

Regarding the essay and oratorical contests he says, "The holding of such contests with their accompanying of prizes seems to me likely to direct attention toward the merits of competing students rather than toward the primary objective of the contest itself, which should be to strengthen in all our youth their devotion to the principles for which Washington stood and the ideals which he so well exemplified."

Dr. Smith has not only crowded a whole lot of common sense into a recedent for school authorities in Massachusetts. Watch and see if other States do not follow his lead.

Cyrus H. K. Curtis receives from Paris information that American bankers are called "banksters" in high French financial circles.

A "bankster" is supposed to be a combination of banker and gangster, expressing French opinion of American bankers.

New York bankers may reply that in dealing with the more clever of the distinguished French bankers a little of the gangster quality would not come amiss for purposes of self-defense.

It is no secret that gentlemen came here from the Bank of France with threats to draw all French gold from New York, as they had drawn all gold from London. They thought this would frighten American bankers and were surprised when told: "The sooner you take that gold out, the better we shall be pleased. It doesn't mean anything to us."

A British newspaper says Americans are "gullible and emotional," an accurate description. They were emotional when they sent three million men and ten billions of dollars to Europe and very gullible when they were silly enough to imagine that they would get the money back.

Cables from England report disappointment caused by our refusal to postpone debt payments indefinitely. It is suggested that Britain and France, combined, notify the United States that they will not pay what they owe.

Many Britishers will object to that suggestion, for the word "welcher" is unpopular in a country much addicted to racetrack gambling.

The Associated Press says British metal circles announce an agreement to reduce copper production in 1932 by 25 per cent.

This is good news for the industry, if somebody can be found to buy the remaining 74 per cent.

Tariffs are the latest fashion. England is trying one, that, by the way, disturbs the French a great deal.

Why not decide in America to use copper produced in America, and build around it one of the tariff walls that Europe is constructing?

Important wars hereafter will be tariff wars, undoubtedly, and since the great copper production in South as well as North America is financed, engineered, developed and owned by the United States, why not have a tariff to protect the copper of North and South America against the rest of the world?

That this country should be protected against the gigantic copper fields of Africa, where they measure copper deposits by the square mile, may be offensive to our good friend Britain. But if protection for American workers was ever needed, it is needed in that case, considering that African copper is produced by colored "boys" that work for five dollars a month.

Not much chance for American producers or workers in competition with wages of that sort.

A bank badly started, stupidly managed, was allowed to call itself "The Bank of United States." This convinced ignorant depositors that the bank had some national connection or guarantee, and they flocked to it.

The bank failed, and but for the energetic fight of one lawyer, Max D. Steuer, who filled certain rascals with fear of prison, all might have been lost.

But, as it turns out, if you had put all your money in that bank when it opened, and your friend had put all his in the highest grade "blue chip" stocks, you would be better off now than he. For you would get back sixty per cent of your money, and he would have thirty per cent or less of his remaining.

Charles E. Mitchell, head of New York's National City Bank, described Germany's youth, faced by three generations of hopeless financial slavery. "In Germany, today, young men are going into the universities who were not born when the great war started. And not only they, but their progeny, and the progeny of their progeny must pay, for three generations, a debt for which they, as individuals, were not responsible."

Mr. Mitchell adds, "My impression is that there is going to be a rebellion against the paying of the money."

It is comforting to know that this nation is not responsible for Germany's plight. It is not to us that Germany must pay reparations, hundreds of millions a year, for more than sixty years. We did not start the war, and we do not get the money.

That Germany will not continue paying for more than half a century is certain. She will fight her way out of bondage, or abandon, in despair, an impossible task.

Then will come our turn to pay, as usual France and Britain will tell us, "Sorry, but since Germany will not pay us, we cannot pay you."

One Thing in Common

Resembling one another in nothing else, the buffalo and the rattler have one thing in common, plainness. They raise their flag for a danger signal. When the rattler lifts his tail it's a certain sign he's ready to strike. A buffalo may be peacefully grazing, but if his tail goes up the hunter need beware. It's an unfailing signal that he's made up his mind to charge.

Let Things Ripen

Don't try to force everything; you can't force anything in life. Things are hard as stone if you throw yourself against them, but they are weak as a child if you lay your hand upon them. So let it be a gentle hand. People should not be so impatient, but should leave things alone and let them ripen naturally. —Aphorism of Walter Rutherford.

—A "stool pigeon" as the term is now used, is a spy or informer employed by detectives or police, but not a member of the force. Originally the term referred to a pigeon tied to a stool in order to decoy pigeons for the benefit of shooters. Then it was extended to a person employed to decoy victims into gambling houses, and finally to its present meaning.

Care of Cut Flowers

Asters, calendulas, chrysanthemums, forget-me-nots, hollyhocks, hyacinths, marigolds, mignonette, snapdragons, stocks, wallflowers and zinnias have the disadvantage of rendering the water in vases foul in a short time. Many of the common disinfectants are recommended to be added to the water in which such flowers are kept. A daily change of water helps. Any foliage which comes below the water line should be removed, for it hastens decay.

Keep on Going

There is no other way in which one's life will be so surely, so quickly transfigured, as in the faithful, happy, cheerful doing of everyday tasks.—J. R. Miller.

White Jade Most Valuable

The most valuable jade is absolutely white and absolutely pure. It does not have the grain of marble, or the fine lines of ivory, or the cloudiness of white agate, and it cannot be compared to snow or any other thing in the world except fine white jade. It does not glitter but it does shine and it is particularly suitable for the sheerest carving.

ON THE SHELF

The young man hesitatingly entered her father's presence. With a preliminary clearing of the throat and a nervous twitch of his fingers, he said: "I have come to ask if I may marry your daughter Gertrude."

"You may," said the father, promptly, as he passed the cigars. "And now, may I take you into my confidence?"

"Why—er—" exclaimed the happy man.

"Well, my boy," said his future father-in-law, "I just want to say that as you pass around among your friends I wish you'd get some of them excited about Margaret, Dorothy, Bella, and Nancy. And put a couple of cigars in your pocket."

Tables Turned

"You say the poor thing is unhappy?" asked the woman who listens eagerly.

"Yes," replied the woman who talks. "She has one of those ambitious husbands who wants her to go into politics, so that he can become socially prominent."

NEWTON CENTRAL COUNCIL CHRISTMAS CLEARING HOUSE

Christmas means something different to everyone, but Christmas to a social agency is something else again. Christmas parties, Christmas dinners, Christmas toys,—one grand and glorious confusion, with would-be-givers and deliverers milling in and out all day long and far into the evening, tired but happy; while gaily dressed dolls or benighted teddy bears preside over the desk of the social worker.

The Newton Central Council tried to do its share by covering one aspect of Christmas giving,—the avoiding of duplication by different agencies in dinner giving, and the consequent reaching of more families with good things at Christmas.

This year the Council had a desk in the office of the Welfare Bureau, and from there carried on its work of checking on Christmas dinners by means of a central card index to which all givers in the city could refer to see whether a certain family was being provided for by others.

Each card represented a family on the list of some organization or individual for whom a Christmas dinner was being planned. When all the cards copied from the lists were thrown together the picture became very vivid: Mrs. Brown appeared upon the lists of three different societies, including that of her own church; Mrs. Peters was listed to have two dinners,—but how about Mrs. Johnson who, the Council happened to know, was probably not going to get any dinner?

The Council's job was to "clear" these names, and to let the various societies who were planning to send to Mrs. Brown, know the plans of the others, so that among them they could arrange to avoid the overlapping. Then instead of Mrs. Brown's getting three dinners, Mrs. Johnson with eleven children and a husband out of work, and Mrs. Smith who had her sister's children to look out for as well as her own, could each have a dinner basket.

Only one objection to this "clearing" is ever raised, which is that the names of families to whom dinners are to be given should remain confidential with the giver,—be it an individual or a society. The very good answer to this is that the Christmas Clearing House run by the Council is as confidential as any giver,—the names only for a few days passing through the mind of the person handling the index, who is a social worker bound to secrecy. After Christmas the index with all the lists is destroyed so that no record whatever remains to show that a particular family received a dinner or money for a dinner.

This year it seemed particularly important that the Christmas Clearing House should function, since need was greater than ever before; and giving, the generous, meant for many a greater sacrifice. To make what was given count for the most was what the Council sought to do, and in spite of some difficulties, succeeded in doing.

There were 416 names on the index of the Clearing House. In one instance the same name appeared 4 times; in 2 instances 3 times; in 36 instances twice. Fifteen different societies cleared with the Council. In addition the Clearing House was able to give information to the city Public Welfare Department about 97 families, as to whether they were being looked out for or not.

Happy New Year

Everyone has probably felt the sense of ambition, and of relief or comfort, when they have before them some clean, fresh sheets of paper upon which they propose to write.

There is usually no thought of writing anything but pleasant things, both to set down, and to be read by another. There is often a keen interest that what is about to be evolved is to be of some value, artistic or friendly, as it may be, in a literary chronicle or in a letter or other record.

This is the feeling that comes with the New Year—a new, clean page upon which to write a record that will be a pleasure or an inspiration. The opportunity is recognized: to achieve, to progress toward achievement; to undo mistakes; to right wrongs; to give pleasure; to win pleasure; to host of material and mental means for the joyment of the world as we find it, or hope to find it.

Perhaps these last words are the crux of the situation. The world as we find it, or hope to find it, is based largely in our own thought as to what this world is. If it is one in which material pleasures and prosperity, with financial affluence being its most prominent aim, held highest place and regard, disappointment is likely to be the final reaping. The last two years of "depression" have proven that, to an aghast world. Thoughtful persons who have considered the woes of the world, as shown in this period, have realized that the riders upon the high waves of prosperity became so sure of its continuance as to lose their own infallible power to rule, that, in modern parlance, they were riding for a fall. These same persons see in the downfall of this self-assumed power a blessing in disguise, since it has chastened the lofty, and awakened them to consider other items in life. And it is these other values in life that must be in thought if one is to progress, with real satisfaction and happiness in the new year.

In taking account of stock in this close of the year 1931 there are, then, lessons to be learned by the misfortunes of the "depression". Having considered them and profited by them, we can then press forward with new weapons of defense, in spiritual progress; with new hope; with new resolves for higher purposes in our pursuits; with renewed faith, serenity, peace, and thankfulness.

Saint Paul advocated many years ago that we forget the things which are behind and press forward to better things ahead. In the forgetting, however, should be only the dismay, the sorrow, disappointment, and fear. The lessons in wisdom learned thus hardly, should not be cast aside.

One wonders what Saint Paul would think of a world in which there are women's clubs, and women's clubs, moreover, which are a power in their communities, their States and Nation? He had very decided views upon woman's place in the world; the home being her narrow sphere, and most emphatically she should only be seen, and never heard. Yet, in true forgiveness, we quote him when he is right and utters an inspired word! Pressing forward, then, to better things in the New Year, may it be for all, whether in Club life, or individually, a Happy one!

State Federation

WASHINGTON BICENTENNIAL. The thrill of observing the two-hundredth anniversary of the birth of George Washington, our greatest American, is country-wide. To Clubwomen of Massachusetts it has been a thought of consecration for many months. And now comes announcement of a feature of crystallization of that thought which is sure to arrest public attention.

Hundreds of women and junior girls will participate in a mammoth celebration of this Bicentennial of the birth of George Washington, staged by 30 state organizations, February 6th, in Symphony Hall, Boston. Clubs are especially interested in the project, since Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, State president, and a member of the Executive committee of the George Washington Commission of the Commonwealth, is general chairman of the event.

Choruses from the Clubs will take a leading part, with a representation of 200 women from all parts of the State. Mrs. Florence Harris Schroeder, chairman of Music for the State Federation, will be in charge of the music. Junior Clubs will assist in the great spectacle of paying homage to George Washington in word and picture.

A brilliant feature will be the parade of the presidents of the many State organizations with their attendants and flags. There will be a Saturday morning performance for the school children.

Clubwomen are also interested that Mrs. John Dickinson Sherman, of Washington, Presidential Commissioner and past president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will attend as guest of honor. A dinner will be given in her honor the evening preceding the celebration, under the direction of Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, and on this committee representing the Federated Newton Clubs, is Mrs. Samuel N. Braman.

Mrs. Eva Whiting White, Mrs. Stephen P. Hurd, Mrs. Willard D. Woodbury, Mrs. Francis J. Plagg and Mrs. Schroeder are members of the Program committee, which will be augmented as plans progress, and on the whole General committee Newton is represented by Mrs. Braman, president of the Newton Federation and Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, president of the Newton Community Club, who is its hard-working secretary.

A meeting of those taking part in the tableaux has been called in Perkins Hall, Boston, for December 29th, at 8 o'clock.

RADIO. New Year's greetings will be made by Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, of Belmont, president, in the weekly broadcast of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs on Saturday, January 2nd, at 11:30 a. m. over WBZ. The chorus of Isabel Arnold Dame Music Club, of Medford, will present a special program, directed by Arthur B. Keene. "Utilizing Leisure in the Thirteenth District" will be the theme of Mrs. Hartley Smith, of Westborough, director of the district surrounding Worcester.

On Saturday, the 9th, over the same station, and at the same hour, Mrs. Hugh D. Butler, will be the guest speaker for the Division of the American Home, on the topic, "The Satisfying Home." Mrs. Heman A. Harding, fourth vice-president of the State Federation, also will speak, her topic being "Contributions from Club Affiliations. There will be music in Folk Songs, with Miss Ellen Reilly, Mezzo-soprano, of Brockton, as the singer.

COURSE IN PUBLIC WELFARE. Miss Marion C. Nichols, chairman of Citizenship Training and Civil Service for the State Federation, announces her Annual Course in Public Welfare, beginning January 11th, at her home, 55 Mt. Vernon street, Beacon Hill. All Clubwomen are invited, especially committee members of Citizenship, Civil Service, Civics, Community Service, Legislation, and Social Welfare.

CLUB INSTITUTES. The January session of Club Institutes comes on Thursday, the 7th, as usual in the Auditorium of the Boston Y. W. C. A., corner of Stuart and Clarendon Sts., Boston, from 10:30 to 12:15 o'clock, with the general topic, "The New Member," for discussion.

LEGISLATION. Four bills are recommended to the individual Clubs for action and two for study in the legislative program of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs as presented by the Executive Board in consultation with the Division of Legislation. Mrs. Fred V. Hart, State chairman, urges the Clubs to consider and to act upon these measures at once, that their decisions may be recorded before the Midwinter Meeting, on February 18th, at Hotel Bradford, Boston.

The four questions upon which the Clubs are asked to vote are: First, the bill presented by Mrs. Leslie B. Cutler to license local health officers and agents; second, the bill from the Children's Commission relative to raising the maximum age limit in respect to juvenile waywardness and delinquency from 17 to 18; third, another measure of the Children's Commission relative to the prosecution and trial of persons charged with contributing to juvenile waywardness and delinquency; and fourth, a resolve that the Commonwealth signify its acquiescence in the measure.

HEALTH IN THE MENU

Daurice F. Darling

HOME SERVICE DIRECTOR,
 BOSTON CONSOLIDATED GAS CO.

"Eat wisely and keep well" is an excellent resolution with which to start the New Year. Now is the time to check up on your eating habits. Let us review the rules for a balanced diet. Of course, it is understood that such rules are only for the normal person and not for the person who is obliged to follow a special diet.

1. Allow one quart of milk a day for each child and one pint for each adult.

2. Serve meat only once each day—substitute fish, eggs, milk or cheese.

3. Allow two servings of some vegetable other than potato each day.

4. Serve a leafy vegetable at least once a day.

5. Drink plenty of water (2 quarts) daily.

6. Let children have fruits, raisins, dates and figs, in place of candy.

7. Serve fresh fruit at least four times a week and some kind of fruit at least twice a day.

Such rules as these are based on good common sense and scientific research. It is necessary to have your diet well balanced to get the proper amount of protein, iron and vitamins, to keep your body in perfect working order.

The following chart on vitamins may prove helpful to you:

Vitamin A—Found in dairy products, eggs, green vegetables, yellow vegetables, such as carrots and yellow corn. This vitamin is needed to help prevent colds, to promote growth of children and to prevent certain eye diseases.

Vitamin B and P—Found in cereals, liver, yeast, lettuce, raw peanuts. These vitamins are needed to prevent nervous disorders, to improve appetites, and to aid growth of babies.

Vitamin D—Found in liver and cod-liver oil, egg yolk, sunshine. This vitamin is needed to aid bone growth, to prevent rickets and tooth decay, and to aid the clotting of blood.

Vitamin C—Found in citrus fruits, raw cabbage and sauerkraut, tomatoes, lettuce, raw spinach, green peppers. This vitamin is needed to maintain healthy conditions in the blood capillaries and to prevent scurvy.

Vitamin E—Found in vegetable oil, fresh meat, animal fat, fresh lettuce. This vitamin is needed to aid the life and growth of babies before birth.

Vitamin G—Found in fresh or evaporated milk, liver, green vegetables, bananas, yeast. This vitamin is needed to prevent many skin diseases.

The following recipes will fit nicely into your New Year's resolution for greater health during 1932:

Rosy Apples

6 firm apples
 1 cup sugar
 1 cup boiling water
 2 tablespoons cinnamon
 5 candles
 ½ teaspoon salt

Wash, pare, and core the apples. Put sugar, water, cinnamon, and salt in saucepan, and heat to boiling point. Add whole apples, cover pan and place in oven. Cook 10 minutes. Remove the cover and turn over each apple. Replace cover and cook 10 minutes longer or until tender. Place on plate and put pan containing apple syrup over burner. Cook slowly until jelly is formed. Pour jelly in cavities. Cool and chill. This recipe serves six persons.

Caramel Custard

½ cup sugar
 4 cups scalded milk
 5 eggs
 ½ teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon vanilla

Put sugar in frying pan and stir constantly over flame until melted to a syrup of light brown color. Add very carefully to milk. As soon as the sugar is melted in milk, add mixture gradually to eggs slightly beaten, add salt and flavoring, then strain into buttered mold. Bake 40 minutes at 325° F. Chill and serve with Caramel Sauce. This recipe serves six persons.

Send any of your cookery problems or questions to Miss Darling, care of this newspaper. She will be glad to answer them, either through this column or by personal letter. e

Famous Californian

Rev. Thomas Starr King was an American Unitarian clergyman and lecturer. He became pastor of the first Unitarian society of San Francisco in 1850, was among the first by newspaper article and lecture to call attention to Yosemite valley, and when in the Presidential campaign of 1890 the idea of the establishment of California as an independent Pacific republic was discussed he denounced the project from the lecture platform and preserved the state to the Union.

Varying Mourning Colors

The custom of wearing mourning is of the greatest antiquity. Allusion is made to it in the first chapter of Genesis, and throughout the Bible the shaving of the head, wearing of sackcloth, the sprinkling of the body with ashes, the rending of the garments are mentioned. In China the mourning color is white. In early Egypt it was yellow; Ethiopia, brown; Turkey, violet.

Plainly Visible Stars

It is impracticable to undertake to fix a precise limit to the number of stars visible to the naked eye at any one time. Various estimates have been made ranging from 2,000 to 3,000 or more. One authority states that about 4,400 stars are visible to the naked eye. The total number it is possible to photograph with long exposures exceeds 100,000,000.

Conch Shell Era

Large conch shells, which used to adorn the mantels in nearly every New England coast home, are seldom seen today. In the old days when New England sailing ships brought back rare treasures from the South seas, the seaman invariably supplied himself with a few of the large conchs and a variety of smaller shells as presents to the home folk.

Useless to Learn Swimming

It is an unusual thing for Newfoundland sealers to know how to swim. If they slip into the water the icy temperature of the water causes instant paralysis of the muscles, anyway, so only about one in a hundred of these hardiest of men bothers to learn the art of swimming.

Fact Insignificant

A British writer doubts that the schooner Hesperus was ever wrecked. Forever, so long as the world stands, the matter-of-fact mind will try to pin poetry down to facts. As if it mattered to the poem whether there ever was a Hesperus.

Personal Note

A woman may not get eye strain from looking at a man's legs, but she is liable to laugh herself to death looking at some of 'em.—Exchange.

Spawning Salmon

The only salmon that die after spawning are the five species found on the Pacific coast of the United States. Salmon of the eastern coast return to the sea after spawning. It has been found that any of the five western species when transplanted in eastern waters die after spawning, even though they spawn but a few miles from the sea. It is supposed this is to provide the young fish with food, since they do not go to sea for six months or a year after emerging from the egg.

National Song of Belgium

The Belgian national hymn is "La Brabançonne." The music is by Francois van Campenhout (1780-1848). The words were written by Jenneval, a French comedian, who was playing in a theater of Brussels when the rising took place which resulted in Belgium's independence from Dutch rule in 1830. Three other versions of "La Brabançonne" were written—one by Lonylay, in 1848, another by Campenhout and one by Hyman, in 1852—relating to political situations in those years.

Sunrise "Green Ray"

If you are watching the sunrise from the top of a mountain you will sometimes see a flash of blue or green light. It has been noticed from the top of Mont Blanc, just as the upper edge of the sun rose above the distant mountains. Sometimes it is seen at sea, especially in the Pacific. The light lasts for only a second, but is intensely brilliant and very beautiful. It is known as the "green ray."—Detroit Free Press.

Pass of Llanberis

For wild grandeur in wild Wales there is nothing to surpass the famous pass of Llanberis. The precipitous sides of the huge mountains shut out the light of day, while rocky masses which have fallen from the heights lie scattered in wild confusion. A beauty is given to the scene by the little river Selent as it rushes along between the rocks to its descent in Llyn, Peris.

First Lighthouses

The earliest lighthouses of which records exist were the towers built by the Libyans and Cushites in lower Egypt, beacon fires being maintained in some of them by the priests. Lesches, a Greek poet (900 B. C.), mentions a lighthouse at Sigeum, now Cape Inchisari, in the Troad, which appears to have been the first light regularly maintained for the guidance of mariners.

Not Only Live

It is hard to believe that there are only between 5,000,000 and 7,000,000 people in the United States. Some times almost half that number seem to live on a single street.—Detroit Free Press.

ceptance of the veery as the State bird.

The Clubs are asked to give careful study to these two measures—the principle of added taxation for chain stores, and the plan for a pre-primary convention for selecting candidates for State office.

COMPLIMENTS TO MASSACHUSETTS. A tribute from the General Federation president is worth calling to the attention of Clubwomen. Massachusetts Clubwomen are always in the first rank when it comes to meeting difficult situations, is the opinion of Mrs. John F. Sippel of Baltimore, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

"How you gladdened the heart of your national president last year," Mrs. Sippel heartily recalls in a New Year message to the Clubwomen of the Bay State, "when you kept her informed of the splendid work you were doing to offset the depression. Your groups not only gave material aid; but you kept up the morale, you created enthusiasm, you cheered on the lagging."

"Massachusetts Clubwomen, you led in the work expected of all of us in the winter of 1930-1931; and we are looking to Massachusetts for leadership in the material, in the cultural, and in the spiritual life of this organization in 1932."

GRACE MORRISON POOLE BAZAAR. Newton Clubwomen who worked so enthusiastically for the Bazaar in November, will be delighted to learn that approximately $4,500 was realized, according to the official announcement of Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, campaign chairman, and Mrs. E. Wilson Lincoln, chairman of the Bazaar. This sum represents the efforts of the thousands of Clubwomen from Cape Cod to the Berkshires, who contributed their bit to fulfill their cherished hope of seeing Mrs. Poole elected president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs at Seattle next June.

Results of the District tables among which there was much friendly rivalry are: First, $180.00; Second, $438.00; Third, $117.00; Fifth, $171.00; Sixth, $221.00; Seventh, $365.00; Eighth, $165.00; Ninth, $303.00; Tenth, $149.00; Eleventh, $134.00; Twelfth, $168.00; Thirteenth, $232.00; Fourteenth and Fifteenth, $217.00; The Fourth District sponsored the luncheon and food table and the Mothercraft Division contributed $100.00.

POOLE PLAUDITS. Mrs. George E. Gomley of Abington, chairman; Mrs. Francis A. Bagnall, of Framingham; Mrs. J. Henry Welch, of Lynn; Mrs. Carl Weber-Illeg, Jr., of Onset; and Mrs. Russell Cone, of Winthrop, have been appointed to serve as a Poole Program committee. They urge that every Club in the State devote at least a part of one program to Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole as candidate for president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Gifts recently acknowledged for the Poole fund include: Groton Woman's Club, $10; Southampton Woman's Club, $5; Worcester Woman's Club, $100; Fourteenth District, $15; and Ex Club, New Hampshire Daughters, $10.

The "Poole Corner" is attracting interest at State Federation headquarters, 687 Boylston street, Boston, where may be found printed information, clippings and material at the disposal of Massachusetts Clubwomen for distribution among their out-of-state friends.

General Federation

BUDGETING. With New Year a time of stocktaking, and of planning for expenditures and saving, with accompanying high resolves, three pamphlets that have been issued by the General Federation of Women's Clubs should be of great value, not to mention interest, to Clubwomen. They may be obtained from the State chairman of American Home, Mrs. Norman H. Hastings, 254 Lorraine street, Roslindale. Their purpose is stated as being of assistance to homemakers in studying the present vital question of family finance, suggesting sane saving, spending, and sharing. Presented as a condensed survey they may also be used by Club chairmen to build practical programs of study in groups.

The first pamphlet, "Family Finance," covers most of the average family problems in saving, spending, and sharing, with practical tables on budgeting of income, showing a wide range of incomes.

The second, "Buy Intelligently," is a pamphlet that gives practical aid to homemakers in making a wiser selection of commodities offered for sale in the retail market, such as food, clothing, and household furnishings and equipment.

The third, "The Child and His Money," gives suggestions for teaching even the smallest child the value of money through the allowance system, and shows how this system may be extended through later years, so that the child grows up with the proper idea of money values. It also has all information needed for the practical Club program on the financial training of children.

PARAMOUNT, NEWTON

"The Yellow Ticket," which tells a dramatic story of Czarist Russia, will be seen at the Paramount in Newton four days of next week starting Sunday. Lionel Barrymore and Elissa Landi take the leading parts. On the same program Charlotte Greenwood, another celebrated star, will be seen in "Flying High." This is said to be one of the funniest stage plays ever written.

For the last half of the week, Sylvia Sydney will be seen in "Street Scene" with a great supporting cast, and Linda Watkins in "Sob Sister," a newspaper story of a girl's life.

New Year's Reception

The Annual New Year's Reception and Open House held at the Y. M. C. A. last Friday evening brought out a good many parents of the boys and friends of the "Y".

The program in the gymnasium featured a drill and apparatus work by the Junior A. Class; "over-the-top" by the Employed Boys and High School Classes; ring hockey by the Junior B. Class; and a basketball exhibition game by the Junior Basketball team.

The swimming and novelty races in the swimming pool were enjoyed by the audience. The feature of the swimming was the 70-yard underwater swim by Howard Chapin who is American Canoe Marathon Champion. Mr. Maloney and Mr. King gave exhibitions of plunging and floating. The members of the Junior and Senior Swimming teams who performed were James Gallagher, Andrew Kasper, Jr., Norman Anderson, Milton Jones, Robert Gallagher, Walter Carley, and John Lovely.

There was a concert by the Newton Constabulary Band in the lobby from seven to nine o'clock and an entertainment was given in the Assembly Hall by Peter Murray, Singing Humorist and Character Impersonator and Walter Keylor, Pianist and Story Teller.

Although the night was stormy, a large number of people were present. Arrangements for the reception were in the hands of Mr. D. Webster Anderson, Chairman of the Social Committee.

Fellowship Club

The meetings of the Fellowship Club which have been omitted during the holidays, will begin next Monday, January 11th.

Boy's Division

During the vacation period, the members of the Boy's Division enjoyed special programs. There were two educational trips—one to the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston and the other to Lewand's in Watertown. Game tournaments were held on two days. Howard Taylor won both Pine Pong Tournaments, but the Cue Rogue tournaments were divided—William Wiles winning the first and Irving Norcross the second.

Camelot tournaments will be held on January 9th and 16th to pick the champion of the Boy's Division to represent the Newton "Y" in a tournament at the Huntington Avenue "Y" on January 23rd. Prizes will be given through the courtesy of Parker Brothers, Inc.

On New Year's Day the Boy's Division was very active as there was a Hobby Exhibition in the morning, Open House for boys in the afternoon, and the New Year's Exhibition in the evening. In the Hobby Exhibition, Norman Anderson won first place in both the Stamp Collection Exhibit and Ply Wood Carving, and Harry Levins first in the miscellaneous group with an exhibition of drawings. Robert Kiley won second place in stamps, and Donald Skaven second, and Kenneth Irving third in Miscellaneous.

On Saturday, January 2nd, Andrew Kasper, Jr., won first prize and Richard Daniels second prize in the Treasure Hunt which extended throughout the first floor of the building.

Junior Swimming

The "Y" Junior Swimming team was defeated by the Brockton "Y" Juniors at Brockton Saturday afternoon. Norman Anderson and Andrew Kasper did most of the point winning for Newton with Donald Skaven, John Lovely, Milton Jones, and Robert Gallagher doing the rest.

The Junior Swimming team met the Providence Juniors at Newton on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock.

Junior Basketball

The Junior Basketball team was defeated by the Lynn Y. M. C. A. Juniors at Newton Saturday afternoon 32 to 20. The score was close and in Newton's favor up to the last three minutes of play. Then the height and many substitutes brought along by Lynn began to tell. Levy and Pavlovsky played well for Lynn. Newton Juniors who were outweighed five pounds to a man, outplayed Lynn until the final minutes of play. Bass, Dolbier, Bagley, Smith, Mantenuto, Fontano, Galishaw, and Stevens played for Newton.

The Newton boys play Lowell "Y" Juniors next Saturday evening.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON LEADS HOCKEY LEAGUE WITH CLEAN SLATE

With four Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey League victories tucked away the Newton High sextet leads the circuit with eight points and a clean slate. Melrose High, having been able to get in but three games also is undefeated and is right on the heels of the orange and black outfit with six points. The Newton team won both of its games this past week to put them out in front. Last Saturday's series of games at the Boston Garden Newton scored a 4 to 1 victory over the Belmont sextet and followed this up on Tuesday at Wae's Cove with a 3 to 1 win from Arlington in an exciting overtime affair. Tomorrow Newton will attempt to hold its lead by taking its game with Cambridge Latin at the Garden. Inasmuch as Cambridge Latin and Stoneham are tied for the cellar position with but one point each, having played one game and losing their two other contests, Coach Dr. Martin's aggregation is installed as the favorite.

Next week will be a crucial week for the Newton team as regards its ultimate chances for the championship title. On Monday or Tuesday, depending upon the availability of outdoor ice, Newton journeys to Melrose which is regarded as the outstanding contender to recapture the league honors. Melrose came through against Medford, another strong sextet, last Saturday at the Garden and unless Newton can upset or hold them to a tie game the Ell Ponders seem set to breeze right through again this year.

Regardless of the outcome of the game with Melrose, if played, Newton's chances will also depend greatly upon the games at the Garden on January 16 in one of which Newton will face Medford. If Newton can defeat Melrose early in the week it can still retain its hold at the top even though it loses to Medford. But if Melrose should come out on top, tie, or the game is postponed Newton will then have to win from Medford in order to insure its chances for a later comeback against Melrose in the closing game of the season at the Garden late in February.

In defeating Belmont last Saturday Newton showed marked improvement in team work although still considerably prone to stage too much individual work. Only some good defensive work in the Belmont game by Bill Pounder kept the score down to the 4 to 1 margin. The Newton defense was nearly air tight while Newton gave Pounding a busy afternoon. For Newton late in the first period, taking a pass from Al Carvell and slipping a tricky shot from the side past the Belmont guardian. Less than a minute after the second period opened Nat Sostillo, Newton defense star, broke up a Belmont attack, snared the puck and was away with Carvell alongside. Carvell took the puck and slammed a wicked drive at Pounder which the latter stopped but failed to clear in time to prevent Sostillo from taking the rebound and ramming it home. Newton sewed the game up in the last session with Carvell counting on a pretty pass from Bill Duane and Sostillo making a solo dash to beat Pounder unassisted. With a minute to go George Ford, Belmont star, saved his team a shutout by outsmarting Jack Skillings, Newton net guardian, after a face-off to the side of the Newton cage.

Tuesday the Ware Cove rink was the scene of an exciting game in which the two teams found themselves in a 1 to 1 deadlock at the end of the regular periods but in the overtime session Newton tallied twice to upset the Arlington visitors 3 to 1. Bill Duane put the orange and black out in front in the first period snaging the puck on a pass from Carvell. In the third period Capt. Lane of Arlington slipped one by Skillings for the tying count and sending the game into overtime. Dick Kelley counted the winning tally, when he roamed the length of the ice unassisted but to make things certain Carvell followed with another dash for Newton's third counter.

With every game the locals are showing improvement. In team play which should enable them to keep in the running up to the end of the season.

The present standing:

Chamberlain Out

Art Chamberlain of Auburndale, captain of the B. U. track team, left for the Newton High track athlete, is probably out for the season on account of the necessity of a knee operation. A torn cartilage will be removed. It is hoped that he will be in shape to compete in the outdoor season next spring. He runs the mile and the half-mile.

Harvard Runners Look Strong

Harvard would seem to have the makings of an excellent track team this winter with many veterans on hand and promising sophomores who will fill the gaps left by the graduation of last year's seniors. Hamilton Kollmyer, former Newton high runner who is now residing in Rhode Island, is a veteran 600-yarder. Carl Pescosolido, sophomore, is one of the most promising of the new recruits in the dash.

WATERTOWN WINS FROM NEWTON IN OPENING GAME

Watertown showed potential championship abilities in scoring an easy 30 to 11 victory over Newton high in the opening game of the basketball season at Newton on Wednesday. The Newton seconds showed good pass-work to top the Watertown seconds 24 to 11.

Andy Kaspar, former Newton Y. M. C. A. junior basketball team star, was the outstanding player on the Watertown outfit. He scored ten of the visitors points and his accurate passing was responsible for other scores. Capt. Clarence Paterson, Watertown centre, was close behind Kaspar with 8 points. Newton's eleven points were spread out considerably with Warren Huston accounting for three, Bob Patterson, Harris and Winslow making two each and Roy and Vassalotti each caging a goal from the foul line for the other counters.

In the first period both teams showed some excellent defensive work with Watertown leading 4 to 2 after the first session. Watertown got going in the second period and at the end of the half led 16 to 4. Ten more points for the visitors in the third period brought it to 26 to 4 while in the final session Newton outscored their opponents by a 7 to 4 margin.

Donald B. Bischoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph P. Bischoff of 52 Nonantum street, has been elected assistant manager of cross country at Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn. Bischoff is a sophomore and a member of Phi Nu Theta. He prepared for Wesleyan at Newton High School.

Crosby Figures In Win

In the 4 to 3 victory of Harvard over Princeton in hockey last Saturday Wilson Crosby of West Newton figured in two of the Crimson tallies. He scored the opening tally of the game on a pass from Wood and later passed to the Crimson star athlete for another goal.

Gallagher Gets Two

Northeastern University's hockey team shut out the M. I. T. sextet on Wednesday night with Herbert Gallagher, Newton youth, scoring two of the Huskies three goals.

Freshman To Open Season

Next week Saturday afternoon the Northeastern University freshman track team will open its season at Providence in a dual meet with the Brown freshman team. On the Husky yearlings outfit are two former Newton high track athletes who are expected to score points for the Hub outfit. George Lane is a prospective winner of the 1000 while Bill Quigley will compete in the dash and as leadoff man on the relay team.

Newton League Bowling

The Middlesex Sportsman's Association team in the Newton Bowling League clinched honors in the big pin race last Wednesday by taking two out of three from Commercial of Brockton on the Arlington Clubs alleys. The feature match of the evening was at the Maugus Club in Wellesley where the home team captured two out of the three from Waban. On his second string, Wright of Maugus, hit 285 for a new single string record while on the third string the Waban team totaled 1102 for a new team single record. Individual marks to make this score were M. Hill—222, D. Hill, Jr.—268, Beck—199, Robbins—195, D. Hill—218. In other matches Newton took three from University at the Newton Club alleys and Hunnewell took three from Weston on the Hunnewell alleys.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

A car driven by T. J. Maguire of Worcester skidded on Commonwealth avenue, West Newton, Wednesday morning and hit a tree. Christian Nelson, a State senator, and Albert Bryant, both of Worcester, were injured and were taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment. Nelson had a tendon in his right leg torn. Bryant received a broken finger.

A car driven by Mrs. Ellen Owen of 175 Pine street, West Newton, skidded opposite 1169 Commonwealth avenue on Wednesday and ran into a tree. Mrs. Owen and her husband were riding in the car and received slight injuries.

A truck driven by Harold Erving of Malden collided on Wednesday with another truck at the intersection of Elm and Webster streets, West Newton. Erving was injured about the head and face and was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

Robert Thompson of Wildwood avenue, Newtonville, was slightly injured Wednesday morning while the car in which he was riding skidded and hit a pole at Cherry and River streets, West Newton. The car was driven by Michael Quinn of 29 Kensington street, West Newton.

A car driven by Elizabeth Curtis of Petee street, Upper Falls, and a truck driven by Myer Gross of Dorchester collided on Brookline street, Oak Hill, on Tuesday.

LASELL SEMINARY

Dr. and Mrs. Winslow will be at home to the Faculty, students and friends of Lasell Seminary at Bragdon Hall on Friday evening, January 15. Mr. Paul Shirley will play on the viola d'amore the concert which he gave at the White House before President Hoover on Wednesday, January 6.

NEWTON HAS EDGE OVER MEDFORD IN TRACK MEET TODAY

Although last year's outstanding Newton high track team has been considerably reduced in strength by the graduation of several of its star performers the new edition of the orange and black runners which makes its debut this afternoon seems to have sufficient balance to score a fourth consecutive dual meet win over Medford high in the annual affair at the Boston Y. M. C. A. track. Led by veterans Captain Jimmy Cahill, Douglas Sloane and Stanley Johnson the locals show strength to take the majority of first places and thus leaving the final outcome of the meet to the division of second and third positions.

Medford opened its season on New Year's Day with a defeat by a strong aggregation of alumni performers while Newton's sole competition to date has been an informal class affair. Stanley Johnson looks like a possible triple first place winner for Newton although he may come through in but two events. He is slated to capture the hurdles and the standing broad jump and is a prospect in the high jump. Johnson has proved his ability in the first two events but has only recently taken up the high jump. In practice recently he cleared 5 ft. 7 in. which should give him an excellent chance this afternoon. In the broad jump he will do close to 10 feet which is more than six inches further than Medford's best. Tom Malloy and George Gullan are expected to place first and second in the shot put, both consistent 40 foot performers while Medford has Grady who is just short of that distance.

Sloane looks like the winner in the dash and Captain Cahill in the 300. The 600 and 1000 should furnish great competition with Mullen and Fitzgerald the Newton hopes. Medford usually has a great relay team but Coach Enoch will send in a quartet that will give no quarter.

GLEE CLUB AT WEST NEWTON

Northeastern University's Glee Club will render a concert at the Second Church in West Newton on Friday evening, January 15.

The glee club is fortunate this year in having C. Leonard Golbranson from Revere as its leading soloist. Other men who will appear in the club are Edward Heath of Middleboro; Roy Gustafson, and Hartwell Howe of Worcester; Kenneth Hayden, Braintree; Harold Greenough, Somerville; Kenneth Williams, Utica, N. Y.; and Roger Matter, Balboa, Canal Zone.

The glee club has already rendered two concerts this season, one at the Franklin Square House, and the other on the air over Station WAAB on January 8. Golbranson's solo work has attracted considerable attention from musical critics, and his rendition in the West Newton concert is sure to be particularly pleasing.

PARAMOUNT, NEWTON

Joan Crawford and Clark Gable are the romantic team in the engrossing talkie, "Possessed," which will be seen at the Paramount the first four days of next week, starting Saturday. "Possessed" is the screen version of the stage hit "Mirage." The heroine is transformed from a simple working girl to the leisure class. Gable is seen as the candidate for governor.

On the same program Lawrence Tibbett will be seen in "The Cuban Love Song." For the last half of the week George Bancroft will be seen in "The Rich Man's Folly," and Warner Baxter in "Surrender." Bargain matinee on Mondays and Fridays, and children's matinee on Saturdays are still popular.

APPOINTED FROSTED FOOD DISTRIBUTORS

Announcement has been made that Coffey & Coveney in Newton Highlands have been appointed distributors of Birdseye Frosted Foods. The Coffey & Coveney Store, located at 45 Lincoln street, has been equipped with refrigerating cabinets which keep quick-frozen perishable foods, including meats, poultry, fish, fruits and vegetables, at a continuous temperature of from zero to eight above. Products which have been quick-frozen in portable freezing machines will be sent to Coffey & Coveney, where they will be delivered to Newton Highlands housewives in their original packages.

Quick-freezing of foods is as revolutionary a development in the production of food as the internal combustion engine was in the field of transportation. The process was invented by a Massachusetts scientist, Clarence Birdseye, who conceived the idea while living in Labrador. There he studied the refrigerating effects of the intense cold upon deer and fish. He noticed that a deer was frozen solidly a few minutes after being killed and that fish caught through the ice were as hard as marble a few seconds after being flipped from the water. Mr. Birdseye found that meat and fish thus quick-frozen were especially delicious when cooked. The flavor and texture were unimpaired even after being in frozen state several months.

His subsequent experiments reproduced the sub-zero temperatures. It was discovered that quick-freezing in temperatures as low as minus sixty caused the ice to form in minute crystals instead of in large crystals. This meant that quick-freezing insured against damage to the food cells and the food so frozen would retain its original flavor from the water. Birdseye Frosted Foods went on sale at Coffey & Coveney's store on January 7.

GIRL SCOUTS

Miss Sally Stickney, Field Captain, and Miss Katherine Woods, Captain in West Newton, went to Camp Edith Macy at Briar Cliff, New York, where the winter camping course was held. The instructors were members of the National Girl Scout Staff: Miss Amelia Thorsell, National Camp Advisor; Miss Edith Conant, Director of Camp Edith Macy; and Miss Alice Wagener, Assistant Director at Macy.

Girl Scout leaders came from Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Ohio. They were very fortunate in having a French Girl Guide who is spending a year in this country as a member of the course. She told of the traditions and work of the Belairites.

Although the leaders lived in the Macy guest house, most of the work was carried on in the open—outdoor cooking, nature lore, axmanship, and a varied program that may be adapted for winter camping for Girl Scouts.

On New Year's Eve the leaders carried out the Old English custom of bringing in the Yule Log and partaking from the Wassail Bowl. The members of the course celebrated New Year's Day with a turkey barbecue. This course proved most successful and is to be followed by two more courses.

The Girl Scout Bulletin which went out early this week promises a very interesting month. After a vacation during the Christmas holidays the Wednesday evening Leaders Course will hold four meetings on the subject of troop programs, ceremonies, and singing, and will end with an all-day hike at Cedar Hill.

Dr. Samuel W. Hartwell, Director of the Worcester Child Guidance Clinic is to give a week-end course at Cedar Hill the last of the month in which expert advice and instruction will be given in the fundamentals of human behavior.

The Sixth annual Girls' Conference which is planned and run by the older Girl Scouts of the Metropolitan Division is to be held in Lynn during February. Twenty-one girls will be chosen as delegates from Newton to attend this event.

An interesting and unusual treat for officers has come to the Newton Council from the Boston Girl Scout Leaders' Association. Through the courtesy of the Curtiss-Wright Flying Service, they are invited to have supper at the airport and later to go through the hangars, also a chance will be given those who wish to fly.

In the interest of the Newton quota for the Girl Scout Campaign Fund for the city, the Newton Troop Committee, twenty-six girls were given a day's outing at Cedar Hill on December 28. Mrs. Melcher was assisted by Mrs. F. M. Butts, Mrs. C. T. Pierce, and Captain Tyler of Troop 32.

Under the supervision of Mrs. James B. Melcher of the Newton Troop Committee, twenty-six girls were given a day's outing at Cedar Hill on December 28. Mrs. Melcher was assisted by Mrs. F. M. Butts, Mrs. C. T. Pierce, and Captain Tyler of Troop 32.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE NEWS

The School Committee of Newton met on January 1st and organized for the current year. George H. Tracy, member from Ward 2 was elected chairman. Mr. Tracy served in this capacity in 1930. George Kellar was re-elected secretary. The members of the committee who attended the meeting and the inaugural exercises at City Hall were Chairman Tracy, Walter R. Amesbury, Marsena Butts, Elbert H. Church, Mrs. Ward Cornell and George H. Fernald. The latter, newly elected as member from Ward 3 was inducted into office by Mayor Weeks. Kirtley F. Mather, member-elect from Ward 6 was not present at the meeting or at the inaugural exercises. He was attending a convention at New Orleans.

ZONTA CLUB

On Monday evening, January 4, Zonta Club of Newton held a dinner meeting at the home of the President at 399 Newtonville avenue, Newtonville.

This club is particularly fortunate because it so often has the privilege of this bounteous and exceptional cuisine.

After dinner, the guest speaker of the evening, Miss Cora Riley, who has charge of the Guidance work in Newton High School, told about the carefully organized, helpful, constructive Guidance work which is being done throughout the High School.

She brought out the fact that in the large High School there is a cross section of life among Newton children. At the present time, the law compels "All the children" to go to High School. In order to serve the varying needs of this large group, many courses of study are offered, with opportunities for each boy and girl, according to his needs.

She described the thoroughness with which each need, be it physical, mental, or economic is studied and then met by some constructive plan. This means the co-operation of many people, both from the school and outside agencies. She stressed the great value of the services of the Hospital, Probation Officers, Judge Baker Foundation, and the Newton Welfare Bureau.

She paid high tribute to a former teacher, Peter Kuntz, in whose memory the Peter Kuntz Fund has been established. Within five years one thousand dollars from the fund has been disbursed to help High School students.

She gave illuminating concrete instances of valuable work which has been done. The members of the club unanimously expressed their appreciation of the delightful and intimate glimpses into the busy life of our Newton youth.

The next meeting will be held on January 18.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

There will be a meeting of the Executive Committee of the American Legion Auxiliary, Newton Unit, No. 48, at the home of the Unit President, 156 Tremont street, Newton, on Monday evening, January 11th, at eight o'clock.

Mayor Weeks Stresses Wise Economy in Inaugural Address

City in Good Financial Condition—Hopes to Maintain Present Tax Rate—Programs Of Improvement In Water System, Schools, and Streets—Seeks Further Zoning Restrictions—Tells of New Police Methods—Deplores Lack of Interest in Municipal Elections.

Inauguration of Newton's City Government for the fifty-ninth year comes at a time when the world in general and this country in particular, is suffering from a severe business depression, which, from its inception late in 1929, has left its mark on all phases of our economic structure. Because of this fact, it strikes me that we should, in fact, must, give more careful attention and serious thought to the problems before us than ever before.

First of all let me again thank the people of Newton for their confidence in me as expressed in my re-election to the office of Mayor on December 8th last. The office of Mayor is an honorable one and carries with it responsibility and obligations which, I assure the people of this city, I do not lightly assume. If the people of my first term in office have been in any part responsible for this renewed expression of confidence, I can only say that I shall redouble my efforts during the next two years to give the city an efficient administration.

I also at this time want to express my very sincere thanks to your Honorable Board as well as to the School Committee, the various Boards of Trustees, Department heads, and in fact all others who work for the city, for the splendid spirit of co-operation which has been shown me during the past two years. Everything that may have been accomplished is the result of united effort and not that of any single individual, and the fact that this united effort has been in evidence at all times makes me personally feel very grateful indeed.

Since finances form the key-stone of the whole structure, I think it proper, before I proceed farther, to devote a little time to this phase of our general situation. That Newton is financially sound is evidenced by the standing which our obligations enjoy in the open market and I think I can assure you that there has not been a period in many years when municipal obligations are being scrutinized more carefully than they are today. It is axiomatic to say that the bonds of cities with the most approved financial standing sell on the lowest yield basis and it is no mere idle expression of opinion when investors will pay from $20 to $30 more for a 10-year, 4% bond of one city than of another. I am advised by competent authority that no city in Massachusetts enjoys a higher standing with investors than does Newton, and that, as a matter of fact, only one or two others stand as high. Newton bonds sell currently on a 4% yield basis. Brookline and Springfield bonds sell on the same basis but from that point on the yield basis for bonds of other Massachusetts cities ranges anywhere from 4.25 to 4.50 or better. In any consideration of our financial position it seems to me that this evidence of our standing should afford us a great deal of satisfaction.

Figures, in any message of this character, are homogeneous and I do not propose to go into any detail other than to submit herewith a comparison of the city's net debt for the periods ending December 31, 1929, 1930 and 1931: Dec. 31, 1929, $5,127,569; Dec. 31, 1930, $5,324,399; Dec. 31, 1931, $6,167,472. Further details can, of course, be secured from the annual reports of the Treasurer and the Comptroller of Accounts which will be available shortly.

In 1929 our tax rate was $27.20 per thousand. In 1930 we maintained this rate without change and in 1931 were able to effect a reduction of 60 cents per thousand. Of course, outside of the efficiency of operation of municipal government, the real test of results accomplished lies in the amount of the tax burden which is levied on its citizens. It should be our constant endeavor, while promoting efficient operation, to keep this tax burden within the most reasonable bounds possible. Our tax levy is, first of all, affected by valuations, second, by the amount of money which we spend here in Newton, third, by the amount of the State, County and Metropolitan taxes which we pay, and fourth, by our receipts which include not only miscellaneous City Revenue but also the city's share of the State Income and Corporation Tax, as well as the automobile excise tax. Our valuations in 1931 were increased approximately Five Million Dollars, of which amount Three Million was accounted for by new construction and the balance, Two Million, by sundry increases determined on by the Assessors on April 1, 1931, long before the tax rate was in any way settled upon. Without the Two Million increase just referred to, we should still have had a 30 cent drop in the rate from the 1930 figure of $27.20 which seems to me to indicate that we are proceeding in the right direction. Our Excess and Deficiency Account today is approximately $425,000, the largest for at least 25 years. 74% of our 1931 tax levy is collected compared to 76% on January 1, 1931 and 77% on January 1, 1930, and we have an accumulation of $53,656 in our overlay for tax abatement account, also the largest amount in 25 years, but despite these facts, what the current year will bring forth in the shape of a tax rate no one, of course, can forecast at this time. I would be derelict in my duty however, were I to fail to point out that the maintenance of the 1931 rate of $26.60 is entirely dependent upon extreme care in the expenditure of money during the 12 months now before us. We have to look forward this year to the possibility of increased State, County and Metropolitan taxes, decreased receipts and a much smaller increase in valuations. As the city's expenses have increased during the past 10 years, so its valuations have increased as illustrated by the following table showing the increases during the same period.

	Increase New Bldg.	Increase Personal Property
1922	$2,371,500	$711,000
1923	4,088,100	907,300
1924	5,000,000	952,000
1925	5,588,000	1,015,000
1926	7,884,300	1,831,000
1927	5,638,450	1,347,000
1928	5,612,150	1,384,000
1929	6,784,450	1,953,000
1930	5,114,600	1,408,000
1931	3,264,700	618,000
Totals	$51,346,900	$12,125,000

The figures shown in this table clearly demonstrate how the general business situation has affected Newton during the last ten years, and I am afraid its effect in 1932, coupled with the removal of the Saco-Lowell Shops from Newton, will result in an even greater shrinkage than we have just recently experienced. In addition to the current expenses of the city, we have brought before us constantly, requests from this section or that to bring about one improvement or another. To be specific, the people of Auburndale want the city to acquire land for playground purposes adjacent to Grove street. The people of Nonantum and Newton Upper Falls want playground buildings erected on playgrounds already established in those localities. The business men of Newton Corner want the city to take action to ameliorate bad traffic conditions in that vicinity. The people of Ward 7 want the Bigelow School further altered, so that complete Junior High School facilities may be afforded. The School Committee desires that land be acquired near Chestnut and Woodward streets for still another Junior High School. The people of Waban want certain changes effected in Waban Square, and the property adjacent to the Angler School acquired for an extension of the school facilities now afforded at that point. I could go on almost indefinitely. All these projects have merit but I can only reiterate what I have just said that 1932 promises to be a year when those of us responsible for governmental expenditures in the City of Newton must exercise extreme care, practice strict economy, do the necessary things and lay the rest on the table pending the time when our people can better afford to assume their cost in the shape of the increased taxes which would result.

There is one matter somewhat akin to that which I have just discussed that I am very much pleased to be able to refer to at this time.

In 1931 we completed alterations and changes in our Fire Alarm Signal System. This improvement together with others recently made in our Fire and Water departments made us feel that the time had arrived when we might reasonably request the National Board of Fire Underwriters to make a survey of the city with a view to a change in the grading of the city. I requested this survey early in November and only yesterday received official notification that Newton will, not later than January 15, 1932, be changed from Class B, to Class A. This will result in a 10% reduction in insurance rates throughout the city. Since our minimum fire insurance rate on dwelling houses has been $1.80 per thousand, this welcome reduction of 10 per cent in our insurance bills means another 18 cents saving and added to the reduction in our 1931 tax rate affords a total saving of 78 cents per thousand to our people during the past year.

I have referred to the business depression. One of its unfortunate by-products is unemployment. When men are unemployed, cannot find work, and have no resources to fall back on, they either starve or are assisted by public or private agency. Here in Newton we have tackled the problem, as I pointed out a year ago, by setting up what is known as the Mayor's Relief Committee. This committee has sought, above all things, to accomplish results by co-ordinating the activities of public and private charitable organizations. At the same time, it is, even now, in the process of raising substantial funds through which to promote its unemployment relief program. I am confident that our citizens would do well to read the Committee's report on the results already accomplished and the work now in process of accomplishment. Whether or not we have been in a measure successful, it seems to me is best indicated by the fact that Governor Ely's Massachusetts Emergency Committee on Unemployment has sent all over the state a memorandum regarding the "Newton Plan." This memorandum summarizes as follows:—"In many ways this is a model plan. No work projects, ultimately chargeable to taxpayers, are adopted until every possible alternative has been exhausted. There is 100% co-operation between the City Departments, the Committee, and Welfare organizations, to the end that duplication of relief is eliminated, and every task is performed by the unit best equipped to do so. There are definite, business-like steps to find and create 'jobs'. While such a plan might not be adaptable to all communities, certain features, such as the loan plan, are especially valuable, and the work as a whole is an excellent example of co-ordination and co-operation. This report is sent with the hope that it may give some helpful suggestions."

This testimonial is due entirely to Mr. Leon B. Rogers and his associates on the Committee. Mr. Rogers, in particular, has devoted unlimited time and attention to the work of the Committee without any compensation and the thanks of our city are due him without measure for his contribution towards the solution of this heart-breaking task.

1931 witnessed the start of Newton's new City Hall and War Memorial. No one at all conversant with our present City Hall facilities denies the fact that they are antiquated and inadequate. Some there are, who felt that the commencement of this project might better await the return of more normal times, but, after careful consideration of all the factors involved, our City Government determined to undertake the project without further delay. When bids were opened it was immediately discovered that existing conditions were operating to considerable extent in favor of the city. Our cost on the City Hall building is to be approximately 47 cents per cubic foot as compared to 60c for Waterbury's Town Hall, 62½¢ for Woburn's new Municipal building, and 87½¢ for the new City Hall erected by Waltham several years ago. Excluding the land, our new City Hall and War Memorial including all grading costs, sidewalks and furnishings, promises to cost somewhat under $850,000, or $25,000 less than the last Junior High School built by the city. I am satisfied that the city has chosen the right location and that he shall have a general layout to be proud of when the work is completed along about September 1932.

On December 7, 1931, after careful study of all the factors involved our City Government took the necessary action to bring about a 10% reduction in water rates. Commencing in July, 1930, we were faced with the necessity of practically reorganizing our water department. In line with that necessity the Water Department building on Watertown street has already been completely remodelled, a more systematic inspection of our meters has been inaugurated, and quarterly billing, almost universally in practice throughout the State, was put into effect on January 1, 1931. I have no hesitation in saying that Newton's water system has been built up over a period of years on a penny-wise, pound-foolish basis, with the result that we are even now faced with a still further substantial program of expenditure despite all that has been already accomplished during the last year and a half. First of all we shall be obliged to make provision for an increase of our supply to the 8 million gallons per day allowed as under the statute, which, together with changes at the pumping station will entail an outlay of approximately $150,000. Second, we are faced with the necessity of spending approximately $400,000 for the elimination of dead ends and 4-inch mains. This particular item is extremely important and will unquestionably go far to eliminate such complaints as we receive from time to time regarding the quality of Newton's water. It should be here pointed out that Newton's water, as it travels through the pumping station is considered by experts to be better factually every standpoint than the Metropolitan supply which we hear so much about. Elimination of dead ends and the smaller mains will enable us to deliver this water to the consumer in the same satisfactory condition which obtains when we start pumping it from our wells. A third item, in this program, which I should refer to involves an expenditure of approximately $100,000 to rebuild our lines on Boylston Street, which, of course, must be undertaken when the reconstruction of that street is started by the State Public Works Department. These items, just referred to, have had the attention of all those interested in the question including the personnel of the water committee of your Honorable Board, and they constitute a program which I propose to recommend, in part at least, during the current year, with the hope that favorable action may be forthcoming and substantial progress made.

I have very little to say concerning our schools at this time. They continue to function at a high point of efficiency and we have, during the past year, been able to continue the program of expansion which has been going on in our school system ever since the war. In spring of 1931 the running track at the High School athletic field was completed, winding up the improvements in that vicinity and leaving Newton with, in my opinion, the best layout from an athletic standpoint of any school in this vicinity or any other for that matter. In September, 1931, the John W. Weeks Junior High School in Newton Centre was opened and when its athletic field is ready for use in the spring, it will, I think prove an extremely adequate addition to the Junior High School system which was inaugurated here in the city some years ago. We also added a gymnasium to the Bigelow Junior High School during the past year and some time in the near future it will be desirable to make further alterations to make its Junior High School facilities more complete than they are at the present time. Whether our financial program will allow of this project being undertaken or not during the current year, I am unable to say, but if possible, it is a matter which should be attended to, in order that we may provide Junior High School pupils at this point with facilities equal to those available in other sections of the city.

ties equal to those available in other sections of the city.

One of the matters which I stressed in my Inaugural Address two years ago had to do with the condition of our streets. In 1930 and again in 1931 we made as rapid progress as possible in resurfacing the principal streets in the city, and some of the less important ones which were in rather bad condition. As a result of the two years' operations, Washington Street, with the exception of that portion from Newton Corner to West Newton, has been resurfaced throughout. A good deal of work has also been done on Beacon, Chestnut and Centre Streets, as well as on several other streets of lesser importance, all at an outlay for the two years of approximately $400,000. The main project facing us for 1932 is the resurfacing of Washington Street from Newton to West Newton. This, as you know, has been a much needed improvement for some time, but has been laid over until the Metropolitan water line was put through in 1931. With the taking over and the reconstruction of Boylston Street by the State we shall, it seems to me, by the end of 1932, have made substantial progress along the lines of better streets in Newton, and not only better streets but streets which, I believe, are built to withstand heavy traffic conditions for many years to come.

The statement just made may be said to apply equally to streets constructed under the Betterment Act. In 1930 we took over and constructed under this act 6¼ miles of private ways at an average construction cost of $3.30 per linear foot. In 1931, having pretty well caught up on the demand the previous year we only completed 3¼ miles of streets at an average cost of $5.08 per linear foot. This increase in cost per linear foot is due to our having adopted new specifications for streets built under our Betterment Act. Instead of the old gravel road built since time immemorial we now are putting in a much improved street with a better base—penetrated top and calculated to materially reduce the cost of maintenance. So far, not a complaint has been received and the results achieved under this new type of construction have, it seems to me, been extremely satisfactory. I trust the city may continue to carry on its Betterment Street program along these lines—more expensive at the start but surely more economical in the long run.

In connection with the Playground Department it has been my ambition gradually to increase in this city the open space acreage devoted to playground purposes, and I am happy to say, as a result, that during the past two years 38 acres have been acquired in one way or another and added to the playgrounds of the city. This increase brings the grand total to 201 acres. I trust if opportunity offers and financial arrangements permit that we shall be able to go forward with this idea and make further extensions as we go along from time to time.

No inaugural address, it seems to me, would be complete without some reference to zoning, because, in my judgment, our present zoning system constitutes one of the most favorable factors in our whole situation here in Newton. I would ask your Honorable

Board to refer again to my Annual Message of January 1, 1931, at which time I urged that certain further restrictions be applied on apartment house construction and made a part of our zoning ordinance. This matter has not been attended to up to date and I sincerely trust that we may make some progress in this direction during the twelve months now ahead of us. That is all I have to say on the subject of zoning except to express the hope that our zoning ordinance as a whole will be jealously guarded by our City Government in the future as it has been in the past. We are a residential city, a city of homes, and we want to keep Newton in that condition if it is at all possible to do so.

Our Police Department on December 1, 1931, moved to its new headquarters building adjacent to the New Court House, finished at the same time by the County of Middlesex. These two buildings, from an aesthetic and from a practical standpoint, constitute a most satisfactory addition to West Newton village, and the Police Headquarters building itself gives our Police Department facilities of which it has long been in need.

After having discussed the matter with members of the Finance Committee of the 1931 Board, I forwarded to the Board on December 28th a recommendation, which, in effect, will bring about a very substantial change in the set-up of Newton's Police Department, and the manner in which it operates. During the past year, at my request, Chief Hughes has been studying the possibility of the use of radio equipment on police department "Proper Foods for Teeth Formation," will be the topic discussed by Miss Olive M. White of the Forsythe Dental Clinic. The hostess extends a cordial invitation to all club members to hear Miss White.

A third interesting event of the week for this club is the offering of Mrs. Edgar O. Butz, chairman of the Music committee, and also chairman of the Day for the regular meeting on Tuesday afternoon, January 12th, in a musical program at that time. Mr. George Boynton, a soloist in the Handel and Haydn Society, will sing; his accompanist at the piano being Mr. Reginald Boardman. Mr. Mischa Tulin, a student of Professor Therman, whose selections on this instrument were so favorably received last spring at Swampscott, will give selections on the Therman.

Auburndale Review Club

Suggestion for the next year's study will be considered at the Mid-winter Business Meeting of the Review Club on Tuesday morning, January 12th, at 10 o'clock. Each member is expected to offer her choice of topics, and action will be taken at the regular meeting one week later. Mrs. Arthur C. Farley and Mrs. Stephen E. Wright have charge of the short play, whose selections on this instrument were so favorably received last spring at Swampscott, will give selections on the Therman.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Glee Club of the Newtonville Woman's Club will hold a rehearsal on Tuesday evening, January 12th, at 9:45 o'clock in Miss Dorothy Curtis' Studio. The Glee Club is doing excellent work this season under the leadership of Miss Curtis and of Mrs. Clinton W. Kyle, chairman.

Bridge Headquarters have been formed at Hotel Kenmore. There will be Duplicate Contract Bridge Tournaments between the different women's clubs. Tournaments will be held every Thursday from 10:00 a. m. to 12 o'clock, beginning January 14th, with the exception of the first Thursday in each month. A team has already been formed to represent the Newtonville Woman's Club and others will be welcomed. Anyone interested in forming or joining a team, should call Mrs. F. Spencer Arend, N. N. 1312-R for particulars.

Newton Community Club

The American Home committee of the Newton Community Club will present "A Romance in Silver," at the Channing Church, January 11th, at 2 o'clock. Instructions on the art of table setting will be given, including "The last word" in serving a semi-formal dinner, together with many interesting points on table etiquette which will be shown. The china, glass, and silver used will be supplied from the elaborate stock of Thomas Long and Company. The speaker, Miss Walsh, is a member of their staff. All who are lovers of beautiful table accessories will receive a rare treat in this offering.

The Art committee of the Club will sponsor a group visit to an exhibition of modern French painting, on Wednesday, January 20th. Mrs. William C. Ridge very graciously is serving coffee to the group before the trip. Every Club member who is interested in joining in this visit is asked to be at the home of Mrs. William C. Ridge, 9 Hibbard road, Newton, at 9:45 a. m. Everyone will be back by noon. Transportation will be furnished if those who desire it will call either Mrs. Albert W. Walker, Centre Newton 4607, or Mrs. William C. Ridge, Newton North 1208-R.

Incidentally the Art committee is preparing to work on the settings and properties of the play, "Two Women and Washington," which is to be given by Club members on February 25th. It will be a very great help to the committee if anyone willing to lend early American or English furniture for the occasion will call Mrs. Walker.

The Junior Membership committee will hold their next meeting at the home of Mrs. Joe Gerrity, 69 Farlow road, on January 11th.

At the January 14th meeting the Newton Community Club has been fortunate in being able to get Father M. J. Ahern, S.J., who is well known as the Director of the Sunday afternoon Catholic Truth Period broadcast, and who is head of the Department of Geology at Weston College (Jesus) in Massachusetts. He was previously instructor in chemistry and geology at Canisius College in Buffalo, Boston College, and Holy Cross College in Worcester. He has spoken and written extensively on scientific topics, especially on the relation between science and religion, and is a favorite speaker on forum and club platforms throughout the East.

On the same program the Club will have the pleasure of hearing Mrs. Watson Baker, Cellist of the Regent Trio, and with her will play Clarence Cruikshank, Violinist, and Helen Dunlap, Pianist. These three are capable solo performers and will present an excellent program of tuneful selections from the old masters, as well as the best of the modern.

Club members will have the opportunity to meet Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, the second vice-president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, who will be the guest of honor at this meeting.

Social Science Club

The second paper in the Social Science Club Study course will be read by Mrs. Edward Rolfe, on January 13th, at 10 o'clock, in the Channing Church Parlor. Her subject will be "Abigail Adams." Mrs. Frank A. Day and Mrs. Louis D. Gibbs will act as hostesses.

Boston Woman's Civics Club

Of interest to Newton Clubwomen because several Newton women are in charge of the program is the next meeting of the Boston Woman's Civics Club on Wednesday, the 13th, at 2:30 o'clock, at the Hotel Brunswick, Boston.

The speakers will be Miss Helena B. Shipman, State Federation Chairman, speaking under the part women will play at the Geneva Conference and Dr. Arthur Irving Andrews, an authority on the Near East, having taught for several years at the University of Prague, and well known at Belgrade, Sophia, and Bucharest, being thus eminently fitted to speak on "Some Sore Spots in Europe." Mrs. Wm. E. Birdsall who is chairman of the committee will be assisted by Mrs. John A. Graves, Mrs. A. E. Bang, Mrs. Leslie Brock and Mrs. Hermann Stahl.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

"What is Happening in China" is the timely subject chosen for the first morning discussion of the International Course of the Newton Centre Woman's Club on January 14th, at 10:15 a. m. Mr. Stanley Ross Fisher, the speaker on this occasion, has recently returned from the Far East where he was sent as a member of a Fact Finding Commission, and where he served with ten other Americans on the China Survey. Tickets for the Course of three lectures at which other experts will also speak, are $1.00; single admission is 50 cents.

Club members interested in the new League of Bridge Players for Women's Clubs, or those who may have team, wishing to play in the tournament opening January 14th, at the Hotel Kenmore, should apply to Mrs. John F. Capron, Centre Newton 1098.

Newton Centre Junior Women's Club

The Newton Centre Junior Women's Club is entertaining the Junior Club of the West Newton Educational Club, the Auburndale Woman's Club Juniors, and the Newton Junior Community Club, at its regular meeting, on Wednesday, January 13th, at 3 o'clock. The president, Miss Dorothy Gould will preside.

The "Skipper" will read from the poems of Joseph C. Allen, "The Fisherman's Poet" of Martha's Vineyard." Mr. Allen is far more gifted in literary ability than many others with a world-wide reputation. He has served his time afloat and ashore and knows all sea-going craft "from the keelson to the truck," also the hardy sons of Neptune who sail them. His natural ability to put all the island happenings into fascinating rhyme makes him a valued member of the staff of the famous "Vineyard Gazette," a weekly paper, now entering its eighty-sixth year. He is responsible for nearly all of the advertisements and for all island news.

Refreshments will be served after the program by Miss Marjory Gould and her committee.

State Federation

RADIO. "The Satisfying Home" will be pictured by Mrs. Hugh Butler, of Needham, in the Saturday morning broadcast of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, January 9th, at 11:30 a. m., over WBZ. She will be guest speaker for the Division of the American Home, of which Mrs. Norman H. Hastings of West Roxbury is chairman. Mrs. Herman A. Harding, of Chatham, fourth vice-president of the State Federation, will give "Contributions from Club Affiliations." There will be a program of folk songs by Miss Ellen Reilly.

For the program of Saturday, the 16th, over the same station, and at the same hour, the Division of Legislation, through the chairman, Mrs. Harriet Russell Hart, will take up their subject which now comes into prominence for consideration, in a talk entitled "Looking Ahead in Legislative Matters." Mrs. Arthur J. Crockett, director of the Fifth District, will tell how Leisure is utilized in her District. Music will be given by one of Newton's talented artists, Mrs. Kenneth B. Hastings, Violinist, of Newtonville.

CIVIL SERVICE MEETING. Mr. Herbert C. Parsons, Deputy Commissioner of Probation, will be the speaker at the opening meeting of the course on "Our Public Welfare Work in Massachusetts," to be held by the Division of Citizenship Training and Civil Service, at the home of the chairman, Miss Marian C. Nichols, 55 Mt. Vernon street, on Monday afternoon, January 11th, at 12:30 o'clock. An informal tea will follow in honor of Mr. Parsons, who soon attains the official age for retirement from the service of the commonwealth. This course is open to all Clubwomen, but is called to the special attention of members of committees on Citizenship Training, Civil Service, Civics, Community Service, Legislation and Social Welfare.

BICENTENNIAL. Massachusetts, in common with other states, is searching for its eldest mother. The eldest mother found in the United States will represent the motherhood of the country on Mothers' Day, May 8th, in Washington. She will be entertained as the nation's guest, this eldest native-born American mother whose health is sufficiently sound to stand the strain of the inevitable excitement.

The plan is being carried out by the District of Columbia George Washington Bicentennial Commission, in cooperation with the General Federation of Women's Clubs. This eldest mother will be accorded every possible honor, thus honoring the memory of Mary Ball Washington, mother of George Washington.

MRS. POOLE. Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole of Brockton left for ten days in Washington, January 7th, to fulfill her duties as first vice-president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs at its Midwinter Board Meeting. Mrs. Ambrose N. Diehl, chairman of motion pictures in the General Federation, will give a dinner in honor of Mrs. Poole that evening in New York. Stopping over in Virginia, Mrs. Poole will speak before Newport News Woman's Club and Suffolk Woman's Club, the afternoon and evening of January 8th, on "Our Little Known Southern Neighbors." She will be one of three speakers at the dinner given to national officials January 14th, by Miss Helen Norris Cummings, pioneer clubwoman, in Alexandria.

ILLITERACY. "A contribution would be made to our Commonwealth by a concentrated effort to reduce illiteracy!" is the challenge flung to the 386 clubs in the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs in the face of the state's illiterate population of 124,158. The challenge is made by Mrs. William I. MacAulay, of Revere, State chairman of the Division of Interracial Unity, urging all possible aid in the schools for the adult alien.

Herself a teacher in the citizenship classes of Revere for eleven years, with special study M. Harvard, Mrs. MacAulay has a first-hand understanding of the needs of the various racial groups. Her aim is a working committee of key women of the foreign-born friends together with older American members in every club community.

Study of the "second generation" problem is a serious matter, according to Mrs. MacAulay, who is interested in making a research of the work done for the children, as well as for their foreign-born parents. Delinquency, she claims, is frequently found among the young people in the rapid stride of copying American ways of living.

A picturesque feature of this Division is the doll exhibit now numbering 55 of the nationalities in Massachusetts. The troupe has just returned from six months in the western part of the state, and is now being booked in the eastern section. An (Continued on page 9)

STRESSES ECONOMY

automobiles and with me, he has come to the conclusion, that the addition to the department of the seven Ford cars already authorized, all equipped with radio receiving sets, will enable the department to function along more modern lines and much more efficiently than under the old system of patrolmen covering individual routes on foot. To make a long story short, Newton's police department, we believe, can do its job better and at a substantial reduction in cost under this proposed new system and the net result, in my judgment, will bring Newton right out in front from the standpoint of efficient, modern, and up-to-date police methods.

In September, 1931, the Public Buildings Commissioner of the city resigned. On December 16th, I appointed Mr. Harry A. Hageman to fill the vacancy and he was confirmed by your Honorable Board on Monday, December 28th. Mr. Hageman thus becomes the latest addition to our official family and I am glad of this opportunity to bespeak for him a cordial welcome from its other members and the same sincere co-operation which they have shown enough to extend to the other new-comers who have joined our ranks since January 1, 1930.

And now, before I close, may I venture to express a few thoughts along more general lines. I must confess at the start that I am seriously disturbed over the absolute lack of interest and knowledge displayed by our people as a whole in Municipal affairs—this lack of interest and knowledge being evidenced more particularly by the complete indifference of the great majority towards our city elections which are held annually. The second Tuesday in December. Statisticians have estimated that the annual tax bill in this country, National, State, County and Municipal, exceeds 13 Billion Dollars, of which sum more than seven billions or 52% is applicable to municipal or town government. If the law of averages holds therefore, the average citizen of Newton pays over to the City Treasurer over 52% of his total tax bill. In addition to the figures involved, it should also be noted that the functions inherent to municipal government such as schools, and playgrounds, streets, health and sanitary services, protection of life and property, bring that part of government as a whole closer home to our people than any of the other divisions, whether they be National, State or County. To prove my point let me give you figures covering the last 10 municipal elections. Every two years, as you know, we choose a Mayor, Members of the Board of Aldermen and of the School Committee. In such years since 1922 the highest percentage of the total registered vote cast has been 60%, the lowest 30%. In the so-called off years, when only members of the Board of Aldermen and the School Committee are chosen, the highest percentage has been 43% and the lowest 16%. And these figures, bad as they are, don't even take into consideration those residents of our city who aren't even interested enough to register as voters. Practically universal suffrage which we have in this country is in a sense the culmination of centuries of struggle for the privilege. I'm not prepared to say that it can ever be brought about, but my remedy for the situation would be to deny the franchise to those who fail to exercise it for a certain period and without substantial excuse. Voting is not only a privilege—it is an obligation—which must be assumed if we are to have good government in this country.

Just as an example let me cite the following. Under our Zoning Ordinance 93% of the city is zoned for single or two-family residences only. This means that our people through their representatives have determined that what we want in Newton is a city of homes. The Board of Aldermen, by a change in the Zoning Ordinance can overnight completely change the character of this city. If the Board is representative of the people and take that action, no one can complain, but if they represent the 20 odd per cent who have shown sufficient interest to vote, I can assure you the other 80% would have ample cause to complain—after it was too late.

We are passing through probably the most serious period of depression in the history of this country. No one with any intelligence despairs of the future, but many do become panicky and worried. I see no cause for concern, other than for those who are thrown out of employment, and of course something must be done and is being done as I have already pointed out to alleviate their sufferings. If you who hear or read these remarks were to sit in my office for a while you would become convinced that the Mayor of your city, representing in this connection many other Mayors and higher government officials is responsible for lack of employment and is the one who must do something about it.

In the first place, let me say that

KIWANIS CLUB

Officers of the Newton Kiwanis Club for the year 1932 were installed by the Lieutenant-Governor of the district, Attorney James P. Gallagher, at the regular meeting of the organization in Elks' Hall last Tuesday following luncheon. At the same time the annual report of the club treasurer, George L. White, was read and accepted. It showed the unusual amount of work which has been done during the past year in behalf of underprivileged children and also disclosed that the Newton Kiwanis Club is in a strong financial condition.

The officers installed were President, Charles A. Mahoney; Immediate Past President, Dr. F. H. Paul, Jr.; Vice-Presidents, Rev. Maurice L. Bullock and W. S. Wagner; Treasurer, George L. White; Secretary, L. Frank Perkins; District Trustee, Thomas L. Ryan and Directors, Frank Avantaggio, M. W. Calhoun, James Daniels, Giles Mosher, Burt Rich, James Riggs and T. G. Wheeler. The retiring president, Dr. Paul, thanked the membership for the co-operation given to him during the year and urged similar whole-hearted support for the Mahoney administration.

In his "inaugural" talk the new president offered a motto for 1932 which he urged all local Kiwanians to adopt. He asked every member to "Look up not down; Look Forward not back; Look out not in and to give some service to some person during the year." If we can keep that motto in mind and try to apply it, he declared, our work in the interest of the community and particularly the underprivileged persons of the city, will be successful and self-satisfying.

Two resignations from the club were announced with regret, those of H. L. Woodman and I. W. Ireland, Jr., of Newton Centre. At the same time H. T. Hitchen, dairyman, and Dr. F. J. Martin, orthodontist, were admitted to membership. Speaker for the meeting next Tuesday, January 12, will be John W. Murphy, Chairman of the Newton Board of Assessors.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

"To learn how to use the story for religious development and character building" is the aim of the course on "Story Telling in Religious Education," which will be given for six Monday evenings, two periods each evening, at the Norumbega District School of Religious Education, beginning January 11. Miss Bessie L. Doherty, instructor, is well qualified by her church school experience, her ability as a story teller, and her wide knowledge of story literature. She is assistant in the Boston Public Library.

Prof. Wildman, who is to teach a course on "The Prophets" is well known to those who came the first term of this year, and at whose request Prof. Wildman's Bible lectures are continued. The meaning of prophecy will be considered in this class, also the following problems: "What were the social, religious and political conditions faced by the prophets?" "What was the contribution of each to the development of Hebrew religion?" and "What is the significance of each for us today?"

Mr. Lobingier's course "Christianity and World Outlook" has been described in these columns before. In answer to questions, it might be well to state here that this course is not "just missions," nor is it "just current events," but an attempt to unite the two and discover the Christian interpretation or the effects on the Christian movements.

The Young People's Council of the Norumbega District will hold its January meeting on Saturday evening, January 9, at the West Newton Congregational Church, at 7:45 p.m. President Miss Constance Dorr will preside.

POLICE NEWS

Frank Lundy of Lincoln road, Newton paid a $75 fine in the Waltham Court on Saturday for driving while under the influence of liquor and $25 for reckless driving. These fines were imposed on Lundy on December 16 and at that time he appealed them.

Henry Mareel, formerly of Pine street, West Newton was sent to jail for 3 months last Saturday for failure to support his wife and two children. He had been in the Newton court sometime ago and given a suspended sentence on the condition that he support his family. He failed to do so.

Francis McGourty, 19, of 372 Parker street, Newton Center was in the Newton court on Saturday charged with receiving a revolver stolen from the American Express Company at Newton Center. It is alleged that the youth fled the manufacturer's number off the revolver and admitted to the police that he intended to sell it. McGourty claimed to have received the revolver from another party and denied having any complicity in the theft of the weapon.

Antonio Magni who conducts a bakery at 140 Adams street, Nonantum was fined $20 in the Newton court on Monday for failure to keep his shop clean. Keble Perrine, agent of the Newton Health Department testified that he had warned Magni to clean his bakery and the defendant had not done so. Magni's defense was that there had been a fire at his bakery and he was waiting until the insurance adjusters came before he cleaned up the place.

Philip Carson of Gale street, Malden was found guilty in the Newton court on Monday of driving a car while under the influence of liquor. As it was Carson's second conviction for such an offense, he was sentenced to serve 30 days in jail. He was also fined $15 for drunkenness. He appealed. The car driven by Carson collided on the night of December 14 with another car at the intersection of Elliot and Chestnut streets, Upper Falls.

Martin Johnson of 53 Colburn road, Wellesley, was fined $100 in the Newton Court on Monday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor.

He was also fined $10 for drunkenness. He appealed.

Harvey Jensen of Lexington street, Auburndale, was in the Newton Court on Monday charged with passing a worthless check for $3 at the Boulevard Pharmacy in Auburndale. He pleaded guilty and the case was placed on file when he made restitution.

Louis Cohen, 29, an attorney residing at 1650 Commonwealth avenue, West Newton, was in the Newton court yesterday charged with having committed assault and battery on Theresa Miller of Harvard street, Cambridge, who had been employed by Cohen at his home as a domestic. According to the testimony the girl burned some carrots while cooking them, whereupon Cohen's wife discharged her and, according to Miss Miller, refused to pay her wages. An argument followed between the girl and Mrs. Cohen and then Cohen entered the fray. The Miller girl testified that he threatened to strangle her and then struck her on the face, knocking her down. She told the judge that Mrs. Cohen remarked, "You should have strangled her."

Cohen denied having hit the girl and testified that he went into the kitchen when the Miller girl became abusive to his wife. Mrs. Cohen testified that the girl had chased her around the kitchen. The Miller girl admitted to Judge Bacon that she had dared Cohen to strike her and the judge remarked that she had come pretty near inviting an assault. He found Cohen not guilty, commenting that the complainant had not proved that she had been assaulted.

Patrolman Dowling found an abandoned car at Adena road, West Newton, on Monday. The car had been stolen in Boston on Sunday. The registration plates which belonged on it were missing and the one plate on the car was one which had been stolen from Frank Lane, a Newton automobile dealer. The car was the property of Joseph Odene of Mattapan.

George Buckley of 993 Chestnut street, Upper Falls, was given a suspended sentence of 3 months in jail by Judge Bacon in the Newton court yesterday for non-support of his wife and child. Buckley absented himself from his home about a month ago and returned at 2 a. m. yesterday morning, whereupon his wife complained to the police.

SUES CHESTNUT HILL MAN FOR $210,000

James G. Graham of Old Colony road, Chestnut Hill is being sued by Mrs. Bronia Chmielinska of Brookline for $210,000. The woman's two daughters received fatal injuries as a result of an automobile accident. They were riding in a car driven by Graham on Thanksgiving Day, 1928 when the car got out of control on Southern Artery, Quincy and turned over several times.

Patrolman Lortie of the Hingham police testified at the trial, which was conducted in the Dedham court before a Norfolk County Jury, that on the night of the accident he had attempted to stop the car driven by Graham, but instead of heeding his signal, the driver put on speed, turned off the lights, and although Lortie chased the car at a speed of nearly 60 miles, he was outdistanced. Patrolman Paradise of the Quincy police testified that he drove the ambulance which took the two Chmielinska girls and Graham to the Quincy Hospital and that he took a pint of liquor from an inside pocket of Graham's coat.

POLICE NEWS

Thomas P. Jones, Jr., of 1060 Beacon street, Brookline, was fined $25 in the Newton court on Wednesday for leaving the scene of an accident without making himself known. He also agreed to pay $33 for damage done to a car which was hit by the car Jones was driving. Jones told the court he lost his head when his car hit the other automobile.

A GREAT OPPORTUNITY

We have frequently referred to Washington street between Newton Corner and West Newton, mostly seriously, but occasionally humorously. We are glad to learn that the resurfacing of this important highway is one of the major projects under contemplation for 1932. In regard to the problem we offer a suggestion which we believe has merit in that it considers the matter of safety and beautification as well as providing ample accommodation for traffic. The cost of the improvements we recommend should be little if any more than that of a straight resurfacing job. Some additional expense would be justified to provide the features of the highway we have in mind.

Between Newton Corner and West Newton the average width of Washington street is more than eighty feet. In fact there are but two points where it narrows to less than this distance. One point is at Lowell Avenue and the other at Church street. We believe that a central reservation, with concrete curbing, of five or more feet in width, grassed over, and perhaps further beautified later on by the planting of trees would be a worthwhile and desirable feature. It might even be possible to install at least part of the lighting system on this reservation. On each side of this curbed plot there would be ample room for at least two lines of automobile traffic, as well as parking provision for residents along the street. Traffic on each side should be restricted to one way as along the type of highways being constructed by the state. As the resurfacing of the street will probably be done by half sections it would seem an ideal time to create such a reservation. The cost of this reservation and other incidental items would, we believe, be little more than the cost of resurfacing this central portion.

The resurfacing of Washington street will undoubtedly cause motorists to use this broad street as a speedway, to some extent. A central reservation would provide a safety zone enabling pedestrians to cross half the street with regard to traffic in but one direction. It would also prevent the drivers from getting over onto the wrong side of the road while passing other cars, thus reducing the danger of collisions. From this standpoint alone our suggestion seems to be well worth consideration. In addition a well-kept grass plot would be an attractive addition. The railroad along one side hardly makes one realize that Newton is the "Garden City" of the Commonwealth.

Incidentally 1932 is the 200th anniversary of the birth of George Washington, for whom Washington street was named. A bi-centennial commission is working for national recognition of this event and is encouraging communities and states to commemorate the event by dedicating parks, highways, state forests and the like to the memory of the Father of the Country. Construction of the boulevard type of highway on Washington street would give the city a fine opportunity to rename and commemorate this street as the Geo. Washington boulevard without special expense for such an observance.

THE MAYOR'S ADDRESS

From the beginning to the end of the address by Mayor Weeks last Friday afternoon at his second inaugural we were impressed with the sound and clearly thought out policy of the administration. More than two years ago we endorsed Mr. Weeks when he announced his candidacy for the office because we believed he had the ability to provide a much needed business administration. We feel that our confidence was not misplaced, and consider the future in good hands. At times we have expressed our opinion against some of the matters considered by the Mayor and Aldermen. We shall no doubt do so again as the occasion demands. Our duty to the public obligates us to keep informed of city affairs, to support measures we believe to be for the city's benefit and to oppose those with which we do not agree. Mayor Weeks calls attention to the problems of the immediate future and expresses his determination to redouble his efforts. Economic conditions have left their mark and we believe that the clouds are slowly passing away. Every man of the crew has his duty to perform in helping to keep the good old ship, "City of Newton" on an even keel until the troubled waters have quieted down from the final lashings of the storms.

WISE ECONOMY

In 1931 Newton enjoyed its lowest tax rate in eight years. A program of strict economy will be necessary, the administration tells us, in order to hold the rate down in view of possible increases in State and County taxes, as well as a smaller increase in valuations. Naturally all taxpayers would appreciate any possible reductions in municipal taxes. The carrying out of various municipal projects would undoubtedly mean an increase in the rate and because of this it is anticipated that all possible expenditures of this nature will be delayed until the need for them is greater. It is our opinion that the completion of some of the projects in the various communities means a slight increase in the tax rate that there will be little objection raised as long as the increase is kept within bounds. We hope that those improvements which will be of direct aid in helping business in Newton return to normalcy will not be temporarily shelved. To delay them would, it seems apparent, be unwise economy.

NEWTON RESIDENTS BENEFIT

Next week new fire insurance rates go into effect in Newton resulting in a tremendous saving to local residents yearly. The National Board of Fire Underwriters have elevated Newton from Class B to Class A because of improvements in fire-fighting facilities here during recent years. Among these Centre, the new signal system which was also installed about the same time, and the installation of more hydrants, all of which make the new rates possible. The actual saving to local residents will be about 10 per cent, although this amount varies slightly under different conditions. Inasmuch as real estate and personal property is assessed for a total of about $165,000,000 in the City of Newton and a considerable amount of this is insured for at least the assessed value and often for more than that figure, the 10 per cent reduction in premium rates will mean thousands of dollars in the pockets of local residents.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Among those included in the list of New Year's honors issued by royal decree in London on December 31 were two ladies who were created Dames of the Grand Cross of the British Empire. One of the two is Her Majesty Queen Salote Tubou of Tonga. Few of you may have met Queen Salote Tubou, but, undoubtedly, you all know where Tonga is.

Statistics of the Superior Courts of Middlesex County recently issued by Clerk of Courts Ralph N. Smith show that since the Volstead Act went into effect on January 16, 1920 crime in the county has increased 52%. During this same period civil business of the Middlesex Superior Courts increased 185% and equity business increased 100%. Much of the crime increase has been occasioned by violations of automobile laws. It is interesting to recall that because of the decided decrease in crime for a short period following the enactment of the 18th Amendment and the Volstead Act, the jail population in Middlesex County so lessened that the county authorities sold the jail at Lowell because they supposed crime had permanently decreased and fewer jails would be needed. Now the county has a bigger and better jail at Billerica.

An increasing number of serious automobile accidents in this and other cities resulting in death and serious injuries to victims emphasizes the need of action to curb this type of slaughter. The only effective way is to impose severe jail sentences on reckless and drunken drivers and speeders. Instead of this being done, the offenders in a large majority of cases in Massachusetts use influence to escape punishment and if they are found guilty in district courts, they appeal and are found not guilty by juries. Meanwhile the carnage grows. And if a few persons are killed by drowning, fire, explosion or some other cause there is much talk and sympathy on the part of the dear public.

ELKS' MINSTREL SHOW

Modern minstrelsy, a mixture of up-to-the-minute entertainment and old-fashioned black-face burlesque, will be presented by Newton Lodge of Elks in the High School Auditorium next Monday and Tuesday evenings, January 11 and 12, for the benefit of the unemployed. Surprise stunts are promised as features. The event, supported by organizations in all parts of the city, is planned to be the largest benefit show so far arranged to aid those persons who are unemployed.

Seventy-five men and women, all volunteers, will comprise the minstrel show cast. Many prominent residents are included in the list of talented entertainers. Rehearsals have progressed successfully for many weeks and those in charge promise a finished performance. The affair will be under the personal direction of Louis J. Tabaldi, an old-timer in professional minstrel show production. End-men were announced yesterday as follows: John A. Janse, Leon Mayer, Robert Driscoll, John Keefe, Samuel Fried, George Brophy, Patrick Donahue and George Terrio. The interlocutor will be Attorney David Groer.

Vanderveil features will be presented by many well known amateur and professional entertainers. The White Trio of Brockton, musical marvels; Antonelli and Tabaldi, Nonantum nightingales; Champagne and Boudrot, clog-dance artists, and Charles Armstrong, Saxophonist; all well-known "hits" also are listed to perform.

Trained vocalists like Walter Kern, Mrs. George Brophy and Bernard Lyman have been assigned to prominent places in the well-balanced program. Ladies of the Emblem Club are assisting the Newton Lodge of Elks in completing plans for the entertainment. Sale of tickets has been conducted by the lodge membership and may be purchased at the High School Auditorium on the evenings of the performances. The Elks are appealing to the general public to support this effort as an aid to the work of the Mayor's Relief Committee for the Unemployed.

SARAH HULL CHAPTER, D. R.

A fascinating program is promised, in a talk on Syria, entitled "Through Syrian Streets and Doorways," by Mrs. Mary Parker Dunning, for the meeting of Sarah Hull Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, on Wednesday afternoon, January 13th, when Mrs. William F. Bacon opens her home, 52 Hyde Avenue, for the Chapter. Mrs. Dunning, who has lived among the Syrians, having travelled through many countries during the missionary career of her husband, has gained an intimate knowledge through her vivid personal experiences in the homes and lives of these eastern folk. Her talks, are, moreover, made increasingly attractive by the Syrian costumes which she wears, some fashioned by women of Bethlehem and of Ramallah, and one of these costumes is such as is worn by the first wife in a Moslem harem. All are exquisite in design and color, and made quaint with native jewelry. Members of the Revolution, are guests of the afternoon, and two of these members, Mrs. John Merrill, Soprano, and Miss Beatrice Eastman, Contralto, will sing during the program.

The business meeting will open at 2:30 o'clock, with the regent, Mrs. John F. Dutton, presiding. After the program, refreshments will be served during a social hour. Hostesses for the meeting are Mrs. Ada E. Davidson, Mrs. Ralph C. Emery, Miss Kate W. Fox, Miss Mary L. Fox, Mrs. Raymond S. Fosgate, and Mrs. Elmer L. Gibbs.

NEWTON SAVINGS BANK
"The Place for My Savings"

By L. D. G. Bentley

If you have any ideas in the way of reform that nobody has yet offered, remember the Legislature is in session and the right of petition belongs to every citizen.

Same Old Story

Of course you and I know this isn't the first time the people of the United States have been confronted with a situation out of which there appeared no gleam of hope. This depression business is old stuff. Yet, in order to prove it in printer's ink I am pleased to offer here the exact words of an article which was published in Harper's Weekly, October 10, 1857 or 74 years and three months ago—practically three generations. It was sent to me by a reader of this column who, I am sure, was not wrong in assuming that the rest of us would like to read it for ourselves.

Under the heading "Daily Letter," Harper's Weekly printed the following:

"It is a gloomy moment in history. Not for many years—not in the lifetime of most men who read this paper—has there been so much grave and deep apprehension. In our own country there is universal commercial prostration and panic and thousands of our poorest fellow-citizens are turned out against the approaching winter without employment. In France the political caldron seethes and bubbles with uncertainty. Russia hangs as usual like a cloud dark and silent upon the horizon of Europe; while all the energies, resources and influences of the British Empire are sorely tried, and are yet to be tried more sorely, in coping with the vast and deadly Indianurrection, and with disturbed relations in China.

"Of our own troubles no man can see the end. If we are only to lose money and by painful poverty to be taught wisdom, no man need seriously despair. Yet the very haste to be rich, which is the occasion of this widespread calamity, has also tended to destroy the moral forces with which we are to resist and subdue the calamity."

Fifty-fifty

I wonder if you happen to know what becomes of food and things other than liquor seized in raids. If I may be permitted to say so it was a revelation to me when I saw that the U. S. Bureau of Prohibition during 1931 turned over to various other governmental institutions foods, copper and other materials which had been seized amounting to $7,488,415.

From an official source I have learned that during November of last year agents seized 21,600 gallons of molasses, 92,706 pounds of cane and beet sugar, 236,000 pounds of corn sugar, 10,065 pounds of corn, 13,960 pounds of grain meal, 1,200 gallons of fruit juices, 8,826 pounds of yeast, 7,729 pounds of malt, 896 gallons of malt syrup, and 652 pounds of hops.

"This I find went to prisons, at least for the larger part, which shows that it was not wasted. On the other hand, it seems a bit of poetic justice that one set of law violators should be compelled to supply the food of another set.

"Anybody Else Want One?"

Although it has never resulted in the loss of sleep I have for years wondered about these people who appear at baseball games and other outdoor gatherings with sandwiches, "hot dogs," ice cream cones, etc. The thing that has prompted my curiosity has been their legal standing, which should be something in these days when regulation is so widespread. Great, therefore, has been my satisfaction to read in the recommendations of the Boston Licensing Board, made to the Legislature, a suggestion that these vendors be licensed.

The board says, "There are many casual vendors of foods such as sandwiches, frankfurts and ice cream who carry their wares or sell from vehicles or improvised stands in the public ways without a permit or license from any authority. The board believes that the seller of foods to be eaten forthwith should be subject to control and supervision, and therefore recommends that they be licensed."

"A license for the sale of soft drinks to be drunk on the premises is now required by law unless the licensee holds some other license which includes soft drinks. On the occasion of games, parades, celebrations and at other times, there is a large sale of soft drinks from receptacles, vehicles and temporary stands in the public ways by persons who have no permit, license or authority of any kind. The board believes that such sellers should be subject to control and supervision, and therefore recommends that they be licensed."

The same situation exists in other cities and for the protection of those of us who are tempted it wouldn't be a bad idea if there was a State law enacted. The alternative, of course, is to restrain one's appetite, but who wants to do that?

Natatorial Time-Table

The scene was one of those large and attractive swimming pools maintained exclusively for women, or, to be more exact, for the members of organization made up entirely of women. With so much to go on I should think you could guess the name of the institution.

Well, the rules are such that continuous use of the pool is permitted for only a half-hour at a time. A swimming member may go in for 30 minutes and then be prepared to leave the water, unless conditions are such that another half-hour will not deprive a waiting swimmer of her rightful opportunity.

In other words, the swimmers move in and out of the water every thirty minutes. One visitor, I am told, couldn't quite comprehend the equitable arrangement for users of the pool. She watched for about an hour and then asked, "Do these same women go in every half-hour?" She must have thought it some sort of a Paragon Park or Norumbega Park performance.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Australian lady is soon to join the company, and others would be welcomed, representing the countries of South America, Central America and Jugo Slavia. Every Doll is an authentic portrayal of her country.

Housing as it affects the social status of the immigrant, and emergency relief, are two other important items in the program of Mrs. MacAulay and her committee, all of which will be summed up in the conference being planned for April 15th, 1932.

CLEAN UP, PAINT UP CAMPAIGN. The Division of Community Service of the Department of Public Welfare of the General Federation announces a Clean Up, Paint Up Campaign, with contest, to begin at once and to continue until April 1, 1932.

Mrs. Leon P. Dutch, State chairman of Community Service, calls this excellent opportunity to assist in a practical way the unemployment situation and also a prize contest, to the attention of Clubwomen of Massachusetts.

A Clean Up, Paint Up Week in the spring is always in order; for years Women's Clubs have initiated and sponsored them—particularly is such a campaign in order now. All fall the Federal Government, through its Emergency Committee for Employment, Women's Division, has been recommending to the women "Spruce Up" campaigns, hence, in launching a Clean Up, Paint Up Week, the General Federation, through its Community Service Division, will be "playing in tune with the times."

Clubs are urged to sponsor such a campaign, and the Clubs that never have, may plan now, to make it intensive for two months or so, then continue as a community program for a year; it will go forward then for years, of its own momentum.

The other feature put forth by the General Federation is the prize essay contest. This is open to all state, dist. to be "Community Planning and Woman's Part in It." Essays are limited to 2,000 words and there will be four prizes—the first to be $50. The winning essay will be read at the 1932 Biennial in Seattle, Washington. Those interested to enter the contest should write to the State chairman, Mrs. Leon P. Dutch, 42 Floyd street, Winthrop. She will be very happy to send the literature for participation in the contest.

Along the subject of community service and interests, the power women and their clubs may be in a city or town to beautify, or to make sight-ly, has been demonstrated in western Massachusetts, due to the contest recently sponsored in that section of the State by Mrs. Leon D. Perry, director, and the Springfield Union, as a newspaper medium. Knowing of their accomplishment in the matter of improvement may be an incentive to women, newspapers, and clubs in this section of the State.

The Wilbraham Study Club was awarded the second prize for organizations in the Western Massachusetts Highway Beautification Contest so sponsored, and the Southwick Woman's Club came in for the fourth prize in Southampton Woman's Club and Springfield Women's Club for honorable mention.

Enrollments came from 39 communities, and more than 100 miles of roads have been improved. In many communities the work already done has acted as a stimulant for the undertaking of more ambitious projects the coming year.

The Wilbraham Study Club succeeded in eliminating unsightly dumping along the main highway approaching the railroad underpass at North Wilbraham on the Boston road. The Club has set out pink and white dogwood, evergreens, forsythia, hybrid French lilies, daffodils and iris, Scotch pine, and sumac on the Palmer side of the underpass. Besides, woodbine has been planted to provide covering and color for the bare cement bridge.

A thorough survey of roadsides approaching the town, and persistent effort to make them safer and more beautiful, is to the credit of the Southwick Woman's Club. Unsightly places have been cleared, shrubs have been set out around the library, and around a dangerous traffic hazard.

President Hoover and the governors of the six New England states have commended the work carried on through the contest. The prizes were contributed by public-spirited nursery men in the vicinity.

General Federation

Prominent Club leaders of Massachusetts will attend the Midwinter Board Meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, January 11th to 16th, in Washington are Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, of Brockton, national first vice-president; Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter, of Greenfield, national director for Massachusetts; Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, of Belmont, State president; Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon, of Boston, national chairman of Education; Mrs. Frank H. Stewart, of Newton Center, national vice-chairman of Art; and Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball, of Boston, founder and specialist in Mothercraft for the General Federation.

Outstanding among several social functions planned for the Massachusetts group is a luncheon to be given at the Hotel Mayflower, January 14th by Mrs. Frederick Huff Payne of Greenfield, wife of the Assistant Secretary of War, at which Mrs. Dolly Carr, sister of Vice-President Charles G. Curtis, will be the honor guest.

Other luncheon guests will include Mrs. Herbert B. Payne and Miss Helen Payne of Greenfield, who are to be house guests.

Several of the Bay State Officials will leave for Washington, January 11th, with Mrs. Schrader, who will stay over for the Conference on the Cause and Cure of War. Mrs. Poole who leaves early in the week to speak before clubs in Virginia will be an honor guest at the launching and luncheon of the S. S. St. John, January 9th at Newport News. Mrs. Stewart will go on to Washington from Atlantic City where she is spending the holidays.

A feature of the board sessions will be the display of the exhibit of Mothercraft being prepared by Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball for the Deutsches Hygiene Museum of Dresden.

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Centre Woman's Club

On the afternoon of New Year's day the Newton Centre Woman's Club had open house for the community, with dancing for the young folks. More than six hundred attended. Mrs. John F. Capron, president and the officers received. Mrs. William Raye and a very efficient Refreshment committee served. An air of homeliness, good cheer and a splendid community and neighborly spirit made this a most enjoyable occasion for all.

A special feature was the opening of the All-Woman's Exhibition of Painting and Sculpture, which Mrs. Maurice E. Goldberg had been preparing for several months. This proved a real treat to some four hundred enthusiasts. Anna Coleman Ladd, world-famous sculptress and known for her "dynamic personality," spoke on the "Spirit of Sculpture," and explained her two striking works in the exhibit, a scintillating silver bronze "Dancer" and a thoughtful lunette, "Dancer in the War Zone."

Other artists present were: Margaret Fitzhugh Browne, friend and portraitist of Alfonso, recent king of Spain, whose masterly "Rachmaninoff Prelude" was much admired; Elizabeth Taylor Watson, who exhibits a striking portrait of Miss Allen, of Newton's Misses Allen School; Amelia Peabody, whose highly-original bronze, "Dragon of Seres," brought many exclamations of delight; and Mae Bennett Brown, who shows a very colorful "Phlox."

In this showing of the work of 31 prominent women artists of Greater Boston, Marian P. Sloane's "Autumn Tapestry" stands out as a masterly presentation of the poetry in Vermont hills and sky. Henrietta M. King's "Night Lights" gives an original version of New York in contrasting masses of light and dark.

Westcott Hale, shows a fine sense of values as well as exquisite taste. Marion Boyd Allen, Gertrude Fiske, Ruth A. Anderson, Polly Nordell, Laura Coombs Hills, Marguerite S. Pearson, Nellie L. Murphy, Mary B. Hazleton, Louise Atkins, Mary Bowditch, Bashka Paef, Katherine Lane, Hilda Scudder, Lilla Cabot Perry, Amy W. Cabot, Elizabeth Paxton, Jean N. Oliver, Margaret Fuller, Lufkin, and Edith Rudin complete an all-star list which will exhibit to January 14th, daily from 2 to 5 o'clock, and the public is invited to view these delightful exhibits.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club observed Young People's Night, Monday evening, January 4th, in the Emerson School Kindergarten Rooms, when Miss Kitty Knight, a children's entertainer gave a very fascinating and versatile entertainment, and afforded much amusement for both the Club members and their young guests. Miss Clementine Vara was in charge of the evening. Refreshments were served by the Hospitality committee, and it proved a very enjoyable evening.

Auburndale Woman's Club

A Talk on Books, chiefly those for children, was given on Tuesday morning at the Plummer Memorial Library before an audience of about 75 club members. These monthly talks are sponsored by the Literature committee of the Auburndale Woman's Club, with Mrs. Arthur C. Freeman, chairman, assisted by Mrs. J. Arthur Furbush, Mrs. Albert L. Puffer, Mrs. E. James Winslow, and Mrs. Thomas E. Young. The speaker for Tuesday morning was Miss Mary Walsh, from Houghton Mifflin and Company.

Auburndale Review Club

A group of Christmas poems, read by Mrs. Charles W. Grover, opened the program of the Review Club last Tuesday morning. These were followed by three Book Reviews by Club members. The chairman of the morning, Mrs. Harold W. Knowlton, read from A. Morinini's "Italy Yesterday and Today." Mrs. Knowlton explained that the book might be used as a Guide Book for one touring that country, so well did it describe the cities of Rome, Florence, Naples, Pisa, and Genoa, and the approach to them.

Mrs. William H. Blood, a Charter member of the Review Club which is starting on its forty-first year, took "The Story of San Michele," by Axel Munthe, pointing out that while this book is regarded by many critics as an Autobiography, she found it to read like a Fairy Book. Mrs. Amos R. Wells, who had the last book on the program, took Sidney Clark's "Old Glamours of New Austria." Mrs. Wells reminded her audience that the author had been born in the house on Willis-ton road which they now occupy, and that later he had lived in one on Central street now belonging to another Club member, Mrs. E. J. Frost. These personal recollections of the author, preceded a review of the book.

Mrs. Harold W. Drew, Motion Picture Advisor of the Club, recommended the picture "Arrowsmith" for students of High School age and above, and adults.

Mrs. Alexander I. Peckham announced the series of English Folk Dancing Classes in the Club Workshop for ten consecutive Wednesday mornings, commencing January 6th, at 9:30 o'clock.

A Musicals by artists of unusual skill followed the business meeting. Miss Yvonne DesRosières, soprano, was delightful in her costume interpretations.

The artistic genius of Miss Dorothy Barth was appreciated by the audience. She is a gifted violinist.

Mr. Reginald Boardman, Pianist, was popular, as usual, in his finished work as soloist and accompanist.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The vivid imagination and happy humor with which Nancy Byrd Turner recounted her experiences as a writer of verse revealed the genuine personality which is hers. Miss Turner spoke before the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon, January 5th, giving a most graphic account of her life as a writer, in her lecture, "A Poet Tells Her Own Tale." Miss Turner's talk was interspersed with readings of her own poems, and she recalled many anecdotes of her own life which inspired the writing of these poems. She gave an amusing account of her early attempts at poetry, told with such gaiety and humor that the audience reacted with spontaneous applause to the delightful poem, "When I Go Up to London Town," was inspired, she said, by a desire, from early childhood to see England. "I Want a Little House," and "Who Makes a Garden," both with a vein of pathos, but equally well enjoyed, were very much appreciated when Miss Turner told the happy experiences in her life connected with the writing of these poems.

Her ability to visualize life from a child's viewpoint is remarkable and her poems on child lore were enthusiastically received. Being a native Southerner, her verses on the superstitions of the negro, given in perfect dialect, were very humorous.

Her lecture was thoroughly enjoyable, and Miss Turner has a way of enchanting her audience by the delightful interpretation of her own poems.

Preceding the lecture, Mrs. Ethel Keach Ferrin, contralto, and Mrs. Bernice Keach Ripley, soprano, entertained with three delightful duets. They sang "Under the Greenwood Tree," by Lisa Lehmann; "Summer Night," by Schult; and their voices blended perfectly in the Tuscan Love Song, "Nearest and Dearest," by Luigi Garacello. Mrs. Ruth Merry was at the piano.

Before this program, a short business meeting was held, with the president, Mrs. Herbert F. Blair, in the chair.

At the close of the afternoon's program, members and guests were invited to the tea in charge of the Hospitality committee.

Mrs. Ernest S. Tappan, chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Frank G. Willson and Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson as hostesses for the tea. Those invited to pour were Mrs. Carrie G. Edwards, Mrs. John W. Spiers, and Mrs. Frank L. Nagle.

Receiving informally with Mrs. Blair were the guest speaker Miss Turner; Mrs. William Vohburgh, chairman of Finance; Mrs. Howard M. Waybright, chairman of the Christmas Party committee; and Mrs. Paul E. Elecker, chairman of Press and Publicity.

To this meeting members brought donations of clothing to be given to the Welfare Bureau and Mrs. Edmund L. Decker and the members of the Civics committee express their gratitude to those who brought the clothing and to those who so generously gave financial aid to help those in need.

POLICE NEWS

Stanley Daker, 23, of 54 High street, Newton Upper Falls, was fined $150 in the Newton court on Wednesday when found guilty of driving a car while under the influence of liquor. The usual fine imposed by the Newton court for such an offense is $100 but a heavier penalty was given Daker when he refused to agree to pay for damages done to an automobile hit by the car he was driving.

Lester Drew, 33, of 187 Cypress St., Newton Centre, was in the Newton court on Wednesday charged with assault and battery on Herbert E. Braman of Newton Centre. Drew claimed that he hit Braman because the latter made an uncomplimentary remark about Drew's mother-in-law. Braman denied this accusation and told the court that Drew had walloped him on the jaw without just provocation. Judge Bacon continued the case until January 20.

William I. Brown, who killed his stepfather Richard Wilson at 253 Church street, Newton, pleaded not guilty to the charge of murder and one of larceny in the Middlesex Superior Court on Wednesday. Judge Hammond held him without bail for trial at a later date and said he would not appoint a counsel for the youth as he understands that friends of the defendant are to obtain a lawyer to defend him.

George Fleming of 299 Centre street, Newton, was given a suspended jail sentence of two months when he was found guilty in the Newton court on Tuesday of concealing leased property. He was charged with having concealed an automobile which he bought from the Stuart Chevrolet Company.

Two Allston small boys, one 10 and the other 12, were taken into custody last Saturday at Lower Falls by Patrolman Tobin. They had departed from their homes that morning to hike to New York and the heavy rainstorm did not make their journey very pleasant. Both were drenched to the skin. In addition, the younger boy had received a cut on one leg when he stumbled as he was walking along the railroad tracks. They were taken to police headquarters and their relatives notified. The older boy expected that his school report card would be poor and decided to leave home before the card arrived.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

A very successful New Year's party was held on New Year's Eve at the Hunnewell Club with over one hundred and twenty-five members and guests present. Larry Fredericks' orchestra provided the music for dancing. Plenty of favors and noisemakers added to the enjoyment. Imitation snowballs and the usual confetti throwing were particular features. A buffet supper was served. The party was under the direction of President Harold Moore and the entertainment committee with Ralph Emery, chairman.

Wednesday night of this week a mixed bridge party with Mrs. Mason H. Stone, Mrs. H. P. Curtis and Mrs. F. B. Cummings as hostesses was held. Fourteen tables were in play. Ladies' prizes were won by Mrs. Harold Moore and Mrs. Ralph Emery. The men's prizes went to H. P. Curtis and Edgar M. Horne.

Newton Man Is Crushed By Auto

Dillon, Bakery Truck Driver, Badly Injured

Wilber Dillon, 31, of 24 Gardner street, Newton, was badly injured Tuesday morning when he was crushed between an automobile and a truck opposite 291 Tremont street, Newton. Dillon, employed as a route salesman by the Hathaway Baking Company, was standing at the rear of his truck on the curve on Tremont street between Waverley avenue and Park street about to take some bread into a house. A delivery sedan owned by the Philco Cleaners & Dyers of 991 Watertown street, West Newton, and driven by Robert Rowan, 22, of Concord, came around the curve, crashed into the rear of Dillon's truck and pushed the truck with Dillon pinned between the two vehicles for many feet. Dillon received a compound fracture of the right leg, a fracture of the left leg, broken ribs and probable internal injuries. He was taken to Newton Hospital in the police ambulance, and since then has been removed to St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

NEWTON MOTORS, INC. OPENS NEW SALES AND SERVICE QUARTERS

City Receives Bill To Be Paid Before March 25th

The city has been billed $303,384.66 as its share of the cost of the new Middlesex County Sanatorium in Waltham according to an announcement by Mayor Weeks yesterday afternoon. The bill, which is nearly 50 per cent of the city's total State, County and Metropolitan tax of last year, is for land, construction and equipment of the buildings which were completed and opened a few months ago. It must be paid on or before March 25th, 1932. Newton's financial affairs are in such good condition that the entire amount will in all probability be paid when it falls due. Under provision of the law under which the building of the sanatorium was authorized the cities and towns of the county may borrow money or issue bonds for the payment of their assessments.

Newton's share of the cost is the largest of any municipality in the county with Somerville coming next with an assessment of $268,000. Newton has seventeen patients in the hospital.

Charles E. Hatfield, treasurer of Middlesex County, announced that a bill will be filed in the Legislature to authorize the county to borrow funds in behalf of these cities and towns unable to do so. The county will loan these funds to the cities and towns enabling payment of the assessments. In this way the municipalities would receive the benefit of the lower amount of interest the county would be called upon to pay. The bonds issued by the county would be of twenty year duration and the municipalities would pay a certain amount plus interest each year. The measure is designed to relieve cities and towns which would find difficulty in selling their own bonds.

City Employees Local Holds Its Installation

Several Prominent Speakers At Gathering

Newton City Employees Local, 175, Federation of State, City and Town Employees held its annual installation of officers at Bay State Hall, Newton on Tuesday night, January 12. William J. Burns of Medford, Secretary-Treasurer of the national organization was the installing officer. A Leslie Moriarty of West Newton was inducted into office as president for the 16th consecutive year and Jeremiah Herlihy of Newtonville, one of the founders of the Local was installed as Treasurer for the 25th year. Other officers installed were: Alfred V. Guzzi, vice-president; John Russo, recording secretary; Daniel Roche, financial secretary; John Shannon, conductor; Orax Colia, inside sentinel; finance committee, Michael Morris, James Davis, John McMillen; trustees, Peter Butler, Frank Shaw, Thomas Delaney.

A musical program was given and a collation served. President Moriarty told of the deplorable conditions confronting city employees in some cities in this State and told the members of the Local that they should appreciate the fact that in Newton such conditions do not exist. Several officers of the State Federation briefly referred to matters affecting the employees which they hope will be acted upon favorably by the Legislature this year.

The guests and speakers included Speaker Leverett Saltonstall of the House of Representatives, Senator Arthur W. Hollis, Representative Rupert Thompson, Hon. Edwin O. Childs, Aldermen Tamperley, Farnell, Hill, Sprout and ex-Aldermen Earle and Powers. The legislators assured the employees that they will assist them in any way that existing conditions permit, but that all must expect to cooperate in relieving the situation caused by the current depression. Ex-Mayor Childs urged the members to do their part in assisting the unemployed who are in need and commend them for the assistance they have been and are giving. He said that

School Committee Favors Better Jr. High Facilities

At Bigelow School—To Prepare Specifications

A meeting of the Newton School Committee was held Monday night, attended by all seven members of the committee. The committee went into closed session to discuss the school budget for the ensuing year. Consideration of this important matter was not finished at the session and another meeting will be held next Monday night to complete the budget recommendations.

The committee voted to favor the petition signed by hundreds of Newton Corner residents asking that an addition be erected at the Bigelow School so that this school will have proper facilities to make it a real junior high school. The proposed addition would enable 9th grade pupils to receive their instruction at the Bigelow School instead of being compelled to go to the High School at Newtonville. The committee instructed Supt. of Schools Wheeler to prepare specifications of the alterations and facilities needed at the Bigelow School and to submit them to Mayor Weeks with the request that the Board of Aldermen be asked to make an appropriation so that this work can be started this year. School Committee member Marsena Butts is pushing this project.

Four new janitors have been appointed in the Newton Schools. They are Joseph A. Campbell of Pond Avenue, Newton at the Levi Warren School; Edward Hildreth of Lexington street, Auburndale and Matthew Hurley of Pearl street, Newton at the Weeks School; Frank Brocklesby of West Newton at the High School.

RETIRED ON PENSION

The retirement of Bernard Hannon, 119 Jewett street, Newton, as an employee of the street department has been announced by Street Commissioner George E. Stuart. Hannon is 61 years old and has been employed by the city for sixteen years and his retirement comes because of injuries suffered during the performance of his duties at the city stables on Craft street. Hannon is the second employee of the department to be retired this year. The other is John Hannigan of 10 Cummings road, Newton Centre. Dr. Fred M. Lowe recommended the retirement of both, ruling that they were physically incapacitated for further duty. The Board of Aldermen at their next meeting will be asked to pass appropriations for the pensions of both men.

MAYOR'S RELIEF COMMITTEE TO INCORPORATE

A meeting of the Mayor's Committee for the Relief of the Unemployed was held Monday morning at City Hall and plans discussed to have this committee incorporated. Leon Rogers, chairman of the committee explained that the purpose of the incorporation is to give assurance to those who contribute money that proper returns of receipts and expenditures will be made to State officials, and to relieve individual members of the committee from personal responsibility for the funds. It was voted to make application to the Secretary of the Commonwealth for certificate of incorporation with Leon Rogers as president, Arthur Dunmore, vice president; Frank L. Richardson, treasurer; Harold F. Young, secretary; Directors—William J. Doherty, William F. Garcelon, Charles E. Hatfield, Rev. Robert Mantle, Rev. Boynton Merrill, John W. Murphy, William H. Rice.

It had been his effort when in office to always see that those in humble positions were given proper consideration. Mr. Saltonstall lauded the accomplishments of the citizens of this country in past generations in bringing the United States to the forefront and he expressed the belief that the present problems will be happily overcome through the industry and loyalty of the American people to their ideals.

Newton Centre Residents Attend Hearing on Parkway Extension

Speak In Opposition To Petition Signed By Many To Extend Hammond Wood Parkway Across Beacon Street to Commonwealth Ave.

A largely attended public hearing was held at Newton City Hall last Friday night before the Legislation Committee of the Newton Aldermen on a petition which was signed by hundreds of residents of Newton Centre. This petition reads: "We—the undersigned citizens of Newton request that the Mayor and Board of Aldermen take such action as may be necessary to secure the extension of Hammond's Pond Parkway from Beacon street to Commonwealth avenue, by Hobart road and Intervale road, a distance of about 1800 lineal feet."

Those who attended the hearing were for the most part not proponents of the petition, but residents on and in the vicinity of Hobart and Intervale roads who are opposed to the petition. Also present were other persons opposed to the petition, but who do not reside in the neighborhood which would be affected.

Alderman Norman Pratt of Newton Centre, chairman of the Legislation Committee, presided at the hearing. He explained that for many years the State has been considering building an extension of the West Roxbury Parkway through Hammond's Woods, across Boylston street and thence to Beacon street to a point nearly opposite Hobart road. If this parkway ends at Beacon street it will throw onto this already heavily traveled thoroughfare more traffic and lead to forestall such an undesirable result, 400 Newton Centre citizens had signed the petition which would have the parkway extended to Commonwealth avenue along the route proposed. Mr. Pratt said he had called public hearing on his own responsibility so that people could state whether they favored or opposed the petition. He explained that if the extension were built the streets affected would be widened from 24 to 40 feet. City Engineer Morse then stated that an alternative plan which would have the traffic on the proposed extension go one-way on Hobart road and one-way on Intervale road, would eliminate the necessity of widening these streets. The cost would be borne by the State.

O. D. Fellows of Newton Centre, chief engineer of the Metropolitan Planning Division, speaking as a citizen, said: "The Metropolitan Parkway Division has been instructed to make a study of this route to Commonwealth avenue, and one study they made followed from Beacon street, through Hobart road, then through Intervale road, and through Bishopsgate road, out to Commonwealth avenue, planning on a forty-foot roadway. It would not be very expensive; it would touch no buildings. There would be some consequential damage in one of two places, where the front lawns would have to be taken off somewhat. "There is also another route. If this were widened to sixty feet, and then if Hobart road had a 20-foot pavement, using Hobart road going north, and Bishopsgate road and Intervale road going south, it would create a traffic circle, so that traffic could be cut in two. That would mean that people living on those streets would only see traffic going in one direction.

"Whichever route is taken, I feel that it will be desirable either way. "Commonwealth avenue is a wonderful distributing route. If this is carried through to Commonwealth avenue, people living on Waverley avenue could use that route. There has been a plan for some years of carrying the parkway down Commonwealth avenue and through Cedar street, then through Blake street out on to Washington street, and thence down to Jackson terrace to the river.

"Commonwealth avenue passes through no congested centers. It is not thickly built up, but Beacon street has a traffic light at Langley road, and there are other traffic signals on Beacon street."

Mr. Albert T. Stuart, 825 Beacon street, Newton Centre, said that the plan on view was incomplete, as it did not show the Hobart road section, with its houses, etc., as it really was. Mr. Fellows then brought forward another plan, which he said was the complete plan, as it showed the houses and land that would be taken if the street were widened.

Frank H. Stewart of Montvale road objected to the proposed extension. He asked Mr. Fellows a number of questions and among the objections he raised to continuing the parkway over Hobart and Intervale roads were that the entrance at Commonwealth would be on a blind corner, that the route would be tortuous and that the safety of children residing in the neighborhood would be endangered.

Walter Whalin representing Edwin S. Webster of Chestnut Hill said that the latter favors the proposed plan. Mr. Webster has co-operated with the Metropolitan Park Commission by giving a right of way through a valuable part of his property and this donation was given with the understanding that the parkway would be continued along Hobart road. One reason for Mr. Webster giving so much of his land for the parkway was to take traffic off narrow Hammond street which runs through a district where there are many children.

Albert M. Lyon of the Newton Planning Board said that the Board had gone on record as favoring the extension plan because it was understood that immediate action is necessary to take advantage of an appropriation made by the State which probably will leave money available for the extension. He remarked that the Planning Board would like to reserve its rights and further study the situation.

Herbert J. Kellaway of the Newton Planning Board said—

"I am rather reluctant to say much about this. I was the person chosen by a group of citizens of Newton Centre and Chestnut Hill to draw a plan connecting the North and South Metropolitan Parkways. Several noted citizens, Frank A. Day, Mr. Saltonstall, and others, dug into their pockets to help me with that plan. That plan was worked out and 1,000 copies distributed.

"Judge Bishop, father of the present Judge Bishop, had the foresight to see that this connection between the two parkways should happen. It was hoped that this could go through, but it could not. Mr. Day of Brookline, and Mr. Webster gave some money, to carry the parkway through to Beacon street.

"An appropriation was made of $400,000.00 by the last Legislature, to acquire land so that traffic could be diverted from some of the narrow streets over which it now goes. That parkway was to go through Hammond's Wood, by Saunders Meadow, then an overpass over Boylston street, then, by Hammond Pond and over the railroad and by Mr. Webster's deer park, thence out on to Beacon street.

"Now, after all these years, it seems as if we could put through the plan as originally planned out in 1908. The original plan was to carry it down to Waverley avenue, thence down to Cotton street, and down by what is now Edmonds park. Then it was to carry on down to Cabot Park, over the bridge at Lewis Terrace, and down Jackson road to Watertown.

"They tell me now that due to the confusion of traffic it will not be necessary to make a direct route. The advantage of a short cut through from Beacon street to Commonwealth avenue can be readily seen. Commonwealth avenue is a double-barreled highway. If the north side is widened, it would help a great deal.

"This parkway would be for pleasure driving only. No trucking would be allowed on it. No trucking is allowed now on Commonwealth avenue."

To Restrict Use Bullough's Pond By Non-Residents

Local Skaters To Be Issued Passes—Others To Pay

At the instigation of the Newtonville Improvement Association Mayor Weeks will recommend to the Board of Aldermen that a system be put into effect at Bullough's Pond during the skating season similar to that in effect at Crystal Lake last summer. There is perhaps no place in Greater Boston kept in condition for skating during the winter months as is Bullough's Pond by the Newton Play-ground Department. Whenever the weather is sufficiently cold to form thick ice, this pond is kept free from snow and its surface sprinkled to assure good skating. The result has been that Bullough's is patronized not alone by residents of this city but by hundreds from outside the Newtons. The pond's skating surface has become frequently overcrowded and the desire is to discourage outsiders from using it, thus giving better opportunities to Newton residents to enjoy skating there.

The plan recommended by Mayor Weeks with the approval of Ernest Hermann, superintendent of playgrounds, proposes that children under 9 years of age can skate on the pond without showing a pass or giving a ticket. Persons older than 9 who are residents of the city would have to obtain a season pass which must be displayed to allow the holder to go onto the ice at the pond. Non-residents would have to purchase a ticket each time they would go to Bullough's to skate.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALES

Following are the results of the sale of Christmas Seals by villages at the end of the seventh week:

Newton Centre	$1449.10
West Newton	1196.75
Newton	1111.25
Newtonville	1066.55
Waban	731.65
Newton Highlands	470.30
Auburndale	444.10
Chestnut Hill	429.50
Newton Upper Falls	139.60
Newton Lower Falls	17.00
	$7106.10

The time for use of Christmas Seals on letters has passed but there is still time to help to increase the total amount realized from the seal sale. Many letters mailed with seals inclosed, have been unanswered, perhaps purposely and perhaps because they have been overlooked.

If those letters are found and dollars which the seals represent sent to chairman of the sale, in different parts of the city, the total can easily be brought up to eight thousand dollars.

Newton Firemen Test New Device To Make Smoke

To Be Used In Training Men With Gas Masks

An interesting demonstration was given at Engine 2 house, West Newton last Saturday afternoon in which a dense cloud of smoke and fumes was created by a small device similar in size and shape to a Roman candle. This torch was ignited in the "smoke room" at the basement of Engine 2 house. This room is a small, windowless compartment where members of the Newton Fire Department are trained to use smoke and gas masks. Heretofore, such training in this and every other city where such instruction was given, entailed great discomfort to the firemen. To create dense smoke in the training room, old rubber tires and similar combustible materials had to be used. These combustibles were set afire and the heat generated from the flames was so great that firemen who went into the "smoke rooms" were overcome by it.

To overcome this punishing method of training firemen the Central Railway Signal Company of this city devised the smoke torch used at the demonstration. The demonstration was in charge of J. Wiley Edmonds and Walter L. Wedger of this company. Members of the Newton Fire Department who entered the "smoke room" in the test included Lieutenant Davis of Hose 5, and Hoseman E. Herlihy of Engine 1, Jones and Lord of Engine 2, Keegan of Engine 4 and Krump of Hose 5. All these firemen stated that although the room was densely filled with smoke, there was no heat to bother them. The torch in addition to making heavy smoke, also diffuses a large volume of pungent gas which quickly enables a fireman to ascertain if a gas mask leaks in the slightest degree.

B. & W. Bus Permit Renewal Help Up By Newton Board

Co-operating With State Authorities On New Artery

The Licenses Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen met on Wednesday night and postponed renewing the permit of the Boston & Worcester Street Railway Company to operate busses on Boylston street in this city. The last permit expired on December 22. The old Boston & Worcester Street Railway Company in the hey-day of trolley transportation did a large business in passenger traffic between Boston and Worcester and intervening places. It also did a considerable freight business on its trolley freight car, but, the increasing competition from automobile busses and trucks, as well as privately owned cars caused the old company to lose most of its business and in late years the trolleys were supplanted by busses and the present owners of the franchise operated but few trolley cars. This company also obtained valuable rights to operate busses through Waltham and other places not touched by the old Boston & Worcester Railway Company.

With the coming of the new Boston & Worcester auto traffic artery, the present owners of the railway franchise along the Worcester turnpike have been and are demanding payment of a huge sum of money as compensation for the removal of their tracks from the turnpike. Because of the fact that so few electric cars were operated over these tracks the past few years, the State authorities contend that the amount demanded by the Boston & Worcester Company is quite exorbitant and they refuse to pay it. As a result, it is planned at present to leave the tracks in the centre of the new traffic artery through the Newtons, thus allowing only 20-foot roadways instead of 30-foot roadways which would be built if the street railway company receded from its allegedly unfair demands. The Newton aldermen are co-operating with State authorities in an effort to induce the street railway company to deflate its damage claims.

Holds Annual Meeting With Interesting Reports

The annual meeting of the Newton Hospital Aid Association was held at the hospital, on Tuesday, January 12, at eleven o'clock. The President, Mrs. Talbot presided.

Mrs. Anderson, the Recording Secretary, in her annual report told of the gifts the Association was able to make to the hospital during the year 1931, including a Fluoroscopic and Radiographic Table with Fracture Top, costing $3000.00; an Oxygen Tent, for the treatment of pneumonia patients, costing $500.00; an Emerson Respirometer for Infantile Paralysis cases, costing $1000.00; the sum of $125.00 for a Nurse's Scholarship; $10.00 for the Eye Clinic; and $35.00 for the "Free bed," which the Association maintains at the hospital. The card party and Fashion Show which was held to raise extra funds brought in $453.00.

The Treasurer, Miss Tower, reported the total disbursements for the year 1931 at $6084.89, the receipts were $4561.90; balance in the Newton Trust Company January 1, 1932, $1105.85.

The resignations of Mrs. Anderson, Recording Secretary, and Miss Tower, Treasurer were tendered, and accepted with regret, at a previous meeting. The following Officers were elected: President, Mrs. George H. Talbot; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson, Mrs. Frank A. Day, Jr., Mrs. Joseph N. Lovell, Miss Mary C. Sawyer, Mrs. W. V. Taylor; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Ernest J. Weaver; Treasurer, Mrs. D. Morley Lodge; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Francis H. Williams.

The Benefit Shop Manager, Mrs. Williams gave a very entertaining report of the year's work at the Shop. She mentioned the extensive Social Service work that is accomplished through the contacts made, and how many who do not want to be objects of charity are benefited by being able to buy clothing at low cost. Donations of clothing and household things are always needed, especially children's, baby's and men's clothes, if this useful work is to be carried on.

Mrs. C. Peter Clark, Treasurer of the Benefit Shop, reported a total of $3052.24 in sales during 1931. The amount sent to the Association was

Work Of Welfare Bureau Outlined By Miss Chapin

Secretary Speaks To Newtonville Church Women

Although it would be impossible to give a full account of the efficient work being done by the Newton Welfare Bureau in one hour, Miss Ruth Chapin, General Secretary of the organization, gave a comprehensive and intensely interesting survey of the policies of the Bureau at the session of the Woman's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church on Thursday afternoon, January 7. Miss Chapin spoke highly of the support which the Bureau receives from the Mayor's Relief Committee which furnishes money for wages for the unemployed who are able to do hard manual labor and loans for the white collar group. Last year men in the latter group fell ill trying to do work for which they were not strong enough. Loans are made to these on a strictly business basis.

The Bureau gives direct relief in the way of money, coal, clothing, and rent which is never given except in case of threatened eviction. The problem of the seasonal workman is a hard one to meet. Of these there are about 5000 in Newton and they find it impossible to save enough in nine months to live on during the three months of idleness. In one week work was given to 116 men who earned $1400, which was paid by the Mayor's Relief Committee for the cutting and delivery of wood to the poor. In another week, work amounting to $1550 was furnished by the placement bureau. Able workmen can be obtained through the Bureau which advocates a day's work for a day's wage and a day's wage for a day's work.

In one year this organization gave out 12,613 pieces of clothing, 2300 being the total for last month. Last summer 169 tubercular contact children were sent to camp with the money raised by the sale of the Christmas seals. The sum of $3,300 was spent over a period of eight months for milk for malnourished children. Through the generosity of clubs, churches, and individuals, 240 Christmas dinners were provided and toys were sent to 200 families. Miss Chapin believes that very little advantage is taken by those asking aid. The contacts are normal and in nearly every case work is sought. Help which our grandparents rendered their neighbors is now

OPEN 1932 TRACK SEASON WITH ONE-POINT VICTORY

Shades of 1928 flashed past at the annual Newton-Medford meet which ushered in the local indoor season last week Friday at the Boston Y. M. C. A. track. Newton was returned a 39 to 38 winner, the solitary point being a similar margin to that in the 1928 meeting. Incidentally the victory was the 18th consecutive dual meet victory for Coach Donald Enoch's teams in competition with other high schools on indoor tracks. It was also the fifth consecutive victory over Medford high in annual meetings and gave Newton high hopes for making 1932 its fourth consecutive undefeated year. With the exception of defeats at the hands of a strong all-star alumni outfit in 1931 and a defeat by Huntington school in 1928 Newton teams have not been defeated since the Brookline meets of the same year.

Last year was outstanding for Newton on the indoor track with Captain Milton Green the star performer. Last week against Medford the Newton mentor uncovered another versatile athlete in the person of Stanley Johnson who did his bit last year in the hurdles as Green's running mate. Taking first place in the hurdles, broad jump and high jump Johnson personally accounted for 15 of the orange and black points. In the broad jump he cleared 10 ft. 1 in. to come within an inch and a half of the 10 ft. 2 1/2 inch record set by Howard Niblock of Lynn Classical at the Andover meet last February. Perhaps before the winter is over Milton will have some state championship replace those who have graduated since a year ago.

From Newton standpoint the meet started off on the wrong foot as Roy Carpenter of Medford nosed out Doug Sloane, Newton's hope, and favorite, in the dash. Carpenter came from behind to overtake the Newton sprinter at the tape. Keough of Medford took third.

But Newton evened the count by surprising Medford in the 300.

Murphy of Medford, favored to win, was on the pole with Captain Jimmy Cahill of Newton next and Doug Sloane on the far side of the other Medford runner. Both Cahill and Sloane beat the Medford pair to the first bank and held off every bid by Murphy. On the second lap Cahill began to pull away slightly. On the home stretch Murphy gave all he had to pass Sloane and pulled up to Cahill's elbow but the Newton leader dived across the tape to win by little more than an eye-blink.

Johnson had little difficulty in winning the hurdles but Clifford Kittridge of Newton boosted the local chances by taking second over Gordon Taylor, Medford's best, in the final sprint to the tape.

The 600-yard run was largely Medford with Gingras and Howard taking first and second and Joe Pescosolido saving Newton a shutout by grabbing third.

The 1000-yard run was another thrilling race with little Eddie Kozowyk, brilliant Medford runner, being forced by Tom Fitzgerald of Newton. The Medford runner had less than a six-yard margin at the finish as he fought off Fitzgerald's final spurt. The Newton had made a great bid to overtake his opponent and showed the spirit that will make him a runner to be reckoned with in future meets. Roger Maynard of Newton took third.

Newton gained back the points lost in the 600 and 1000 when Johnson took first in both the high and broad jumps and Frank Tuscher and Joyce Blum tied for third in the former. Johnson won the high jump with a leap of 5 ft. 6 in., with Kelly of Medford clearing 5 ft. 5 in. of the Newton pair clearing 5 ft. 3 in. Johnson's 10 ft. 1 in. in the broad jump was nearly a foot better than Medford's leap of 9 ft. 4 in. for a Medford second place. Keough of Medford took third.

The next to the last event was the shotput and Newton was leading 33 to 30 and a first and third was needed to sew up the meet. Tom Malloy got the first place with a toss of 41 ft. 2 3/4 in., and Tom Kinrade the third with a toss of 37 ft. 10 in. Healey of Medford took second. George Guilian, another Newton shotputter who has done about 40 feet, did not compete as he was to play basketball at Wakefield in the evening.

With the victory tucked away Coach Enoch did not run his fastest relay quartet but sent Sloane, John Goodbar, Tuscher and Cahill into the race against Higgins, Joe Murphy, Bill Murphy and Gingras. Sloane led Higgins by a yard on the first leg but Joe Murphy went into the lead when the Newton runners failed to swap the baton smoothly and Medford was never headed. Murphy built up an eight-yard lead which Tuscher and Cahill could not reduce materially.

Meet Watertown Today

This afternoon Newton will tackle the Watertown track team in the second dual meet of the season. Although in past years Newton has had little difficulty in defeating the Watertown youths their task this season is expected to be more difficult. Watertown won the State championship in Class B last year and has considerable veteran material available. If Stanley Johnson can come through again as a triple winner it will improve Newton's chances considerably. Captain Cahill, Sloane, Fitzgerald, Molloy and other Newton performers should be able to score sufficient points to ensure the victory.

NEWTON QUINTET WINS AND LOSES

The Newton high school basketball team staged two excellent games this past week and emerged with an even break. Last week Friday the locals journeyed to Wakefield and came from behind in the final quarter to win 27 to 24. Wednesday afternoon the Milton Academy quintet came to the Newton floor and snatched the victory away in the final minutes of play by a 16 to 15 score.

At Wakefield the home five got off in the lead but Newton kept close on their heels and at half time were but one point behind, with a 12 to 11 count. In the second half Huston and Taylor, Newton forwards, forced the going and put Newton in the lead. The winning points came in the final session. Huston was high scorer with ten points while Taylor and Wood, centre, tallied six points each. The Wakefield guards scored 17 of the losers points. The Newton guards, Patterson and Gullian, held three Wakefield forwards to but a solitary goal from the floor.

In the preliminary game the Wakefield seconds defeated Newton seconds, 19 to 17.

Wednesday afternoon it was Milton Academy that turned a similar trick on Newton. Newton got off to a 9 to 1 lead in the first period with Huston opening the scoring on a free shot when fouled on the first play of the game. The second period saw the visitors showing some fast work before the final gun stopped and a 12 to 11 lead at half time. The third period was nip and tuck with Patterson caging a free shot for the only point of the period and knotting the score at 12 all. During the final session Newton went into the lead and then Milton scored to go out in front again. The lead changed twice before the final gun stopped and the Newton guards won by a 21 to 15 score.

This afternoon the team goes to Quincy for the first of home and home series. Two games next week on Tuesday at Somerville in the opening Suburban league contest and another on Thursday with the alumni give the locals a busy week.

SPORT NOTES

Blue Beats Green Again

Yale's hockey team gained its second victory of the season over Dartmouth Saturday night at New Haven in an overtime contest that ended in a score of 4 to 3. Incidentally it was to a considerable extent a reunion of former wearers of orange and black of Newton high school. Joe Gilligan started for Yale in a defence position and Alvie Fletcher went in as a spare forward for Yale. Three of Dartmouth's starting sextet, Frank Spain and Langdon Powers forwards and Bob Bennett, defence, are ex-Newton high athletes. Spain kept the Green in the game from the start scoring the opening tally on an unassisted play after about five minutes of play. Before the second period closed Bostwick, a pass from Fletcher, put Yale in the lead with another tally which was evened by Spain's second unassisted tally early in the third period. Dartmouth again took the lead on Jackman's goal but only for half a minute as Bostwick again scored. In the overtime session Winter of Yale scored the winning tally.

Elected Captain of Canisius James Gegan of Adams street has been elected captain of the 1932 varsity football team at Canisius University at Buffalo, N. Y. He was the regular fullback the past season.

Hall Relay Candidate

Charley Hall, former Newton high star and track captain, is one of the promising candidates for the M. I. T. varsity two-mile relay team. As a freshman last year Hall scored many points for Tech in the half-mile and this past fall was a point winner in several cross-country races. It is more than likely that he will be a member of the Engineers' team which opens its season at the K. of C. games at the Boston Garden on Jan. 30.

NEWTON DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

The President, Mrs. George M. Angier, entertained at dinner at the Brook Country Club on Monday evening, January 11, the members of the newly formed Business Advisory Committee and the officers of the Association who are planning a membership campaign to take place next month. The Executive Director, Miss Nelson, outlined the work of the association.

The Committee, whose members are Messrs. Edward L. Bigelow, Herbert M. Cole, Edward J. Frost, Donald D. McKay, Henry J. Nichols, J. Earle Parker, Leland Powers, Sylvanus Smith, heartily endorsed the proposed plan to adhere to the commonwealth country club. The regular monthly meeting of the Directors of the Association was held in the morning of the same day for the transaction of routine business.

HOCKEY SEXTET TOPS CANTABS TO TAKE LEAD

The Newton high hockey team blanked Cambridge High and Latin last week Saturday in its game at the Boston Garden, 6 to 0, to take the lead in the Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey League race. Meanwhile Melrose and Arlington played a 1 to 1 tie in the outstanding game of the afternoon to mar the clean slate of the defending champions. Medford turned back Stoneham, 4 to 2, retaining third position while Belmont blanked Rindge Tech 3 to 0, to keep on even terms with the newcomers, Medford.

The mild spell this week prevented all league games and tomorrow's games at the Garden will see most of the teams taking the ice without practice this past week. In tomorrow's games the headline contest will undoubtedly be the Newton-Medford affair. Newton has played one more game than Melrose and needs one more victory to make certain of staying on the top. Medford will press the orange and black to the limit in tomorrow's clash as it is the high scoring team of the league. Medford has scored 20 goals, Newton 16, and Melrose 12 in one league game. On the other hand the Newton outfit has the strongest defense of any team in the circuit as evidenced by the fact that but 3 goals have been scored with Jackson Skillings in the net. Melrose has allowed 5 counters while the red light has flashed 8 times against Medford.

In the game at the Garden last week Newton had little difficulty in stopping the Cantabs. Skillings had the majority of play was on the far end of the rink from the Newton goalies. Two of the Newton goals were scored in less than a minute with Charlie Houghton and Dick Kelley putting on solo dashes the length of the ice. Before the first period ended Kelley caged another tally to put Newton in front 3 to 0. In the second frame Newton had two players in the penalty box but the Cantabs could do no more than give Skillings a pair of stops. Natole Stostilio scored two of Newton's other tallies and Kevorkian took a pass from Guild for the other. One of Stostilio's dashes was the feature of the game. He sallied down all alone to beat Goalie Hopkins with a nifty shot.

Over 50 Years Old--

AND HIS INCOME CUT IN HALF

It is not pleasant to find that your income is shrinking and to realize that future income must depend on capricious conditions over which you personally have no control. Yet that is what thousands of people are facing at this period. If funds are reinvested, there is still the "business man's chance" that the new investments will not be satisfactory—so uncertain are these times.

Annuities on the other hand are investments which guarantee a life income. They are the answer for those thinking men and women who must maintain their standard of living and to whom a guaranteed income will mean continued happiness, self esteem, and freedom from financial worry.

How the Annuity—and there are as many kinds as there are human needs—can be purchased as part of an investment program is not generally understood. From my 25 years of experience as Annuity Specialist, I have recently prepared and copyrighted two leaflets which, in simple words, explain the purpose of the Annuity and the various forms available. If you are interested in the Annuity as a safe, certain investment, I suggest you write or telephone. There will be no obligation on your part. The booklets will be mailed to you.

WABAN BABY STRANGLED

Frederick T. Potter, Jr., 19 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. Potter of 126 Beethoven road, Waban, was strangled to death Monday morning by straps which had been placed in his crib to prevent him from falling out of the crib or throwing off the bedclothes. About 8 o'clock Monday morning the child's mother discovered that the straps had become twisted around the baby's neck and that he was apparently unconscious. She summoned Dr. Dewitt Wilcox of Newton Centre and he telephoned for assistance from the Fire Department and the emergency crew of the gas company. Captain Turner and his men from Ladder 2 at Newton Highlands rushed to the Potter home and worked unavailingly for over two hours in an attempt to resuscitate the baby. Medical Examiner George West viewed the body.

She appeared in the Newton court last Saturday and was sent to the State Hospital at Monson for treatment.

J. Russell Lewis of Kilmarnock street, Boston was in the Newton court Saturday and fined $5 for violating a traffic ordinance. When Lewis was stopped by the police for this offence, he was found to be driving without having a license. This charge was continued until January 23rd and he was ordered to obtain the license in the meantime.

An automobile owned by William H. Carey of 73 Sargent street, Newton was used by gunmen who committed robberies in Boston Saturday night. The car was stolen while parked in Boston and used by the bandits. It was later abandoned in that city.

The hearing which was to have been held in the Newton court on Monday on the petition of Henry J. THE GREATEST GOOD OF THE GREATEST NUMBER

One of the important issues of the near future is seen in the location of the extension of the so-called West Roxbury Parkway through the south side of Newton. It was first proposed to bring this parkway onto Beacon street opposite Hobart Road and to widen and further improve this street so as to connect the new artery with Commonwealth avenue. Eventually this parkway was to cross the city by way of Edmonds Park and Jackson Road. Lately the proposal has been made to change the route on the south side so that after joining Beacon street it will turn left and continue along Beacon street almost to Newton Centre Square and then be connected with Centre street by way of the aqueduct reservation and Willow street. The chief argument against this latter route is the increased congestion of traffic in a business district when the modern trend is to keep all such traffic arteries away from such districts. Residents of Hobart Road are naturally objecting to the original plan which will carry more pleasure traffic by their properties. The matter is in the hands of the planning board and the legislation committee of the aldermen, and we trust that the problem will be solved satisfactorily—that is for the greatest good of the greatest number.

VOTING IS AN OBLIGATION

Among the subjects Mayor Weeks touched upon in his inaugural address was that of the general apathy of the voter in city elections. We have repeatedly urged the citizens of Newton to exercise this privilege. Voting is not only a privilege—it is a decided obligation as the Mayor points out. He suggests as a possible remedy the denial of the franchise to those who fail to exercise it for a certain period and without a reasonable excuse. It is an interesting suggestion regardless of whether or not it could be brought about. Another possible solution of the problem might be found in abating a portion of the poll tax to those persons who cast their ballots at municipal elections.

A SOURCE OF CONCERN

One of the outstanding facts of the prosperity era of a few years ago was a decidedly abnormal and unwarranted increase in rents. This rise in rents was due to similar unwarranted valuations in property. But whereas property assessments increased but 40 per cent rentals in business sections increased nearer 200 per cent. And rents have not been reduced in general at the present. With business at a low ebb or at best on the upward swing, one of the greatest aids to the Newton business man would be a reduction in rent to somewhere near the proper proportion.

SCHOOL NOTES

DAY JUNIOR HIGH

Monday evening, January 11, over WNAE, a most interesting debate was heard—Day Junior High School vs. Levi Warren on the subject, "Resolved: That mental achievement is more important than physical." The affirmative fell to the Day boys and girls. Van Cleve Meyer, Doris Houchins and James Clelland were the main speakers, while the rebuttal team consisted of James Stewart and Carolyn Everts.

The F. A. Day team was proclaimed the winner of the debates and Doris Houchins was chosen as the best individual speaker, thus winning a place on Big Brother's team.

The Junior Red Cross Club has taken upon itself the responsibility of seeing that all those pupils who should, take mid-morning lunch. Those who find the added expense a problem, may do so at the Club's expense.

On Wednesday night, January 6, over station WAAB at 7:30 o'clock there was a spelling bee between the Levi Warren and the Frank A. Day. There were five pupils on each side. The five who represented Day were Mary Plakias, Grace Rangnow, Carolyn Everts, Bethiah Morrill and Julia Flagg.

At the close of the broadcast there were two left, one from each school, Day being represented by Bethiah Morrill, who will participate in the finals.

The Varsity Basketball team lost to the Newton High Intermediates by the score of 28-18.

Miss Cynthia Southworth surprised her schoolmates by a sudden visit to the Newton Hospital where she had her appendix removed. She is coming along fine and everyone hopes it will not be long before she returns to school.

On January 8 the ninth grade held a successful party. Those responsible were: Donald Seeley, president; Barbara Kinball, vice president; Lorraine Bond, secretary; and Dorothy Seeley, treasurer; and directors, Arlene Carroll, Henry Merrill, Grace Rangnow, James Stewart, Michael Plantadosi and Thomas Brooks. Ellis Donovan, Johnson Quick and Michael Plantadosi took tickets, while Marcella Renard and Geraldine Wisbach helped with the serving of refreshments. "Brad" Green's orchestra furnished the music for the dance. During the course of the social, the spot dance and bean contest were held, with Violet Nardone and Robert Hicks winning the first, and Dorothy Seeley winning the latter.

Girls' homeroom basketball teams have now been organized. On January 13 the school had a very interesting assembly. Alice Drury introduced "Mr. Rip Van Winkle," the entertainer, by saying she had met an old man on her way to school, and that he had told her so many interesting stories that she had invited him to come to the Day school and tell her schoolmates some of his stories. The aged man was dressed in tattered clothes and had long, flowing white whiskers. He told his narratives in a most unique fashion. Although prohibition was really his subject, he told of his supposed experiences. Rip had frequently been intoxicated. It was believed that Sally, Rip's tired, tattered wife, had ordered the drunkard out of the house. As Rip's condition at the time was very bad, he immediately went to sleep in the woods. He then slept twenty years. You can imagine his surprise on his return to Boston at finding his loons abolished, new buildings put up in their places and everywhere multitudes of automobiles. He then explained to us in his unique way the advantages of not having saloons, and told how easy it was to be tempted into taking a drink, when every other store was probably a saloon.

WARREN JUNIOR HIGH

At the January 6 assembly, Mr. Spaulding introduced Mr. Hoyer, a violinist from the Boston Conservatory of Music, who will give violin lessons to pupils of Warren who desire them. Mr. Lang, representing the Anti-Saloon League also put on a skit, impersonating Rip Van Winkle.

Debate

On Monday, January 11, five boys from the ninth grade took part in a debate directed by "Big Brother" with pupils from Day broadcasting over WNAE. The pupils from F. A. Day were judged the winners. These same boys will debate again on Monday, January 18, over the same station.

Last Wednesday a few of our ninth graders participated in a spelling bee with pupils from the Day Junior High. It was conducted by "Big Brother" and broadcast from WAAB. Owing to a limited amount of time the bee is to be continued next week with one member from each of the two schools taking part.

This is the first year the Warren has had a 4-H Club. With instructors, Miss Gray and Miss Pepin, the girls are very enthusiastic. The following officers have been elected: President, Helen Norton; vice president, Louise Norton; secretary and editor, Janet Buck and Jean Charlesworth. The name decided upon for the Club was Warren Handcraft Leaders.

MARRON HEARING POSTPONED

The hearing which was to have been held in the Newton court last Monday on the petition of Henry J. Marron, former Newton policeman, for reinstatement as a member of the Newton police department, was postponed to Thursday at the request of his counsel. Yesterday the hearing was again indefinitely postponed because on Wednesday Marron was taken to the Veterans Hospital at Chelsea suffering from ulcers of the stomach.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Until tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock when the time expires for filing new legislation it will not be known definitely how large a number of bills the 1932 General Court will be called upon to consider. There seems to be a feeling that with "economy, the watchword," the tendency of legislators and others will be to refrain from offering bills providing for the expenditure of money. No doubt that is true, but on the other hand there are numerous bills intended to reform the financial condition of cities and towns, relieve unemployment and change social conditions. So many of these are coming in that the total may be larger than is at present anticipated. All is set for a business-like session and early prorogation, but one familiar with legislative proceedings knows better than to expect too much.

The first committee hearing for the public was held Monday when the Committee on Municipal Finance heard the petition of residents of New Bedford for authority to take part of the money to be raised out of the tax levy and borrow the remainder. Governor Ely's plan to aid the banking situation by relieving funds in the closed banks and organizing the Massachusetts Credit Corporation was heard by the Committee on Banks and Banking Tuesday. The matter was continued until next Tuesday when public hearings will be resumed.

Representative Lunt has filed a bill for the United Improvement Association which would give the Police Commissioner of Boston exclusive authority to make all traffic rules and regulations and to provide penalties for violations. Newton is vitally affected by the recommendations set forth in the special report of the State Health Department and the Metropolitan District Commissioner as to the need of increasing the capacity of the Charles River valley sewer. One of the suggestions offered is that the high level sewer be extended from Oak Square, Brighton, to the Newton City line and a sewer built across this city as far as may be necessary to relieve the Charles River valley sewer. Chief Engineer Arthur D. Weston of the State Health Department, who happens to be a resident of Newton, signs the report. The conclusions are given herewith:

"The results of investigations show that the objectionable condition in the Charles River at Watertown and in the upper portion of the Charles River Basin, which were very serious during the early part of the past summer, were due to the discharge of the sewage from the main portions of Watertown directly into the river just above Glen street. This discharge was caused by the practically complete clogging of the siphon at this point which conveys the sewage from the main portion of Watertown across the river to the Charles River Valley sewer on the southerly side of the stream. Upon the thorough cleaning out of this siphon the discharge of sewage into the river ceased, and, excepting on one or two occasions in early July as a result of heavy rainfall, there was no discharge of sewage or sewage overflow at this siphon during the period of this investigation.

"The investigation further shows that when the siphon is in proper working order all the sewage brought to the head of the siphon in Watertown Square is delivered to the Metropolitan sewer on the south side of the river at all times when the sewage in the latter sewer is below 62.5 per cent of its depth. With the Metropolitan sewer full all the sewage can still be delivered into the Charles River Valley sewer if the sewage is allowed to back up in the Watertown sewer, the amount of rise at the upper end of the siphon probably being about 2.0 feet. If the backing up of the sewage should cause difficulties with low fixtures they can be obviated by pumping the sewage into cesspools which are raised or removed.

"For immediate relief of the objectionable pollution of Charles River that has occurred at Watertown it is necessary, first, to keep the siphon clean; second, to raise somewhat the height of the overflow; and third, to provide, if necessary, a means of pumping the sewage temporarily.

"As a further result of this study it appears that the Charles River Valley sewer is becoming inadequate to care for the sewage of the district which it now serves, in addition to the storm water from combined systems, without causing undesirably frequent overflows into the Charles River Basin.

"It is also probable that by building a pumping station in the lower part of the valley and pumping some of the sewage into the high level sewer by an independent line the further enlargement of the Charles River sewer can be postponed for a considerable number of years.

"It is unquestionably most desirable to prevent, so far as possible, the serious pollution of the Charles River Basin, but the scope of the resolve did not provide for the necessary investigations to determine what plan may be the most desirable for the permanent relief of other sewers, as well as the Charles River Valley sewer, which now have overflows into the Charles River Basin, and it is recommended that a further investigation be made of sewerage in the Charles River Valley."

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The petition, favored by hundreds of Newton residents and by women's clubs throughout the city, seeking to have the Chaffin house on Vernon street, Newton, converted into a children's library, should be granted. It is now many months since the 1930 Board of Aldermen at the request of Mayor Weeks appropriated $22,600 for the purchase of the Chaffin house and its surrounding grounds. When this appropriation was made it was understood that the building was to be converted into a children's library. Such an institution is needed and when the Chaffin house will have been made available for this purpose the room now used at the main library building for the children's library can be diverted for space which is badly needed.

It is estimated that it would cost about $3500 to alter the building so that it would be suitable for use as a children's library and to convert the upper part of the house into an apartment which would bring appreciable rent. This rent would within several years defray the cost of the alteration on the building. Furniture of the library would cost about $3500. Inasmuch as the city expended $22,600 to purchase the property, it is not unreasonable to let the house remain idle longer and the large amount of money invested not producing beneficial results.

A few months ago it was proposed that the house be used as a clubroom for unemployed and the Library Trustees properly refused to approve this suggestion. Most unemployed men do not want to congregate in any place where they would be on view as such, and in cities where attempts have been made to provide clubrooms for unemployed results have not been satisfactory. In Watertown such a clubroom had to be abandoned when the rougher element became obnoxious.

A few months ago the slogan in this country was to find more work for the unemployed and to keep wages up so that the return of prosperity would be hastened and the American standard of living retained. Now the cry is to practice economy; engage in no public enterprises which are not absolutely necessary; reduce salaries and wages. It appears that many of our captains of industry, financial moguls, statesmen, politicians and other "big shots" or "machine gunners" are rather abashed as to how to solve the long-drawn-out economic problem which is bothering most of the world. The relief of the unemployed may be a local problem, but the creation of employment is a national and an international problem. And if this problem is not solved in the near future it will be just too bad for Government, financial and industrial leaders in this and other countries must find some definite way to synchronize modern productive and distribution systems; must end the anomaly which causes millions to lack the necessities of life because there has been an overproduction of such necessities.

If the leaders fail to solve the problem and thus relieve the distress of the millions of unemployed, the continued suffering of these masses may cause them to attempt radical measures themselves. Such a development is apt to cause trouble and confusion.

Leap year, 1932, has started out with an unusual number of engagements. Is this because it is Leap Year?

The latest fashion news gives the information that young ladies are to appear this season in sandals, even at formal affairs. They will wear no stockings and the nails on their toes will be tinted to match their clothing, or harmonize with their gowns—or something. We suppose that if the young ladies have corns and bunions these will also be tinted.

Letters To The Editor

ENDORSES BOULEVARD IDEA

January 11, 1932.

Dear Sir: The Mayor's address reflects a creditable situation in most departments of the city, and we are particularly glad to note that Washington street is to be resurfaced. It is certainly high time. Your suggestion to make this a George Washington Boulevard is valuable, but why not go a step further and start this near Newton Corner, removing the Newton Trust Building, which now stands on an island difficult to approach from all sides? This would give a wide open space which is much needed for the converging traffic.

Neither your suggestion nor ours need cost the city any expert fees on the traffic problem. The Mayor mentions a small vote, but we respectfully offer that as there was little or no competition under the present political organization, there seemed to be no reason for a heavy vote, except as a compliment. Where a city is so well satisfied with its government that there is no competition for office, certainly a very happy condition has been reached.

However, if it is really a matter of concern, we might enlist aid from the Women's Clubs, which have always done good work in this and other directions. As far as disenfranchisement of non-voters, I think there is something in the Constitution regarding this question.

Yours truly,
WM. G. STARKWEATHER.

By L. D. G. Bentley

It is fully as important to keep in the pink physically as out of the red financially.

It Doesn't Last Long

Whether or not you approve of the way members of the Legislature vote about their own salaries, I don't believe you have any idea how many times they are approached by people seeking to borrow or obtain outright gifts of money. For my own part I have seen many a member of the Great and General Court "touched" for anything from small change to a five-dollar bill. Not that my testimony is needed, but when you listen to critics who say our law-makers vote themselves too much salary please remember they have an awful time trying to hang on to it. In Boston, particularly, a member of the Legislature is supposed to respond to every call for assistance, to purchase a ticket to all dances and entertainments in his district and to subscribe liberally every now and then to a purse for the benefit of some popular individual.

You may not have thought of this when weighing up the arguments for and against salary reductions for public employees. I assume of course you have been some weighing in this direction. Of course, if you haven't I don't ask you to do it on my account. But the poor old legislator, and I know him well from years of association, gets an awful going over from the voters who think he should loosen-up whenever asked.

A prominent Boston member, whose word, I have learned, is to be readily accepted, said, "I get $2,000 a year and I spend at least half of that making loans which are never repaid, helping out voters who are up against it and buying tickets to dances."

Then he added, "And I escape pretty soft compared with a number of my colleagues. You wouldn't think it possible the drive that is made by the voters to get our salary away from us."

Those Knowing Kids

How quick children are to learn. Yes, and how they seem to favor in such accomplishments the things that disturb their parents. That is, the youngsters incline to that which is smart, whether it is the most desirable, if you know what I am trying to say.

Here was a boy in Newton, five years old and quick to catch on to the ways of grown-ups. You could hardly blame his father and mother for encouraging him, particularly when it made visitors sit up and take notice. Well, this buster watched the other members of the family at the telephone. It didn't take him long to learn how to give a number and to talk to the party called.

Naturally, mamma and daddy smiled to see their little boy gaining a proficiency at the transmitter that would do credit to an adult. They even permitted him to put through a long distance call to New York. It was one of those emergency matters made necessary because of a hitch in the family's Christmas plans. The boy was allowed to call his Aunt Etta in Yonkers. Well, that was fine and Mamma's little man is O.K. on putting through long distance calls. In fact he has put through three without the advance knowledge and consent of his parents. They are proud of the little lad and it was quite all right as long as he called here and there in Newton and vicinity. But this thing of piling-up toll calls is increasing the size of the telephone bill and that isn't so good.

The Racketeering Menace

If you haven't read the book "Muscling In," by Fred D. Pasley, of recent publication, I might commend it as one of the most enlightening of non-fiction volumes inasmuch as it reveals the very insides of racketeering. Not a pleasant subject but one which affects American civilization, and therefore not to be passed over lightly. As this volume proves, Chicago and New York, as well as some other cities have been so in grasp of gangsters that the cost is placed upon, to quote the author, "Mr. and Mrs. Common Citizen." The price of lawlessness should never fall upon the innocent law-abiding citizen but nevertheless he is compelled to pay it.

The man who has prepared this volume, published by Ives Washburn, is not an alarmist. He bases his assertions on court records and the findings of various criminal investigating bodies, including that of the Federal Government. Says the author, "A sound interpretation of the menace was given in a sermon by Rev. Dr. Ralph W. Stockman at the Madison Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, who said, 'The new racketeer and gangster are not really public enemies to all the public. They are servants of many citizens who do not wish to commit crimes themselves, but who desire the service which can be rendered only by lawbreakers.'"

When I read criticisms of the conduct of the police in raiding speakeasies I always wonder if these critics know all that is going on. A man who never would think of entering a speakeasy, even on a slumming tour, can work himself up into a state of wrathful indignation over what appears to him a piece of high-handed injustice on the part of the representatives of the law. To any who think that the police are apt to go too far I would advise they read, "Muscling In." They will find that the law-breakers rely on their plea for a "square deal" but while asking it for themselves they scout the suggestion that the rights of the ordinary citizen should be considered. What the police need is endorsement and more whole-hearted support. Get hold of a copy of this book and see if I am not right.

ROTARY CLUB

Professor J. L. Snider, Associate Professor of Business Statistics in the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, was this week's speaker at the Newton Rotary Club luncheon. He showed how the present depression was brought about by an accumulation of dangerous situations. First, of course, there was the Great War which resulted in the weakness of European countries and poor peace arrangements. Next came a decline of various industries. The farm situation has long been and is still wretched. Added to this we had a real estate boom with the inevitable collapse in 1925 and 1926, and the building boom with its decline in 1929. Furthermore, there was the over-expansion in automobile and allied business as well as in the steel and lesser industries. Finally, in 1929, a group of related developments led to the excesses of the stock market.

The speaker said that heretofore nearly all of the talking has been done during periods of depression; in the future we must prevent such dangerous situations as the present by doing something in times of expansion. Schemes and programs of long range worked out and plans should be made to control speculation. He suggested the forming of a national economic planning board restricted to gathering

This Means Something

Have you heard the news about the George Washington Bicentennial postage stamps? Don't tell me you know what I mean because I'm not thinking of the recent appearance of the stamps themselves. Yes, I've seen them and they're not only appropriate but nice to look at. Just imagine the joy that comes to the philatelist's heart. Or are you a philatelist yourself. Then, of course, you know. What I had in mind was the official information that never in the history of the country has there been such a stamp sale since these were made available. Who says we have forgotten the Father of Our Country? Doesn't the unexpected rush everywhere answer that query. In Washington D. C. the sales passed the $100,000 mark the first day when between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 stamps were sold. Official reports state that thousands of persons jammed the office eager to get the first day cancellations before the machines were shut down. That means they wanted to use the stamps and have them cancelled the first day of issue. What does that mean? Ask any stamp collector and he will tell you. Probably those stamps are going to be worth a lot of money some day. You never can tell.

Aren't you surprised to find that all over the country people were standing in line to buy these stamps just like they do at Christmas time with packages for the parcel post. There are, and I get this direct from headquarters, 12 different stamps and 12 kinds of envelopes. If you happen to be a slutt for statistics let me pass along the official prophecy that before the sale ends in January of next year it is expected that 14,000,000,000 (fourteen billion) stamps and 500,000,000 (five hundred million) envelopes will have been sold. The very idea of people lined up to buy postage stamps the way they do tickets to the Follies or the World's series. Isn't such a bad sign, is it? Anyway, it shows how much the entire country thinks of George Washington.

and dissemination of facts with a view to promoting permanent business stability. In the second place efforts should be made to reduce the excessive issuing of stock. We cannot expect the New York Stock Exchange or the investment brokers to lead off in this as theirs is not the business to restrict. Public opinion and the threats of Congress are needed. Thirdly, we must change the way people act. We must reduce ignorance, greed and fear. As for ignorance, we already have a wealth of business statistics for dissemination but more statistics are needed. Forecasting will again have its place although now it has fallen in disrepute. When we consider greed, we are at the very heart of the problem. We need a campaign against over competition and the predatory spirit which wants something for nothing.

And how shall we overcome fear? Men must be taught a broad sense of proportion and a knowledge of economic history, and they should be afraid to speak out when they see danger ahead. Here the professor told the story of an economic thinker who a few years ago was brave enough to give warning of the disaster he saw ahead but no publisher would take the book expounding his theories. The individual needs the help of others.

This excellent address showing the causes that led up to the present situation and the suggested remedies for the future was listened to with great interest by all the members present. The speaker was introduced by Mr. Irving Palmer, principal of the High School, and President Frank Richardson spoke in warm appreciation of Professor Snider's exposition at the close of the meeting.

Tells of New Aims Of Church Schools

"It is a far cry from the Sunday-schools of former days to the church schools of the present," said Miss Stella M. Jordan, Field Secretary of the Congregational Education Society, speaking on the topic "Backward Glances and Forward Steps" at the afternoon meeting of the Newtonville Central Church Woman's Association on January 13. Continuing, Miss Jordan said, "Then the aim was primarily to familiarize the student with the Bible. The church school of today is not only a Bible school, but also a school whose aim is to fit each life for complete living by growth in Christian character through guided experiences."

In one church, cited by Miss Jordan as an illustration of the new methods used in religious education, a group of the young people for six weeks took the place of all the church officers except the treasurer and suggested the topics for the minister's sermons. The result was that their former attitude of criticism was changed to one of sympathy.

In early days, education was considered the business of the church, and all education was then fundamentally religious. Gradually the emphasis shifted until education became secularized and it was necessary for the churches to establish their own system of religious education. Recently developed parts of this system are state summer conferences for Congregational young people and student centers at more than twenty state universities where there is a tremendous field for religious work among students.

Mrs. Austin H. Decatur, the newly elected President, presided and conducted the opening devotions. During the social hour at the close of the address, tea was served by a committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. F. Brant.

The January meeting of the Newton W. C. T. U. was held at the Stone Institute, Newton Upper Falls. As January 7th was the day set apart by the National W. C. T. All enjoyed hearing Mrs. Bertha Carter Flinn, a member of the Union, sing several selections especially appropriate for the occasion. She was accompanied by Mrs. Franklin Leland.

"Wild Life in Our Western Parks" is the subject of the illustrated talk to be given by Dr. John B. May, Massachusetts State Ornithologist and widely-known Naturalist, at the Albert Angier School, on Saturday morning, January 16th, at 10.15 a. m. This is the third in the series of Junior Entertainments sponsored by the Executive Board of the Waban Woman's Club. Mrs. Richmond K. Fletcher is in charge of the arrangements for the morning.

A most delightful afternoon is promised to the members of the Waban Woman's Club, on January 18th, when the Music committee of the Club, of which Mrs. James H. Gardner is chairman, has arranged an unusually fine musical program by the Panharmonic Orchestral Club, under the direction of Mr. Lloyd A. Stonestreet. The members of the Panharmonic Orchestral Club, all of whom are Boston Symphony Orchestra players, are: Mr. L. Stonestreet, Violinist; Mr. R. Tapley, Violin; Mr. C. Stockbridge, Cello; Mr. G. Bladet, Flute; Mr. H. Stanislaus, Oboe; Mr. R. Boardman, Piano; and Mr. E. Allegra, Clarinet. The program will include Joseph Haydn's "Symphony No. 2, D Major"; Claude Debussy's "Petite Suite"; Grieg's "March of the Dwarfs"; and Bizet's "Farandole".

Following the musical program tea will be served by the Social committee. Mrs. Charles W. Brooks and Mrs. W. H. Chase will be the hostesses for the afternoon.

On Thursday, January 21st, at 10.30 a. m., at the Neighborhood Club House the Newton Trust Company will be host to their depositors and the members of the Waban Woman's Club. Mr. T. Raymond Pierce will talk on "The Science of Investing," after which there will be a half-hour round table discussion, followed by a light luncheon.

Her subject this time will be "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." This play has had a tremendous success both in London and New York, and there is hope that it will be seen in Boston in the spring, so this lecture should prove of special interest.

RECENT EVENTS

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The members of the West Newton Women's Educational Club who were present at the meeting on Friday, the 8th, listened with much interest to Miss Marion Vaughan—a speaker of rare diffidence and personal charm—as she discussed "The Task of Growing Up." Miss Vaughan is connected with the Home for Little Wanderers, in Boston, and is well equipped by training and experience to talk on child problems.

She gave the Club a brief history of the Home for Little Wanderers which was founded in 1865, and last year had a family made up of 960 different children. As a pioneer in applying psychiatry to help maladjusted children, in 1915—a Study Home was founded which has since brought national renown. The Home specializes in expert medical work also, and in its own hospital gives scientific after-care to children with paralysis, rickets, etc. Excellent foster homes are found and supervised for the child whose home has been broken by death, divorce, or desertion.

Before Miss Vaughan's lecture the Club had the pleasure of listening to Miss Norma Olsen, a young lady of 12 years, who gave several cello selections and was warmly applauded. Mrs. C. A. Stimets and Mrs. Ethel Leach were hostesses during the social hour when tea was served.

Community Service Club of West Newton

The Community Service Club of West Newton held the first of two "Community Service Days" on Wednesday, January 6th, at the Unitarian Church. A goodly amount of sewing in charge of Mrs. Gardner I. Jones, was accomplished for Red Cross and for the Newton Hospital, and a friendly neighborly day was enjoyed by all present.

During the forenoon Miss Ruth Chapin, of the Welfare Bureau, gave an interesting and enlightening talk on the activities of the Mayor's Relief Committee. A neighborhood luncheon added to the success of the occasion. Another Community Service Sewing Day will be held on February 3rd, when an equally interesting speaker will tell of another work of community interest.

The Mid-Winter Business Meeting of the Auburndale Review Club, an extra meeting called each January for the purpose of discussing programs for the coming year, was held last Tuesday morning at the home of Miss Margaret Haskell, of 5 Vista avenue. Plans for the coming Guest Night, which will be in charge of the Program committee, were discussed. The chairman, Mrs. Richard O. Walter, has the assistance of Mrs. Frank F. Davidson and Mrs. Charles S. Grover.

In response to their names at the Roll-Call, the president, Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, asked each member to respond with topics for next year, and later when a straw vote was taken, the choice was for a continuance of this year's topic, Current Literature. A short play closed the morning's program. The leading parts in this play, which was a Spanish one, were taken by Mrs. Arthur C. Farley and Mrs. Stephen E. Wright, assisted by Mrs. J. Franklin Leland and Mrs. Harold Knowlton. The meeting then adjourned to meet one week later at the home of Mrs. Wickliffe J. Spaulding, 429 Wolcott street.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

lin, a student of Professor Therman, gave a program on this new instrument, named for its inventor, the therman. Mr. Tulin gave a similar program last May when the State Federation of Women's Clubs held its Annual Meeting at Swampscott. Assisting in the program before the Club, were Mr. George Boynton, a tenor soloist at Trinity Church and a member of the Handel and Haydn Society, accompanied on the piano by Mr. Reginald Boardman, an outstanding accompanist in this vicinity. Mrs. Edgar O. Butz, chairman of the Music committee of the Club, was chairman for the day.

Tea was served at the close of the Musical by the Hospitality committee of which Mrs. George W. St. Amant is chairman.

Two group meetings of the Club this week held much of interest.

Garden plants, with the proper places and times for planting, was the subject of a very informal talk before the Garden Group of the Auburndale Woman's Club last Monday afternoon. The hostess, Mrs. Ruth Ingraham, of 39 Holman road, had secured as speaker, a friend, Miss Olive M. Belcher, owner of several acres of fruit trees and flowering shrubs in Framingham, called the Cherry Meadow Gardens. Miss Belcher pictured for her audience a garden in which flowers would make the best year-round appearance. She started with the crocuses, daffodils, and tulips, through the summer blossoms, the many kinds of phlox, larkspurs and sweet-scented heliotropes and mignonne, and ended with the late-blooming chrysanthemums. A very busy question period followed the talk, during which Miss Belcher took up personal problems. A social hour, with refreshments served by the hostess, closed the afternoon's program.

The second group meeting consisted of a talk on proper foods for the formation of teeth, not only for young children, but also for expectant mothers, which was given at the home of Mrs. Charles P. DeWitt, of 378 Central street, on last Monday evening. This was the regular monthly meeting sponsored by the American Home committee of the Club, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert E. Holmes. The speaker for the evening was Miss Ruth White, of the Forsyth Dental Clinic. The chairman is assisted in this American Home work by Mrs. E. Graham Bates, Mrs. Paul A. Chandler, Mrs. W. P. DeWitt, Mrs. H. Alfred Hansen, Mrs. Bradley L. Hill, and Mrs. Ralph E. Keyes. A social hour followed the lecture.

A delegation of the Echo Bridge society attended the Young People's Branch at Sharon last summer. The organization at Upper Falls is sponsored by the Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union and Dr. N. Louise Rand organized the Y. P. B. in October.

The officers are President, Dorothy Hartshorn; vice-president, Vaughn Shedd; secretary, Grace Nichols; treasurer, Ruth Newey; and Press, Donald Newey.

CENTRAL CHURCH WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION

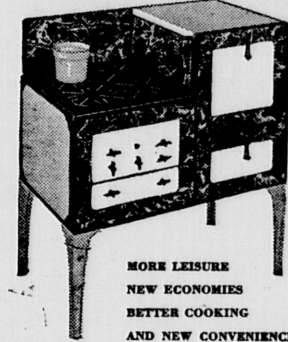

The Annual Meeting of the Woman's Association of Central Church was held Wednesday, January 6th. During the morning the members gathered at work tables for sewing and the making of surgical dressings. At one o'clock luncheon was served with Mrs. A. P. Martin in charge in place of the chairman Mrs. G. E. Fisher who was unable to be present. Tables were tastefully decorated in rose color by Mrs. A. D. Salinger and her serving committee.

After luncheon the hymn "Fling Out the Banner" was sung. Mrs. C. G. Edwards playing the accompaniment. Devotions were led by Mrs. R. S. Merrill who voiced the regret of Mr. Merrill at not being able to be present to give the address as announced. Dr. Brewer Eddy took his place as speaker and the Association extended to him a hearty welcome. Dr. Eddy called upon the women to show courage in these days of uncertainty and to meet their problems cheerfully, not adding to the burdens of the harassed men of their households. "Bottle up your doubts, spare them your perplexities, give them the best." Greater spiritual power comes in times of depression. "Lay hold on spiritual forces as never before. know brighter days coming." Turning to the missionary field, Dr. Eddy gathered from his desk notes on encouraging incidents; the gathering of 2200 Student Volunteers at Buffalo; Walter Judd fearlessly facing bandits in China; Frank Laubach spreading enlightenment among the ignorant Moro tribes in the Philippines; the expansion of the work at Capron Hall where Miss Abbe Wallace, the missionary of the Association, is teaching. Our missions are producing leadership, adopting progressive measures and lifting the level of backward races.

Mrs. H. M. Waybright read the annual report, and Miss Emma Miller, treasurer, gave her report. Mrs. W. E. Strong spoke in behalf of the work of the Woman's Seaman's Friend Society. The report of the nominating committee was given by the chairman, Mrs. Ellison G. Day. It was accepted and the secretary was instructed to cast the ballot. Mrs. Walter Kelley moved that a vote of appreciation be extended to the outgoing officers, and expressed the feeling of the Association in regard to the retiring president, Mrs. Chambers, who has carried on so efficiently though now living in Framingham. "It is with a feeling of relief, anticipation and expectation that I hand the gavel to Mrs. Decatur," said Mrs. Chambers. Mrs. Decatur referred to her previous term as president which she entered ten years ago. "The changes have brought us richness of life to pass on." TO PRESENT COMEDY

The Newton Dramatic Club will present on Saturday evening, January 23rd, the comedy, "Behold This Dreamer" in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House. The play is the story of a young man full of the vision of the beautiful in art and music who is caught in the vulgar realities of a commonplace life. The part of the Dreamer is taken by Donald Charlton. In the original play Glenn Hunter took the part. The prosaic wife and father solve the impossible mystery by putting the dreamer in a sanitarium for mildly insane and it is in the scenes where the inmates make friends with the incarcerated dreamer that the fantastic comedy and pathos alternate. Mr. John Hiller will interpret the part of Dr. Tanneysday, the German inmate who leads the group of strange folk in the asylum. Melodie, the exquisite young creature whom the Dreamer finds there, will be acted by Mariada Comer. The other actors are Mr. H. J. Pettengill, Jr., Miss Muriel Pearce, Mrs. Elsie Walsh, Mr. Edgar Swail, Mr. A. Hurford Crosman, Mr. Robert Reed and Mr. Harry Cummings. This play is coached by Mrs. Everett W. Varney.

"Behold this Dreamer" is anything but an ordinary play. There is irony, vision, originality. It possesses imaginative beauty with a delightful whimsical twist. There are echoes of Pirandello in the exchange of reality and fiction, and there is poetic fantasy in the mad scenes that stick in your mind. One will leave the theatre more tolerant of those who have the vision to see ideals—and rather pitying the unfortunate who believe that only the sordid realities constitute life.

TO PRESENT THREE PLAYS

The Village Players will entertain members and their guests on Friday evening, January 22nd, at 8:00 p. m., with a program of three one-act plays. This is the usual monthly workshop meeting when members are given the opportunity to take part in acting, producing and play-writing. The first play, "Katydids," by Kathryn W. Ford, will be the eighth original play to be produced by the Village Players. Included in the cast are Miss Ruth Parmelee, Mrs. Annie Eastman, Mrs. Foster Cousins and Mrs. William Loos. Mrs. Montague P. Ford, assisted by Mrs. Otis A. Ward, will direct the play, which is staged by Mrs. Everett C. Winslow.

The cast of the second play, "20,000 Cash," by Nathan Chatterton, is made up of Miss Mollie Draper, Miss Ruth Burns, Mrs. Wesley Dines and Mr. Frank Woolway. It is directed by Mrs. Lawrence C. Farwell and staged by Mr. and Mrs. Worthing L. West.

The third play, "Thursday Evening," by Christopher Morley, will be presented by a little theatre group from Dedham, known as "The Play Givers of Dedham." This is a new venture and as an exchange of courtesies, the Village Players plan to present "The Robbery" by Clare Kummer on two evenings in February at Dedham. This plan is expected to be profitable and stimulating to both groups. The cast of the guest players includes Mrs. Irving Bedell, Miss Margaret Boyd, Miss Patty Brown and Mr. Dan Tracy. Mrs. Otis C. Nash will direct the production and Miss Elizabeth Smith is stage manager.

Mrs. Fred D. Bond and Mrs. M. M. Webber will be in charge of the social hour which will follow the presentation of the plays.

Businessmen Hear Talk on Voting by Prof. L. J. Johnson

Proportional Representation System Is Simple

The regular monthly meeting of the Newton Business Associates was held Tuesday evening at Perry's Lunch Room. The prizes for the Christmas window decorating contest were awarded as follows—1st prize, Newton Corner Men's Shop; 2nd prize, Newton Corner Hardware Company; 3rd prize, James R. Blankenship.

The members discussed the need of more parking space at Newton Corner. The speaker of the evening was Prof. Lewis J. Johnson whose subject was "Better Government for Cities." Prof. Johnson advocated the Proportional Representation type of government for cities. He said that although Americans have agreed to adopt this type of government because of its seeming simplicity, actual experience with it in Cleveland, Cincinnati and Hamilton, Ohio, as well as in the Irish Free State Parliament has proven that it is simple, practical and successful.

He said it is better than the usual system of choosing representatives because it is fair—minorities are sure of proportionate representation in city governments; it reduces campaign slander, cuts down the cost of being a successful candidate, brings the ablest and most trusted citizens into public life. It gives a better outlook for orderly progress; it is better adapted to developing real leaders rather than office-holders; it makes the ballot of greater interest to the voters; it does away with the primary. It makes a city council a truly representative town meeting.

Busses on Pearl St. Route Again

Pearl street, Newton, between Peabody and Centre streets, which was closed to vehicular traffic for several months because of the work on the big main for the Metropolitan Water District, was again opened the first of this week. The street is in poor shape for automobile traffic and will continue so until the filled-in trench settles. The busses of the Middlesex & Boston company which have been routed through Centre street since Peabody street was closed some months ago have been routed through Peabody and Pearl streets since Wednesday afternoon and are again making their terminus in front of the Stevens Building on Centre street. This relieves traffic congestion on Centre avenue and on Centre street in front of the Whitman and Sumner Buildings.

Sampson was discharged several months ago from the sewer division for insubordination. He appealed to the Civil Service Commission and the first of this week the announcement was made that the Street Commissioner Stuart in discharging Sampson.

D.R. Chapter Holds Interesting Meeting

The January meeting of the Nathan Fuller Chapter, D. R., was held on the twelfth at the home of its organizer, Mrs. Adelbert Fernald, 63 Elmhurst road, Newton. The vice-regent, Miss Barbara Estabrook, presided, and opened the meeting with the customary salute to the flag.

Mrs. Henry Cross told of sending boxes from the chapter to fifteen Newton boys and handkerchiefs to two nurses in the veterans' hospitals. Also at Christmas time handkerchiefs were sent to the twenty-five ladies in the Stone Institute.

Mrs. Edgar Wilson, chairman of Americanization work in the chapter, reported on an after-Christmas party held at the Emerson School for the mothers in the Americanization class and their children. The mothers played games and had small prizes and there were presents for the children. Refreshments were served to forty-eight.

The executive board recommended the gift of $35 to the Mayor's Relief Committee of Newton.

Mrs. Henry Cross was appointed auditor for the year.

The annual meeting of the chapter was set for Feb. 9 at the home of Mrs. Philip Horne, 9 Barnes road, Newton.

Mrs. Adelbert Fernald, the organizer of the Nathan Fuller Chapter, told of a plan of the national society to plant thirteen trees, one for each original colony, around the society's memorial at Valley Forge. If possible, this will be done at the annual meeting of the society which is to be held in Philadelphia next May. If the park commissioner will permit the trees to be planted around the memorial as part of the bicentennial celebration of the birth of George Washington, the Nathan Fuller chapter has voted to give one of the trees.

Mrs. Clarence E. Mansur, the state regent, told of the work of the state society since the beginning of the year.

Mrs. George H. Plummer, the district vice-regent, expressed her pleasure at meeting with the chapter.

Mrs. F. Alfred Patterson described to some extent the series of tableaux which are to be held at Symphony Hall on Feb. 6 in honor of George Washington's bicentennial. The tableaux are to present various episodes in the life of Washington and have been arranged with great care by the committee. It is hoped that members of the Nathan Fuller chapter and their husbands will take part in the minut which is to be one of the episodes.

Mrs. Lewis Pike of Wellesley sang three soprano solos. Mrs. George W. Bricker, one of the Nathan Fuller members, played piano solos. Dr. Adelbert Fernald gave a most interesting lecture on his work with Macmillan in the north illustrated by slides and moving pictures. After the lecture he showed pieces of carved ivory and costumes made by the Eskimos.

During the social hour which followed Mrs. Clarence E. Mansur, State regent, and Mrs. George H. Plummer, district vice-regent, poured and were assisted by Mrs. Richard Brown, Mrs. Thomas Cleveland, Mrs. Henry Cross and Mrs. Donald Gibbs.

A. O. H.

The regular meeting of Division No. 22, L. A. A. O. H. of Newton, Mass., was held in the Bay State Hall, Centre street, on Friday evening, January 8, with the President, Mrs. Mary Murphy presiding, only routine business was transacted as a Christmas party was in progress.

Little Betty Marden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marden, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Eddy street, West Newton, entertained with songs and dances.

Plans were made to attend the County Board meeting on Sunday, Jan. 10, 1932, Division No. 22, of Newton was represented by six of its members who joined with other divisions in attending the meeting at Maynard. Those who attended were Mrs. Mary Murphy, Mrs. Mary Mann, Mrs. Annie Pollock, Mrs. Mary Coffey, Mrs. Anna O'Donnell and Mrs. Daniel O'Connell. The next County Board meeting will be held at Cambridge at a date to be announced later in April.

Views On New Parkway Extension

During the next few weeks we shall present the views of various persons interested in the extension of the Hammond Woods Parkway in the columns of the Graphic. Lack of space this week prevents the publication of further views of those who appeared at the recent hearing on this important matter. In our column "Letters To The Editor" will be found a letter from one of the residents of the Hobart Road section through which it is proposed to locate this route.

Letters To The Editor

THE HOBART ROAD PARKWAY

To the Editor:

In consideration of the question whether or not the Hammond Wood Parkway should be extended from Beacon street to Commonwealth avenue, either along Hobart road or along Hobart, Intervale, and Bishopsgate roads, it is well to bear in mind that the residents along the proposed route owning over $500,000 worth of property, unanimously oppose the plan, and that many other residents in the vicinity are also against it. Their opposition is not based solely on selfish grounds, but on broader theories of fairness and of sound engineering.

They feel that if it is wise to send the new parkway through back land from Hammond and Lagrange streets, to Beacon street, in order to relieve traffic on Hammond street (and certainly none can quarrel with this reasoning), it is quite illogical to deliver this traffic into the highly developed Hobart road district, thereby changing a residential area into a traffic artery region in an exact reversal of the improvement being made on Hammond street.

Along Hobart road, the houses are much nearer the road than on Hammond street. Under the proposed plan, the new boulevard would be brought within 15 or 18 feet of several houses in which there are children, and which were built in the particular region because of the seclusion afforded. If, for reasons of safety and good appearance, houses may not be built within 25 feet of the road, should not a busy traffic artery be kept at least that distance from the homes?

The route from Beacon street to Commonwealth avenue would be tortuous, whether the one-way or two-way traffic plan were adopted. This would come at the end of a broad, almost straight boulevard running two miles or more through the woods—inevitably a speedway—and the discharge of traffic into a crooked, bottleneck passage to Commonwealth avenue would be dangerous both to the automobile operators and the residents along the way.

Furthermore, the traffic would be delivered on Commonwealth avenue at a most disadvantageous spot, blind on one side, and in the middle of one of the most pronounced grades along the avenue.

The whole plan, involving the delivery of traffic from Beacon street to the northern side of Newton, should be conceived as a unit, and not merely as it involves the section between Beacon street and Commonwealth avenue. Not only Hobart road, but any possible alternative routes should have the fullest investigation before any choice is made. If, after thorough study has been given to all practicable routes, it is found that the boulevard must go along Hobart road, the residents will of course recognize that the benefit to the many outweighs the injury to the few.

Very truly yours,
RICHARD B. COLE.

Rotary Club

The six objects of Rotary were interestingly discussed at the regular Monday meeting of the Newton Rotary Club at the Woodland Golf Club this week by Elmer E. Hubbard, a member of the Pawtucket, R. I. Club and Past Governor of that District. He was introduced by Fred Teele, chairman of the Rotary Education committee.

The speaker classed Rotary as the most altruistic movement ever known since the advent of Jesus Christ and told briefly of its growth from a handful of friends surrounding a single table to the thousands now surrounding the earth. "The survival of Rotary depends not upon the mechanics or growth but on the extent to which each club takes in community life. Rotary is an aggregation of individuals translated into worthwhile action and its future rests primarily upon the individual citizen who learns the principles which led to its birth," he said in part.

The sixth principle of Rotary, the advancement of understanding of good will and international peace, means Rotary International. It can not be accomplished if too much attention is paid to the mechanics of differences. The scourge of war can only be done away with by learning the great principle that in the final analysis all men are the same sort of folk. This principle is applicable to the community, the state, the nation and the world.

Kiwanis Club

Young men who are sorry for having individual crimes which land them in jail should remember the old Danish proverb: "If you don't like the Sound of the Bell, why do you pull the rope?" This is the opinion of the Rev. Robert Walker, Chaplain at the Concord Reformatory, who was the principal speaker on Tuesday at the regular luncheon of the Newton Kiwanis Club. Dr. Walker, who has been connected with the reformatory for the past 21 years, was introduced by Thomas H. Burns, a boyhood acquaintance.

"Prison officials come in for a great deal of criticism," declared Dr. Walker, "because young men sent to jail don't come out remade. The church has failed to properly mould these men, the home has failed, school has failed, society has failed, and yet the world expects that a man who serves 15 months of a five-year sentence in prison should be reformed in that short period. It can't be done, but by trying in every way, by the use of trades and training, educational instruction, good food, entertainment and improved environment, to reach the good in every person, we are succeeding."

Charles A. Mahoney, president, was in charge of the meeting and a song-session was led by Edward N. Griffin. The 17th anniversary of Kiwanis, which was founded January 21, 1915, was observed by the club. Luncheon will be omitted at next week's meeting which will be held at 6:30 o'clock in the evening in Temple Hall, Newtonville. A special program, to be announced later, will be presented at that meeting.

MAN HURT AT NEW CITY HALL

Andrew Dorsey of 14 Cummings Rd., Newton Centre, employed as a steam-fitter at the new city hall was injured Tuesday when a brick fell off a staging and hit him on the head. He was knocked unconscious and was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

CHANNING GUILD

Mrs. George Woodman will speak at the next meeting of the Channing Guild to be held at the home of Mrs. Richard Marshall, 18 Vernon street, Newton, on Sunday, January 24 at 5:30 p. m. Mrs. Woodman, who is familiar with the conditions existing in the Far East, will address the group on the "Orient." She will illustrate her lecture with souvenirs of her various sojourns in the Orient. Members of the Channing Guild and their friends are invited to attend this meeting.

On Sunday, February 7, the Guild will have charge of the morning service at the Channing Church. The sermon will be preached by Mr. Stanley Skinner, a member of the Channing Guild. The proceeds of the collection are to go to the Young People's Religious Union.

Rev. Drummond Given Important Appointment

As Minister-at-Large Of Unitarian Fraternity

Rev. Chester A. Drummond, who closed his service of ten years for Channing Church, January 1, has been chosen by the Benevolent Fraternity of Unitarian Churches to be its minister-at-large in the city of Boston and has entered upon his new work, which is to include the duties of minister of Bulfinch Place Church and superintendent of Parker Memorial. The position is one for which Mr. Drummond is notably fitted by interest and experience, calling for wide knowledge of social service, high capacity as a preacher, and abundant human sympathy. His first position on graduating from Meadville Theological School was as resident worker in a social settlement in Pittsburgh, Pa. In the World War he served overseas with the Y. M. C. A. His gifts in pageantry and the drama have contributed to his success throughout his twenty-five years in the ministry. Mr. Drummond was the unanimous choice of the Fraternity directors, who had devoted nearly a year to a study of the field after the resignation of Rev. Christopher R. Elliot.

The Benevolent Fraternity, organized in 1834 to maintain the ministry-at-large, which had been founded by Rev. Joseph Tuckerman in 1826, is the active agency of the Unitarian body in Greater Boston for social service. While conducting two Unitarian churches—Bulfinch place in the West End and Channing Church in Dorchester—it carries on undenominational settlement work at the North End Union on Parmenter street, with a summer camp at Oldham pond. It also conducts the Fruit and Flower Mission, with headquarters at Horticultural Hall. The name "Parker Memorial," originally identified with the church on Berkeley street built in memory of Theodore Parker, is now attached to Bulfinch Place Church, in which both organizations pursue their special functions. Located in the midst of a foreign population, the ministry-at-large carries on its work, to quote the words of its former leader Dr. Elliot, "with a wide sympathy of profound respect for others' belief, and a willingness to serve wherever there is need in the spirit of universal good will."

Mr. Drummond was born in Waterbury, Conn., March 14, 1882. Prior to coming to Newton he was minister of Unitarian churches in Norwell, Littleton, and Somerville, Mass., and New Orleans. Mr. and Mrs. Drummond will continue to reside in Newton, keeping their present home at 9 Billings park. Their son, Norman, a graduate of the Proctor Academy, is in the second year of his course in Antioch College.

Many Employees Are Laid Off

Last Saturday afternoon 150 employees of the Newton Street Department had notices left at their homes which read "You are hereby notified that your employment has ceased temporarily on account of lack of work." These notices were signed by George E. Stuart, Street Commissioner and were sent out following a conference between Mr. Stuart and Mayor Weeks. The 150 men thus added to the already large number of unemployed in Newton are of the 200 city employees placed on half-time employment on December 14. At that time information given out by the Mayor's office was to the effect that these 200 city employees were placed on half-time so that 100 men would not be laid off. Now, 150 of the 200 are without employment from the city and the other 50 are on half-time.

It is contended that although there is no street construction work to keep the discharged men at work, there is plenty that they could be doing. For years the streets of this city have not been kept clean. The fault of the Street Department as the appropriation for street maintenance has been pared down in each year's budget. The result is that there is plenty of work available to properly clean Newton's streets and keep them clean. Many catch-basins could be cleaned out, gravel sidewalks repaired and other similar work done. The weather permits of such work; there being no frost in the ground. The City of Boston is cleaning its streets at this time and this work is providing employment not only for hundreds of regular employees of the Boston Street Department, but also for 3200 unemployed in that city.

Plan Traffic Circle As a Memorial To Washington

At its meeting on Tuesday night the Newton Planning Board voted to recommend to Mayor Weeks that the city construct a traffic circle this year at the intersection of Commonwealth avenue and Washington street, Auburndale. The park in the center of this circle would be about 200 feet in diameter and the place could be constituted as this city's memorial to Washington in this bicentennial year. There is a growing need for better traffic facilities at this place because of the increased traffic which will come from the proposed Boston & Worcester turnpike, diverted at Wellesley.

Legion Installs H. D. Ames As Post Commander

Awards Medal—Announce Big Drive to Aid Unemployed

The annual installation of officers of Newton Post No. 48, American Legion, was held Saturday evening, at the Levi Warren Junior High School, West Newton. Harold D. Ames was installed as Commander succeeding Commander Francis J. Barry.

Arthur R. McCarthy, welfare officer of the post, was awarded the distinguished service medal of the organization for his work during the last four years. State Commander S. J. Garrity presented the medal and told of the Newton officers efforts in settling the insurance claims of 900 veterans, the uniting of several veterans with their relatives, and the caring for children and widows of deceased veterans. The award is considered one of the highest within the province of a local post to award.

Department Vice Commander Frank H. Foy and his prize winning degree team of Quincy Post, was in charge of the installation. Newton Post No. 48 American Legion Band furnished the music, and the Ladies' Drum and Bugle Corps of Newton Post Auxiliary gave an exhibition drill.

Among the guests for the evening were Commander William Mick and members of Charles Ward Post, G. A. R., Commander Fred Fanning and members of Thomas Burnett Camp, U. S. W. V., Mrs. Francis Cannon and members of Newton Post Auxiliary, Department Commander Stephen Garrity, County Commander Daniel Doherty, Commissioner of State Aids and Pensions Richard Flynn, Deputy Commissioner Dennis Haverly, Mayor Sinclair Weeks, Speaker Everett Saltonstall, Senator Arthur Hollis, Commanders John Walsh of Waltham Post, Commander Leo Landry of Waverly Post, members of neighboring Legion Posts, city officials, and members of the city government.

The other officers installed were First Vice Commander Robert L. Cunningham, Second Vice Commander Edward R. Ennis, Chaplain Rev. Ray A. Emsen, Finance Officer Dr. Irving W. House, Clifford S. J. White, Frank R. Gaw, Ralph Heald, Henry T. Seaver, Percy I. Merry, Richard Capstick, John H. Cavanaugh, Patrick J. Lehane, John H. Sheridan, and J. William Scott.

The legion post in co-operation with the Mayor's Relief Committee has announced the adoption of a unique plan to aid in relieving the local unemployment situation. Several members of the local post have arranged with Leo McCollum, the famous American war poet, who is at present engaged in a series of special radio broadcasts from Boston, and the publishers of his book, "The Lost Battalion," to discontinue their customary sales in this vicinity. The Newton Post has taken a quantity of these books and next Monday morning will put one hundred men on a drive to sell these books, all profit from which will be turned over to the local relief committee.

$25,000 Award Against Graham In Damage Suit

James J. Graham of Old Colony road, Chestnut Hill, was ordered to pay $25,054 by a jury in the Norfolk County Superior Court at Dedham last Friday to Mrs. Bronia Chemielinski and Henry Chemielinski of Brookline. Of this amount $1950 was to Mr. Chemielinski and the balance to Mrs. Chemielinski. The woman and her husband had brought suit for $210,000 against young Graham for causing the deaths of their two daughters, Bernice and Jeanette. The two young women were passengers in Graham's car on Thanksgiving eve, 1928, enroute from Cohasset to their Brookline home. According to testimony Graham's car overturned on the Southern Artery in Quincy while travelling at terrific speed and rolled over three times. One of the girls died shortly after at the Quincy Hospital and her sister died some days later. Testimony also showed that shortly before the fatal accident, Graham ignored a policeman's signal to stop, turned off the lights of his car and sped on. Graham's attorney has asked for a new trial, alleging that the verdict was against the law, against the evidence and the damages awarded excessive.

MOVES TO NEW QUARTERS
The Newton District Nursing Association has moved into its new home at 297 Walnut street, near the corner of Austin street, Newtonville, a neighbor to the Girl Scout headquarters. The growth of the work rendered the rooms at 12 Austin street inadequate and the removal to larger quarters necessary. Each year has shown an increase in the calls upon the District Nurse and the demand this winter proves to reach its high water mark.

Plan Gala Ice Carnival At Crystal Lake

Races, Figure Skating And Hockey on Program

In perpetuation of the Pageant idea, successfully stated at Newton Centre in June of the Tercenary year, and for the promotion of general interest in all outdoor arts and recreation, the Newton Civic Arts Association, in co-operation with the Playground Department, and various other civic bodies, will stage a mid-winter afternoon and evening Ice Carnival at Crystal Lake on Saturday, February 6th, ice and weather conditions permitting. The plans call for scenes of rare interest with flood lighting, shore bonfire illumination, music and refreshments as features of the general plan.

Newton's ice skating facilities, for many years so skillfully maintained by the Playground Department at Crystal Lake, Bullough's Pond, and elsewhere, have developed among citizens, young and old alike, a real appreciation of the thrill of outdoor exercise in mid-winter. The cozy, well-heated building at Crystal Lake, designed for winter as well as summer rendezvous, has, once for all, removed the old-fashioned dread of the cold. Its blazing open fire suggests the comforts of the old New England wayside inn. Here one finds all needed checking facilities and other conveniences.

The Carnival Program will include a series of ice-skating races and special hockey games in which some of the participants will be nationally known figures. Edgar W. Crosby of West Newton, a former Harvard hockey captain, is in charge of the hockey game, speed racing and figure skating program. In the afternoon he has arranged for a game between the Harvard Varsity Seconds and a team to be composed of ex-college stars.

Many former captains and almost all former and present Newton residents. The lineup of this sextet will be definitely announced later. The speed races will be divided into those for local competition and those for imported talent. There will be 100-yd., 220-yd. and quarter-mile events for local boys in three classes while the girls' events will be divided into two classes. Other competitive events will be staged by invited members of the Boston Skating and Boston Olympic Clubs. Prizes will be offered for first, second and third places. If there is sufficient interest there will be local competition in fancy and couple skating in addition to that staged by the nationally known skaters who will grace the occasion. Many of our nationally famous figure skaters also are either Newton citizens or citizens of Greater Boston. Some of them will give exhibitions of fancy skating and rhythmic dancing. There will be pageantry and floats, reviews of winter customs and winter costumes, the ancient horse-drawn sleighs of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, the costumes of Washington's time, appropriate to this birthday bi-centenary, and other exhibitions. There will be good music and refreshments.

There will be a small entrance fee for the various competitive events which will include the admission charge to the affair making it possible for those who enter an event to witness either the afternoon or evening program without additional charge. Entries are being accepted at the Playground Dept., City Hall or by Mr. Leo Hughes, director at Bulough's Pond, John Leary, director at Crystal Lake or by Gilbert Champagne, director at Pulsifer's Cove, Auburndale.

The south shores of the lake will afford clear views of all feature events for those who do not desire to mingle among the skaters. For those who enjoy skating there will be ample opportunity and complete checking facilities.

Mr. Ernst Hermann, Supt. of Playgrounds, is in charge of the affair. Mr. Edward E. Whiting and Mr. Charles E. Hatfield are President and Treasurer of the Association. Others actively interested are Messrs. Charles B. Floyd and Sidney Holden of the Board of Aldermen; Mrs. Arthur W. Lane and Miss Anne Bunker of Auburndale; Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., Mr. Hassler Capron, and Mr. Albert Spauld of Newton Centre; Dr. Ray A. Emsen and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Henry of Newton; Mrs. Percy E. Woodward of Newtonville, and Mr. Edgar Crosby of West Newton.

Any Newton organization, group or individual who would be interested to put on a special float or costume number, who knows where the loan of interesting historic features or costumes might be secured or who has other ideas he would be glad to share with the management of the enterprise, may communicate with Mr. Hermann.

Senior Class Play

The Senior Class of Newton High School will present, "You Never Can Tell," by Bernard Shaw on Friday afternoon, January 22 at 2:45 and Saturday evening, January 23, at 8:15. Dr. George A. Land of Newtonville is the general chairman and Miss Helen E. Nute of the English Department is the coach.

The members of the cast are: Elizabeth Harris, Vincent Wentworth, Kate Black, Robert Ashley, Marian Willard, Edward Campbell, John Foley, Philip Layton, Kathryn Brown, Philip Andrews, Thurman Philloin.

Bond Issue to Meet Cost of County Hospital; Buy More Land at Water Reservation

Mayor Asks For Reappointment of Several Officials At Meeting Which Is Late In Starting

A regular meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen was held on Monday night. The meeting was scheduled to start at 7:45 and persons who might wish to favor or oppose petitions for hearings were supposed to be there at the scheduled hour. Fortunately few citizens were present, as the meeting did not commence until 8:45, because of the fact that the Aldermen have started at the beginning of this year doing just what they have been promising for a number of years not to do—holding committee meetings on the nights of Board meetings instead of holding such committee meetings on other nights in advance, as they are supposed to be held. The Licenses Committee is one standing committee of the Aldermen which functions faithfully by regularly meeting on at least two Wednesday nights each month to consider matters coming before it. Section 12 of the Rules and Orders of the Board of Aldermen has for years been persistently ignored. This section reads: "No committee shall sit later than 6 o'clock in the afternoon of any day on which the Board of Aldermen meets, unless previously authorized by said Board, or by the President."

The following hearings were announced by President Collins at the meeting on Monday night:

Edison Electric Illuminating Co. of Boston and New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. of Massachusetts, joint pole locations, Hillsdale Avenue, north of Mt. Vernon Street, Ward 3, two poles.

Edison and Telephone Companies, joint pole locations, poles originally set in a private way which is now a public street: Converse Avenue, Ward 1, between Centre Street and Concord Avenue, six poles; Adams Avenue, Ward 3, between the Newton-Waltham line and Milton Street, seven poles; Adena Road, Ward 3, between North Gate Park and Derby Street, three poles; Annapolis Road, Ward 3, easterly from Cherry Street, two poles; westerly from Waltham Street, four poles; Ellis Road, Ward 3, easterly from Wauwinet Road, two poles; westerly from Valentine Street, five poles; Allen Avenue, Ward 5, between Beacon Street and Avalon Road, six poles; Angier Circle, Ward 5, approximately 15 feet each of Washington Street, one pole; Baldrate Hill Road, Ward 5, westerly from Brookline Street, eight poles; Canterbury Road, Ward 5, easterly from Bacon Place, four poles; Beatrice Weeks, for permit to install an underground tank with pump at 97 Valentine Street, Ward 3; and to keep store and use gasoline in connection therewith, 300 gallons capacity, for private use only; Edward J. Warner, for permit to construct and maintain a Garage Repair Shop, 3-car capacity, at r-749 Beacon Street, Ward 6.

Alderman Hawkins as chairman of the Licenses Committee, recommended the granting of the following petitions:—private garage permits, Michael Grasso, 27 Pine street; M. J. O'Neill, 19 Foster street; Peter Conley, 217 Hunnewell terrace, auctioneer's license. The Board granted these petitions. The petition of John Lawlor for an auctioneer's license at 10 Pearl Court was refused.

The Board voted to assign a hearing at its next meeting on February 1 on the petition of the Atlantic Refining Company for a permit to conduct a gasoline filling station at 325 Boylston street in the Thompsonville section of Newton Centre. This is near the corner of John street and a similar petition presented by this oil company last December was turned down by the Licenses Committee because the committee, with the exception of Alderman Woodcock, thought the proposed station ought to be located on the opposite corner of Boylston and John streets.

A number of reappointments of city officials were received from Mayor Weeks. These included—Lewis H. Bacon, chairman of Board of Appeals, Building Laws, term of 3 years from March 16; Herbert J. Kellaway and Dr. Edward Mellus, members of Planning Board, terms of 3 years each from February 5; Clarence W. Randlett, Forest Warden and Inspector of Petroleum for 1 year; George E. Stuart, Supt. of Gypsy and Brownlenth moth suppression for year 1932; Assistant Assessors for 1932: Ralph Lafite, William E. Flynn, Frederick L. Smith, Oscar Reed; Director of Public Welfare for 1932, Florence S. Fitzgerald; Dr. C. A. Boutelle, Inspector of Animals for 1 year from April 1; Albert H. MacAuslan, member of Board of Assessors for term of 3 years from February 2.

On the Mayor's recommendation and with the approval of the Finance Committee, the Board voted to authorize a bond issue of $300,000 for 15 years to meet the assessment levied on the City of Newton by the County of Middlesex as this city's share of the new county tuberculosis hospital at Waltham. Another bond issue authorized by the Board of Aldermen was one of $200,000 for term of 15 years. These bonds are to provide funds for improvements in Newton's water system. These improvements will include a large main along Boylston street, necessitated by the construction of the Boston and Worcester automobile highway, and the elimination of many dead-end water mains. This last will prevent water becoming rusty, smelly and disagreeable to the taste, according to the belief of Water Commissioner Ellis and other experts.

On recommendation of the Public Works and Finance Committees, the Board voted to appropriate $23,327 for the purchase of 22 acres of land along the Charles River at Needham. This land is part of the extensive holdings of J. H. McNamara and has been used for some years as sand and gravel pits. It borders the Newton water reservation from a point about 700 feet east of Needham street to Kenrick street. The land to be acquired by this city will increase the depth of the strip now owned by Newton by 300 feet. The reasons advanced for the purchase of this land by the city are—that it will serve to protect the city's water supply from undesirable encroachment by private development, and will allow the construction of additional basins into which more water can be pumped from the Charles River to seep through deep strata of sand and gravel into the gathering conduit which provides much of Newton's water supply.

Chairman of the Water Supply Committee, told the Board that it is expected that between 1,000,000 and 2,000,000 additional gallons of water daily will be procured after the newly acquired land has been developed for water basins.

It was voted to take the $23,327 from this year's water revenue, instead of paying for this permanent improvement by a bond issue, as is usually done. Other appropriations were: John Hannigan, $951.86; Bernard Hannon, $777.68; Charles Tainter, retired policeman, $1056.10. It was voted to authorize the bonding of Francis Newhall as City Treasurer and Tax Collector for the amount of $91,200 with Massachusetts Bonding & Insurance Company as surety.

The Aldermen voted to approve certain loans on mortgages on real estate submitted by the trustees of the Horace Conson Fund. A communication was received from the Newton School Committee recommending an addition to the Bigelow School at Newton which will, if recommended by the Mayor and approved by the Aldermen, provide 6 classrooms and a cafeteria and give facilities for 250 pupils. A communication was received from the Socialist Party of Massachusetts asking the Board to support certain bills now before the Legislature. A petition was received from Benedetto Genarzio asking that land bounded by Eliot street, Margaret road and Circuit avenue be changed from general residence to business zone. Claims were received from Clyde Lembach for damage caused to his automobile by an alleged defect on Washington St., West Newton, and from Wilbur Dillon for injuries caused by an alleged defective highway on Tremont street, Newton. Petitions received for common victualer licenses were received from Leong Ham at 280 Center street, Newton; Abraham Lazarus, 291 Washington street, Newton; Frank McDermott, Needham street, near Winchester street, Newton Highlands.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

PLAY TIE GAME BUT REMAIN ON TOP OF ICE LEAGUE

The Newton High School hockey team was able to play but one game the past week because of the lack of outdoor ice. The sole contest played was at the Boston Garden last week with Medford which ended in a 3 to 3 tie after an exciting battle. Due to the fact that the schoolboys must be off the Garden ice before five o'clock in order that the surface may be prepared for the professional game in the evening no overtime periods are permitted. The tie game failed to affect the standing of the leaders in the league race as Melrose defeated Cambridge Latin 4 to 0 while in other games Arlington topped Belmont 6 to 3 and Stoneham took Rindge into camp by a similar score.

The game marked the official completion of the first round of the race although Newton has yet met Melrose while Melrose has still another game unplayed. All of the teams have at least one game which the mild weather made it impossible to stage while some of the teams have two games on their postponed list.

The Newton-Medford contest last week was the feature game of the afternoon and the game itself was a close exciting battle all the way. Newton was without the services of Jackson Skillings, regular goalie, but "Al" Robinson filled in the gap in great style despite his lack of experience. He made one particularly spectacular stop off Chipman, Medford's high scoring ace.

Charley Haughton scored first for Newton on a solo dash after four minutes of play and just before the first session ended Chipman tied it up. Bob Peckman put Medford out in first in the second period and there it was Dick Kelley's turn to even things. In the final session Duane scored for Newton and Chipman scored a rebound to keep Medford on even terms.

Newton opens the second round tomorrow afternoon at the Garden with Rindge as the opponent. In other games Stoneham meets Melrose, Belmont tackles Cambridge Latin and Medford faces Arlington.

NEWTON FIVE WINS AND LOSES

The Newton High school basketball team played great basketball in a closely contested game at Quincy last Friday afternoon, winning 24 to 22. On Tuesday of this week the orange and black made its second trip away from home going to Somerville where they were defeated in the opening Suburban league game, 25 to 6.

At Quincy Warren Huston led the way with 13 points. Following that game the Newton star became ineligible until the next marking period through unusual circumstances. A short while ago Huston was forced to be absent from school because of quarantine for scarlet fever in the family. He was out more than five days and a school ruling takes him out of athletics. Although he is not falling in any subject his marks in all courses are not high enough to keep him eligible despite the absence from school.

The loss of Huston accounts somewhat for the showing at Somerville but the team as a whole had somewhat of an off day on the floor. Defensively the local lads did well to hold the Somerville leading scorers to the lowest total of any opponent this season.

Next week Wednesday the Newton team goes to Rindge Tech for its second Suburban League game of the season and on Friday entertains Cambridge Latin at Newton in another league affair.

SPORT NOTES

Score For Huskies

Northeastern University opened its track season last Friday at Brown with the Huskies winning the varsity meet, 45 to 27 and the freshman team topping the Bear cubs, 55 to 17. Several local youths aided in the Huskies' victories. Curtis Scott of Newtonville won the high jump at 5 ft. 9 in. One of the upsets of the meet came in the 1000 when Jimmie McCradden of Newtonville, the favorite, was nipped at the finish by Schroeder of Brown. In the yearling meet George Lamb, ex-Newton distance star, won the mile.

MEET BROOKLINE ON NEWTON TRACK TOMORROW

At the Newton track tomorrow afternoon the orange and black runners will face Brookline high in the first of the home and away meets these schools arrange annually, total points to count. Although Newton has not lost either half of this meet since 1928 when the Wealthy Towners won the first half of the affair, 42 to 35 and tied the second meeting with 36 points each many of the duals have been closely fought. Last year the strong Newton outfit piled up a total of more than 100 points in the two meetings to set a new record. On paper it looks as though the score of tomorrow's meet should be close to 39 to 38 with the winner, the team which can produce three place winners enough to swing the balance.

In the dash Sloan and Cohen will be inches apart at the tape with John Feola or Bill Terry having a possible chance to pick up third against Brookline. Cohen placed second to Holmes in the dashes last year with Sloan third and Cohen to make the Brookline sprinter a slight favorite.

With the visitors getting a 6 to 3 lead in the dash Stan Johnson must win over Milton Paisner of Brookline with Bill Cusumano or another Newton hurdler picking up a third in order to even the count.

Captain Jimmy Cahill and Sloan are picked to put Newton out in front with the first two places in the 300 although Cohen and Paisner may upset the dope. Frank Tuschler is Coach Enoch's other hope in the 300 and if he can come through to blank the Brookline lads in this event it might well be the turning point of the meet.

The 600-yard run is conceded to Brookline with Captain Enright leading the way to Willie Mullen of Newton. Hall is Brookline's likely third place winner although Joe Pescosolido may enter Newton's list of heroes by blazing through with the third place point.

Eddie Ray of Brookline is the favorite in the 1,000-yard run with Tom Fitzgerald and Roger Maynard taking the other places for Newton.

Newton has less strength in the field events than for some years past and in these events Brookline hopes to pile up enough points to swing the tide of victory. Johnson should take first place in the broad jump over the two Plotkin brothers from Brookline. Tom Malloy is looked upon for second place in the shot put with Schwartz the winner and Hall third. Schwartz should repeat in the high jump for Brookline's double winner while Hall and Johnson will fight it out for the other points.

With the above outcome of the various events the meet will come to the day with Newton from four to six points behind Coach Enoch can put a speedy quartet on the boards which should defeat any team Coach Hines can gather together and the five points will bring the total figures to an approximate 39 to 38 score either way. A victory for Sloan in the dash, a third for Tuschler in the 300, a third for Pescosolido in the 600, or a second in the high jump for Johnson should give Newton the edge unless other predictions are upset. At any rate the meet will be one of the closest fought in years and most of the events will provide exciting competition.

SPORT NOTES

Spain Injured

Frank Spain was injured during the Dartmouth-Princeton hockey game at Princeton last Saturday night which the Tigers won 4 to 0 and was carried from the ice on a stretcher. It was first thought that the former Newton high star athlete might have a fractured vertebrae but X-ray pictures failed to reveal such an injury. Infirmary authorities announced that he had aggravated an old bone bruise and would be able to return to Dartmouth within a few days.

Country Day Wins

The Country Day school track team defeated Watertown High on Wednesday afternoon at the Country Day track, 40 to 23. Jimmy Thurber, Watertown star, won the 600 and 1,000-yard events. Bill Schmidt of Country Day won both the dash and hurdles. Bill Nelson of the private school team set a new school record in the shot put winning with a toss of 42 ft. 10 1/2 in. Brown won the 300-yard run and White the high jump for Country Day. Jean LaBouchere won Country Day's all-around star with thirds in the dash and 300 and seconds in the shot put and hurdles.

Select N. U. Athletes

Northeastern University has entered its athletes in the Boston Y. M. C. A. games tomorrow and the K. of C. games a week from tomorrow. Among those entered are several local youths. In the former meet Jimmie McCradden will be in the 600, George Lamb in the mile, Curtis Scott in the high jump, and Bill Quigley in the freshman relay. In the meet a week later Lamb will be in the three-quarter mile handicap, Scott in the high jump, McCradden in the two-mile relay and Quigley in the freshman mile relay.

With Huskies Second Team

Henry Furdon and Harold Stromborn, former Newton high athletes, are playing with the Northeastern University second hockey team. Furdon is a defense player and Stromborn a goalie.

Linberg Wins Bout

Gordon Linberg, former Newton High athlete, is now wrestling with the Tufts varsity in the indoor mat game. Last Friday Tufts defeated Tech, 23 to 5, with Linberg winning from Koller of the Engineers in the unlimited class.

CATHOLIC LEAGUE BASKETBALL SEASON OPENS

The Greater Boston Catholic High School basketball league opened the 1932 season last week Friday with the championship St. Charles team of Waltham and the second place Our Lady High five of Newton scoring easy victories over their first-game opponents. Immaculate Conception of Revere and St. Mary's High of Brookline. The Waltham five, coached by Don Houghton of Waban turned in a 58 to 10 win with Captain Everett Gallant and George Dexter scoring 50 of the winner's points between them. Charlie Gallagher, league high scorer a year ago and star of the Our Lady team, led his mates with fourteen points while Steve McLean and Leo Moran counting 12 and 10 respectively in a 46 to 12 victory over the Brookline five. Mission High of Roxbury scored a 27 to 18 win over St. John's of Cambridge and Cathedral topped St. Clement's 32 to 13 in the other league games of the games of the day.

On Tuesday in the second set of games Our Lady's hung up a new league high scoring mark by running wild against St. John's in a 77 to 12 game. The Newton five displayed great teamwork with the first string forward line totalling 63 points. Of this total 26 was contributed by McLean, 23 by Gallagher and 14 by Moran. All but one of the Our Lady's points was made by goals from the floor with 38 baskets while Gallagher caged one free shot for the odd point.

St. Charles also coasted along in its game with St. Clement's to win 52 to 12 with Gallant showing the way with 20 points. In the other games Cathedral topped Immaculate Conception, 30 to 24 and Mission beat St. Mary's 17 to 8.

ANOTHER DUAL TRACK MEET ADDED TO LIST

Newton High school added another dual track meet to its long list of indoor victories last week Friday afternoon when the orange and black runners topped Watertown High school on the Newton track, 52 to 25. Coach Donald Enoch of the Newton team used Stanley Johnson, sparingly as the star of the team lost five pounds during the days previous to the meet on account of illness. Johnson took two tries to win the broad jump and was third in the hurdles after a poor start. He did not compete in the high jump or relay. Newton athletes took the majority of first places with Dave Crawford and Jim Thurber, outstanding visiting athletes, taking firsts for Watertown in the hurdles and 1,000-yard run.

Newton swept the dash to get off to a commanding lead with Douglas Sloan, John Feola and Bill Terry finishing in that order. The finals of the hurdles brought Stan Johnson and Cliff Kittredge of Newton against Dave Crawford of Watertown. Crawford broke the tape with Kittredge on his heels and Johnson third. Kittredge's promising hurdler, was competing in his last meet for several weeks as he became ineligible scholastically this week. He will be eligible to compete in the state meet on Feb. 27th if he can raise his studies to the required mark.

The 300 was run in three heats against time with Jim Cahill, Newton captain, Frank Tuschler of Newton, and Wm. Milton of Watertown splitting the points in that order.

The 600 provided one of the best races of the afternoon with Willie Mullen of Newton and Captain, Bill Gleason of Watertown setting a hot pace. Mullen took the lead in the race to the first bank and fought off every attempt by the Watertown leaders to pass him. Mullen blazed down the home stretch half a foot ahead of Gleason to win in 1 min. 23.45 sec.

The 1,000-yard run was an easy victory for Jimmy Thurber of Watertown, State Class B champion at the distance. He took a commanding lead in the early stages of the race and won without being pressed. Tom Fitzgerald and Roger Maynard, both of Newton, took second and third places.

With Johnson leaping 9 ft. 10 1/2 in. to win the broad jump it was all John Walsh and George Norton both of Watertown could do to take second and third.

Joyce Blum of Newton, provided the surprise of the meet by clearing 5 ft. 7 in. in the high jump to win first place over Joseph Golden of Watertown. Frank Tuschler, Newton placed third.

Tom Molloy of Newton won his second shotput victory of the season with a toss of 40 ft. 2 in. Two Watertown youths, Wm. Glenn and Charles Kallfalis took second and third.

The relay was all Newton with Duane Sloan, Bill Cusumano, Bill Quigley and Dick Francis opening up a fifteen yard lead on the Watertown quartet. Thurber, running at anchor, tried gallantly to regain some of the lost ground but failed to close up the gap appreciably.

Playing For Harvard Jayvees

Bill Sutcliffe, former Newton high and Bridgeton Academy athlete, is a reserve defence player on the Harvard junior varsity hockey team.

Under The Gilded Dome

Another effort is to be made this year to shorten the ballot at the State election by condensing the space allowed candidates for President and the Presidential electors. Secretary of State Cook went before the Committee on Election Laws at a hearing this week and urged legislation to permit him to reduce the space allowed electors from two to one columns. His plan, although somewhat involved to the average voting mind, is considered practicable and the new arrangement is said to be equitable to both political parties. Mr. Cook said that the ballot each year is "getting longer and longer," meaning, no doubt, that it is becoming more and more cumbersome. While there was no one else to speak for the bill there was no formidable opposition. Much depends on what the committee members think of the bill and whether they consider economy of printing space as important as some other proposed savings.

It looks as if the special commission on taxation has started something by recommending extension of the State audit of the accounts of cities and towns to include the city of Boston. That was only one of the commission's recommendations, although the other was equally interesting. The law which gives the State Director of Accounts (an official of the State Department of Corporations and Taxation) authority to examine on his own initiative or by request any municipal accounts, expires July 1 of this year. It has been on the statute books five years and does not include the city of Boston. The commission believes that it should be made a permanent statute and include Boston. The commission does not criticize the city of Boston but says that the scheme has worked well in other places and would no doubt be of benefit to Boston. The Mayor of that city is not in favor of the idea and has expressed his opinion with characteristic vigor. He will, no doubt, seek to have killed the bill which the commission urges to cover this recommendation.

The same commission offers another bill which would set up in the State Department of Corporations and Taxation a board of municipal finance to pass upon the requests of cities and towns to borrow money outside the debt limit and to expend money on public works, improvements, etc. This board would receive the proposals of the various municipalities four months before the opening of the regular session of the Legislature. It would investigate and report, advising whether the Legislature should grant the request or not. Provision is made whereby taxpayers may protest to the board against any bill coming before a city council or board of selectmen. Further provision is made for a referendum to the voters on the various appropriations sought. Whether this plan of the commission is received with favor or not it cannot be denied that it is constructive. Furthermore, it is the outcome of the conditions in which some cities and towns find themselves today due to past extravagance. This commission has the respect of all legislators for it is agreed that it is composed of men who have studied and are well informed on the subject of taxation and of municipal finance. It is not improbable, however, that there will be opposition to the scheme and the cry will go up that it is an interference with the home rule of cities and towns. Nevertheless, the idea will have its supporters who will make every effort to have appropriate legislation enacted.

A bill has been advanced this week to help cities and towns in the present financial emergency. It will permit a mortgagee to pay a tax assessed on the mortgaged land as early as the interest on the tax begins to run, whereas under the existing law he must wait until the owner has neglected to pay the tax within the taxable year.

The number of matters presented for the consideration of this year's Legislature, while fewer by 283 than in 1931, means a busy session. The outstanding feature will be the question of existing such cities and towns as are in trouble financially to get on their feet. The Governor has a plan which would have the effect of the State standing behind the notes of any municipality in need of ready funds. The Governor's suggestion is expected to be the basis of legislation to be drafted and enacted. That such law as permits the State to endorse the borrowing of cities and towns must be temporary goes without saying. It will probably be made only for this year. However, something has got to be done to save a number of cities and towns from ruin and the State is the only body to do it.

Upper Falls Improvement Society Holds Meeting

The annual meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Improvement Society was held Tuesday night at Emerson School. William Warren was re-elected president and R. B. McLaughlin, secretary-treasurer. Rev. G. B. Shedd gave a report of the society's educational activities. Mr. Warren told the members that the Saco-Lowell Company which is moving its plant from Upper Falls to Saco, Maine, has suggested that the improvement society purchase the Pettie Inn for a community house. The Inn was built in 1912 and contains 5 rooms and a lobby. The price asked for it is $30,000; of which $5000 must be cash and the balance covered by a mortgage. Two objections were presented against this proposal. One was that there is no heating plant in the building; the other member stated that the society had collected but $47 in dues last year.

Police News

In the Newton District court on last Friday Judge Bacon placed Maurice Veazie, 70 years old and married, of 9 Temple street, Boston on probation. Veazie was charged with stealing articles valued at $10 from Sawyer's Hardware Store in Newtonville. He pleaded that he had been tempted to steal in order to obtain money with which to buy food.

Early last Friday morning Sergt. Sheridan and Patrolman C. Jenkins placed under arrest two men, one armed with a loaded revolver and the other having burglar's tools in his possession. They were George Diab, 45 of Waverley street, South Framingham and John L. Kadra, 37, who gave the same address. Their cases were continued until Jan. 27 and bail was set at $1000 each.

Francis McGourty, 19, of 372 Parker street, Newton Centre, was fined $50 in the Newton court yesterday for receiving stolen property. In September a revolver was stolen from the American Express Company's office at Newton Centre. In October the stolen revolver was returned by McGourty who claimed it had been stolen by another man and then given to him to return. When this man was brought to McGourty by Serg. Crowley and Patrolman Smith, according to their testimony, McGourty changed his story, denied that he had accused the other man and stated he had found the weapon on Homer street. So, on December 31, the policemen arrested him on the charge for which he was fined.

Norman Hornsby, 17, of Malden, a colored youth, was arrested Wednesday night at West Newton by Serg. Bannan and Patrolman McHugh charged with burglary. In the Newton court yesterday he was held for the Grand Jury. The police testified that Hornsby entered the store of H. Cooper at 11 Prospect place, West Newton, and stole $2. He then hid in a coal bin at the house of G. W. Weeks on Curve street and when the family had gone out he went through the house and stole the money.

Fred Thompson of Upland avenue, Newton Highlands reported to the Newton police that a burglar stole 18 hens from his henhouse late Saturday night.

Residents of Parsons street, West Newton complained to the police last week that a red-haired young woman had gone to houses on that street and solicited funds for the Newton Hospital. According to officials of the Hospital corporation the woman is an impostor.

Joseph Savillonis of 24 Sullivan avenue, Newton Upper Falls was in the Newton court on Monday charged with not sending his children to school. He told the court that his 6 children are motherless. He was given a suspended fine of $20.

Raymond Westgate of 319 Bellevue street, Newton reported to the police that his car had been stolen while parked in front of his house on Monday night.

Patrolman Dow found a sedan abandoned on Bennington street, Newton on Tuesday afternoon. The car was stolen in Boston on Monday.

Philip Harper of 16 Prescott street, Wellesley was fined $25 in the Newton court Wednesday for going away after an automobile accident without making himself known. The complainant was Marie T. Barry whose car was in collision with that driven by Harper.

Lester Drew of 187 Cypress street, Newton Centre was found not guilty of assaulting Herbert Brame, also of Newton Centre when he was tried in the Newton court on Wednesday. The men are married to sisters and Drew contended that Brame had made an uncomplimentary remark about their mother-in-law.

Forest Zoller, Jr., of Newell road, Auburndale was fined $25 in the Waltham court yesterday for reckless driving and $25 for refusing to stop when signalled by a policeman. Patrolman Murphy of Watertown testified that Zoller drove a roadster through a crowd leaving a theatre at Mount Auburn and failed to stop when the officer blew his whistle.

A RAPIDLY GROWING NEED

While the erection of new school buildings is an ever present problem reflected directly upon the tax rate and consequently of great interest to every citizen, we must not fail to recognize the need of providing adequate facilities for our school children. For the most part Newton schools and its school system are of the best, but there is a rapidly growing need for better accommodations for the primary and some elementary grades. In the past decade careful consideration has been given to the introduction of the junior high school system throughout the city and large sums have been appropriated to provide this method of education. Three elementary schools have also been erected which have relieved congestion in some of our older schools of this type, but some of our children are now going to school in the same buildings where their grandparents received their early education. We wonder, if, in the past few years, we have not lost sight of or set aside to some extent our duty to our youngest school children.

We are referring to the fact that there are at the present time nine wooden buildings, greatly out of keeping with the remainder of our school buildings, in use for primary and elementary instruction. The oldest of these schools, the Lincoln, near Newton Corner, was built 78 years ago, in 1854. The old Clafflin School in Newtonville was erected in 1864, sixty-eight years ago. The Oak Hill school in that section of the city was opened in 1867, about 65 years ago. In the early seventies the Adams School in Newtonville, the Rice school in Newton Centre and the Franklin school in West Newton were built and all have passed their 60th birthdays. The Eliot school in Nonantum, and the Williams school in West Newton were erected in 1894, nearly forty years in Auburndale were opened in 1883, while the Barnard ago. Doubtless all of these buildings conform to the fire laws, but they are, nevertheless, fire hazards in comparison with our more modern buildings. Some of our older elementary schools, although of brick construction, are little more than huge chimneys with their wooden stairways and floors. We do not wish to be alarmists, but we cannot refrain from pointing out a possible danger.

A few years ago a joint committee of the school committee and aldermen was formed and a definite program laid out under which the Levi F. Warren and John W. Weeks Junior High Schools and the Hamilton, Ward and Cabot elementary schools were built. With the provision for adequate junior high facilities at the Bigelow school in prospect this year the committee will practically have completed its task. An immediate survey of the needs of each school district should be made looking toward the replacement of the wooden schools mentioned with more modern facilities. The committee might then inaugurate a definite building program to cover the next ten or fifteen years. The longer such action is delayed the more intensive any such program would have to be.

KILLING THE GOOSE THAT LAYS THE GOLDEN EGG

Midst all the hue and cry of endeavoring to keep taxes down comes the proposal whereby Congress would re-impose the war time tax upon automobiles and other so-called luxuries. In the early years of the automotive industry the motor car was undoubtedly a luxury, but in the present day it has become a necessity to many people. The motor car, truck and accessory industries have kept thousands employed despite the depression and with signs of better business are adding thousands more to their payrolls. During the depression many people have delayed trading in their present cars but this spring it is anticipated that there will be renewed activity in this field. If such becomes the case the automobile industry will materially aid the return of better business. Re-imposition of the old tax would undoubtedly retard the industry to an appreciable extent. Why help to kill the goose that lays the golden egg?

BREAKING A PRECEDENT

While anyone has a perfect right to express their admiration and enthusiasm for a nationally prominent figure, did you notice that Governor Ely broke all precedent by leaving the State House to meet "Al" Smith at the Back Bay Station. And when it came to being present at the laying of the cornerstone of the new Federal Building the Governor delegated this honor to one of his secretaries.

ZONTA CLUB

A regular dinner meeting of Zonta Club of Newton was held on Monday evening, January 18, at the home of the President, Marion Fuller. The fact that there was an unusual number of guests added to the pleasure of the evening.

The dinner guest speaker was Miss Harriet Louise Parsons who is the Educational Assistant in the Massachusetts Society for Mental Hygiene and Instructor in Psychiatric Social Work at Simmons School of Social Work.

Miss Parsons' subject was "Personal and Community Mental Hygiene." She spoke of the necessity of each individual's fitting into the community as a citizen. Why one behaves as he does rather than how he behaves is the new emphasis in our thinking. Each adjustment in life is an active thing and individuals need to know the principles of self-guidance in order to live a life of satisfaction. She clearly explained what is meant by rationalization, repression, and sublimation, and brought out the wisdom of keeping up some form of recreation in this time of depression.

At a regular business meeting which followed, the President read a stimulating message from another Zontain on "What Constitutes a Good Club Member."

The next meeting of Zonta Club will be held on February 1 when Educational and Vocational Guidance will be the topic of the evening.

By L. D. G. Bentley

There is at least one winter sport which does not require special equipment and extra clothing. You can make out your income tax blank in pajamas and bathrobe—or less.

Playing the Ponies

Whatever may be said—and there is bound to be a plenty—on the proposal to make betting on horse racing legal in Massachusetts, I would like to take up one phase of it which is not likely to appear during the discussion. I may be wrong, but I have an idea that the whole thing is brand new to many people. O. no, not the idea of betting—that's as ancient as the pyramids; but horse racing, bookmaking, pari-mutuels and the general manipulation of wagers, etc.

There was a time when we had trotting parks, but those days are past. And the parks or tracks, with grandstands have faded from view. The land has been built upon for commercial or residential purposes and no trace of the sport remains. "Out of sight, out of mind." Well, isn't there a good deal in that?

Old-timers will tell you of the days when there were race tracks not so far from Newton. Beacon Park in Allston for instance, or the park in Waltham, the name of which has escaped me. Great Scott, Newton used to have both a direct and indirect interest in the game. Yes, and some of our best people didn't see any harm in placing money on this or that trot.

You will find that there are many who can recall the names of the famous trotters of bygone days; who remember when men owned horses they thought were wonderful and exercised them on the public streets. A racing gig was not so uncommon and even a spurt between two high speeders was known to have taken place right on our very widest thoroughfares. Horse racing was part and parcel of the daily lives of a lot of folks. What's the situation at present? You get a glimpse now and then in the talkie newsreel of a horse race somewhere across the seas or possibly in our country. Maybe you drive along the river in Brighton on the way to Cambridge and you will see some fine horses on the track of the Metropolitan Driving Club. Outside of these places who knows much about it anyway?

There must be a large number who are interested in reviving horse racing. They want to give the profits to the Old Age Assistance Fund, but I have a notion their first idea is to get betting legalized and the second the distribution of profits. Assuming—and that's doing a great deal—that betting on horse racing were legalized, I'm ready to bet that they'll have to have courses of instruction for would-be bettors. The thing has got to be made popular all over again.

How's Your Luck?

A friend of mine has received one of those mysterious chain letters. He tells me it is a thing he would not trifle with under any circumstances. According to the somewhat cryptic wording of the epistle he should by this time be rich beyond the dreams of avarice. The reason for this promised acquisition of wealth is simple. All that was required of him was to sit down and copy the letter nine times and send a copy to nine different people. Having done this he need only remain inactive, wait until notified of a legacy of an overlooked relation or some other golden gift from the skies. The process was to take nine days which isn't much if you're going to be made wealthy without effort.

Just why certain people should be favored thus and others left out in the cold I have never been able to determine. I am a bit puzzled by each letter contains a solemn warning against breaking the chain. That is an amazing feature. You are threatened with dire happenings if you fail. What about the people who have no typewriter and no carbon paper? Are they to copy these nine letters by hand. That would entitle them to considerable money, if you ask me, for the mere labor.

The suggestion has been made to me that there are people who enjoy sending such a letter along. They must be the kind who find delight in making work for other people. I do not believe that there is any altruism in it. If they didn't think breaking the chain might cost them a fortune would they be so eager to have the chain preserved?

I have come to the conclusion—cries of "Hooray, he's getting near the end of these"—that letters are really intended to preserve the feeling of superstition which scientists scoff at and would have us abandon. You and I know there's a thrill in thinking oneself lucky. Just the same as there's no thrill when we sit down and complain that we're unlucky. We won't admit we're the least bit superstitious, you and I, but secretly we allow it sometimes has us worried.

After-dinner Orators

As far as I have been able to observe there doesn't appear to have been any let-up, in spite of these befuddled times, of annual dinners. All kinds of civic, industrial, collegiate, political and social organizations seem to be holding their yearly "big time" as in the past. This, to me, is a good sign and I have no doubt that hotel proprietors, caterers and cooks and waiters join in that opinion.

A number of these affairs are matters of public importance—not but what they all are matters of extreme private consequence—and part of the proceedings are broadcast. The fact that the speeches of one or more guests find a place on the program of a radio station must be a source of satisfaction to any committee of arrangements. The publicity is something to be treasured, but that wasn't what I had in mind. Occasions are broadcast must be run on scheduled ule or the postprandial exercises will not get on the air at the proper hour. If you have attended annual dinners of this nature you will agree that usually things run a little behind time. Personally I have never tried to account for these delays, but have always planned, when a dinner was set for a specified hour, to be there 15 or 20 minutes late. In this way I may be about on time.

When announcement is made in advance that there will be a reception preceding the dinner it is almost safe to figure that you won't sit down at the hour scheduled. These receptions are more or less informal and intended to give you a chance to hunt up somebody you think you would like to have sit alongside you.

But that isn't the whole thing. Speakers are apt to run over their allotted time or fail to appear at the precise moment or do something to upset the toastmaster's plans. It may be that individual fails to observe instructions. At any rate everything is almost invariably behindhand. I recall the gathering of a patriotic society where one of the speakers turned the tables on his host and everybody else. He was assigned to respond to the toast "The Day We Celebrate." It was half-hour after midnight when he was introduced. Said he, "I will not speak on the day, we celebrate because that has passed more than 30 minutes ago. I will come next year and if I get an early chance I'll talk, but now I'm going to sit down and let this thing wind-up so that everybody may go home to bed." There was a thoughtful man.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

George Washington Bicentennial

Celebration of the Bicentennial of the birth of George Washington, under the auspices of the Massachusetts Bicentennial Commission, assisted by thirty-two State organizations of women, in a mammoth program of many interesting and spectacular features, is being eagerly anticipated by Clubwomen and other patriotic citizens, for the evening of Saturday, February 6th, in Symphony Hall, at 8:30 o'clock. Among the many forceful patriotic societies and associations lending assistance and support, the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs is honored to be numbered, and Newton Clubwomen will give their patronage to this worthwhile event, to the credit of their city and to their organization. The president, Mrs. Samuel N. Brannan, is serving on the General Committee. The Newton Federation chairman for tickets is Mrs. Harry S. Wells, of 28 Parsons street, West Newton; telephone W. N. 0821-R, who will be glad to supply tickets, for all seats, which are reserved. The seats of the first thirty rows of the orchestra, and of the first row of the first balcony, are $1.00, the seats for the balance of the floor and of the first balcony are $1.00. Those of the first row of the second balcony are $1.00; the balance 50 cents.

A brilliant opening event is the "Processional" of presidents and their attendants, representing the assisting organizations. Each president or her representative in evening dress, will be attended by four others in white, carrying flags—the American flag, the organization flag (if there is one), and two State flags—which will be placed in standards upon the stage, making an impressive and colorful picture. The presidents will be seated upon the platform, but the attendants will retire, after placing the flags, to the reserved seat section. What may well be noteworthy addresses will then be given by the guests of honor, these including His Excellency, the Governor; His Honor, the Mayor of Boston; and Mrs. John D. Sherman, Presidential commissioner of the Bicentennial.

Part II of the program will be fourteen "colorful episodes in the life of George Washington," with 300 in the cast, and 200 in the chorus. These are sure to be worthwhile in historic interest, delightful in personalities, and beautiful in costume and scenic effects.

It is welcome news that opportunity has been arranged for the children to see these entertaining and informative episodes in a morning performance, also to be held at Symphony Hall, on the same date, the 6th, in the morning at 10:30 o'clock. In place of the Processional and the addresses by guests of honor which will be the first part of the evening's performance, there will be for the morning's performance, a Talk by Patrick T. Campbell, Superintendent of the Boston Public Schools, and a musical program, arranged by John O'Shea, director of Music of the Boston Public Schools.

Tickets for the children's performance are 25 and 50 cents, and all seats are reserved, so should be ordered in advance.

It is noteworthy to look over the list of organizations that have felt this event one in which they are proud to give assistance of time and effort: university groups, American Legion auxiliaries, business and professional, civic, political, patriotic, educational, religious, an alliance of interests that proves that a great event awakens the response of all. For the children's performance, the State groups of Camp Fire Girls, Children of the D. A. R. and the Girl Scouts lend their assistance.

Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, is general chairman of the event. Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, 123 Park street, Newton, as secretary, will give any general information wanted. For information concerning episodes, Mrs. Eva Whitte White, of the Women's Educational and Industrial Union, 264 Boylston street, Boston, will answer inquiries and Miss Josephine G. Richardson, treasurer, 884 Huntington avenue, Boston, is in charge of tickets. Newton Clubwomen, however, can secure these through Mrs. Wells, as already stated.

A pre-event of this celebration is another interesting one, the 5th, in a complimentary dinner given in honor of Mrs. John Dickinson Sherman, of Washington, at 6:30 p. m., at the Women's Republican Club, 46 Beacon street, with national officers of many organizations also guests of honor, and speakers, and with Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, Toastmistress—which in itself promises an enlivening affair.

Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, first vice-president of the State Federation, is chairman in charge, and dinner tickets at $1.50 each may be secured from her, by addressing her at 1 Hayden road, Cliftondale.

Newton Federation

Mrs. C. Douglas Mercer, president of Boston Young Women's Christian Association, will be the speaker at the January meeting of the Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs. This meeting will be held in the Library of the Technical High School on Monday, the 25th, at 2:45 o'clock. All Club members are cordially invited to attend the Federation meetings. Mrs. Mercer will tell of the many ways and means in which the Boston Y. W. C. A. can and does assist the girls and women in meeting their present-day problems.

Since the merging of the Newton Branch of the Young Women's Christian Association with the Boston organization, the Federation has felt an added interest in the Boston activities and it is hoped that a large number of Clubwomen will take this opportunity to familiarize themselves with this division of the program of the Association.

The monthly business meeting of the Woman's Club will be held Friday, January 29th, at 2 p. m., and will be followed by the production of three one-act plays. A great deal of community interest centers around these plays, as they are being given by the Auburndale and Newtonville Clubs, in connection with the Newton Centre Woman's Club. The three plays are: "A Toast That We Can Drink," by Stokes McCune; "Let It Go At That," by Essex Dane; and "Gardella," by Douglas Stone.

State Federation

RADIO. Interest in the weekly broadcasts over station WBZ at 11:30 o'clock on Saturdays is shown by the forming of groups of women from many Clubs in a central location, perhaps a Clubwoman's home, for enjoyment of Club items together. On the 23rd, Samuel Macaulay Lindsay, D. D., is guest speaker for the Division of Interracial Unity, his topic being, "What The Eye Saw And What The Ear Heard In Russia In 1931." James M. Whyte, Baritone, will give the musical program.

On Saturday, the 30th, Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith, as past president of the State Federation, will be the speaker of honor, taking as her subject "Foundation Stones"; and C. M. Tremaine, of the Division of the National Bureau for the Advancement of Music, and Eleanor Dremer, Cellist, of Mattapan, will also be on the program, as guests of the Federation.

CAMPAIGN CONFERENCE. Clubwomen of Massachusetts, to speak in the parlance of the day, are "getting quite a kick out of" the candidacy of a former State Federation president for the presidency of the national organization—the General Federation.

Club leaders of Massachusetts, including State officials and representatives from many clubs in all parts of the state, will meet Saturday, January 22nd, at 10 a. m., at the Boston Y. W. C. A., in the interest of presenting Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole for president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. The meeting is called by Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, State president and campaign director.

Walter H. Woods will tell of the "Poole Special" which will carry delegates from many states to Seattle next June. Among the large number already enrolled from Massachusetts are twelve from the Woman's Club of Brockton, the full quota from Mrs. Poole's home Club.

CIVIL SERVICE LECTURE. Miss Marian C. Nichols, State chairman of Citizenship Training and Civil Service, opens her home, 55 Mt. Vernon street, Beacon Hill, Boston, for the second in a series of talks on "Public Welfare in Massachusetts," on Monday morning, the 25th, at 10:30 o'clock. All Club members, and especially those serving on Civics, Community Service, Legislative, and Social Welfare committees, are extended a cordial welcome to attend. At this "Talk," Francis Bardwell, director of the Division of Old Age Assistance in the State Department of Public Welfare, will speak.

CONSERVATION CONFERENCE. Exhibits and competitive flower shows, put on in some instances by Garden Clubs of the Women's Clubs, make an attractive offering for the Conservation Department on Thursday, the 28th, in a practically all-day get-together at Horticultural Hall, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., for Clubwomen who delight in this interesting phase of nature study and beauty. Guests of honor will be the State president, Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, and Mrs. John H. Kimball, third vice-president. Luncheon reservations may be made by sending $1.00 and stamped, self-addressed envelope to Mrs. Willard Porter, 9 Grant road, Swampscott, not later than January 26th. Mrs. Robert Parmenter, chairman of this Department, promises many worthwhile features in the exhibit.

Miss Helena B. Shipman, should be planning a State Luncheon Conference, on January 29th, at the Twentieth Century Club, Boston, devoted to study of the question "On What Does National Security Depend?" Dr. Arthur N. Holcombe, head of the Department of Government, of Harvard University, will bring a new point of view to this problem.

"Tariffs And The Present Situation" will be discussed by Dr. George Rorbach, professor of Foreign Trade, of the Harvard Business School. Opportunity for questions will follow the addresses.

The world race for armaments, matched by its race for tariffs, would seem to indicate the general theme of the Conference.

In a lighter vein, a comedy, "Mother Earth and Her Children", will be presented by a cast from the West Roxbury Woman's Club.

Luncheon reservations must be secured before January 26th from Mrs. Charles E. Valentine, 362 Wolcott street, Auburndale. Both men and women are cordially welcome.

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Community Club

On Thursday, January 14th, the Newton Community Club had as its program, the Regent Trio, who, under the direction of Mrs. Watson Baker, rendered several colorful selections; and Father M. J. Ahern, S. J., who spoke on "Science vs. Religion". His talk was most interesting and enjoyed by all. The meeting was well attended.

At the close of the program, members of the Club had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, second vice-president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, who was the guest of honor. Mrs. Walker spoke a few words of greeting to the Club.

Those who poured during the social hour were Mrs. Frederick Harwood, Mrs. F. Carroll Thompson, Mrs. William A. Somerby, and Mrs. Franklin P. Lowry.

Wilson Brothers, of Newton, furnished the refreshments which consisted of Chase and Sanborn coffee, Somerset Farm's cream, and Ge. Botts doughnuts.

During the business session, it was reported that six different hospitals received contributions, through the Community Service chairman, Mrs. Harry M. Weber.

Attention of those who have not already subscribed to the Philanthropic Fund was called to the fact that the directors or the president would be glad to receive their contributions at any time.

A report of the Children's Party listed the many generous contributions from members, friends, and business firms. Miss Mabel Riley contributed ice cream and fancy biscuits. Mrs. Philip S. Jamieson gave the candy, and Mrs. Clarence C. Smith gave oranges. The apples were solicited by members of the Junior Membership committee. Mr. Ford of Ford's Market gave the tree, and the Edison Electric Light Company loaned the lights for the tree. As there was a small sum remaining from the collection taken up for this party, it was deposited with a store at Nonantum, to be used in payment for necessary clothing for infants, to be purchased there by three needy families.

It was brought to the attention of members that there is in process of formation a Contract Bridge Class, and those who wish to join may learn details by telephoning the president, Mrs. Goodridge, N. N. 123-W.

A brief resume of the Celebration of the George Washington Bicentennial at Symphony Hall, on February 6th, was given by the president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Samuel N. Brame. Newton Clubwomen will appear in some of the episodes that are to be part of the program. (A detailed account of this event appears at the head of this Column).

Mr. J. Hassler Capron told of the Ice Carnival to be held on Crystal Lake, Newton Centre, on February 1st, or, if this night is stormy, on the next fair night thereafter. Clubwomen will be interested to remember this date and attend.

A plea was made for contributions to the Christmas Seal fund, Newton having dropped from second place last year to third place this year in rank by amounts raised. This fund is used to safeguard the health of Newton children.

Members were reminded of the splendid opportunity to have their daughters, who are eligible to membership, join the Junior Membership, which now numbers 49, who are hard at work, and having a most enjoyable time while doing it, raising funds to be used by the Welfare Bureau for the relief of the most needy in the city.

Miss Barnes spoke for the Red Cross in behalf of the Motor Corps, asking any who can give one morning a week, one morning in two weeks, or one morning a month, to drive, in the assistance of this worthwhile work, to notify Mrs. Weber, N. N. 2295.

It was also reported during the business meeting that members of the Club are enjoying lessons under Mrs. Mellon, as well as acquiring a correct knowledge of Parliamentary procedure.

Shakespeare Club

On December 4th, 1891, several ladies, among them Mrs. H. E. Durgin, the present President, and Mrs. A. L. Pratt, a past president and now a member of the Executive Board, Mrs. Frederick Johnson, Mrs. E. J. Hyde, Mrs. C. S. Luitweller, and Mrs. Minerva Stone, met at the home of Mrs. T. L. Eaton, 345 Lake Avenue, and organized the Shakespeare Club.

For forty years this Club has continued with interest unabated in the Bard of Avon and his unexcelled dramas, and on Saturday, January 16th, a "Birthday Party" was held at the home of Mrs. B. R. Gilbert of 41 Woodward street.

No more beautiful setting for the "Observance" could have been wished for—the high stained glass windows covered with English ivy, the picturesque stairway and balcony, and the fireplace with its cheerful fire glowing a welcome to all, added to the charm of the occasion.

The members dressed in the prevailing mode of the nineties assembled just after noon, and spent an enjoyable half hour getting acquainted with their old friends in their new attire.

The consensus of opinion awarded the prize to Mrs. Mary C. Blakemore, who was charming and queenly in a gown of gray velvet and chintilly lace and crystals.

Later in the afternoon, she was indeed a study in gray, as, walking slowly, with lighted candle in hand, she dramatically delivered the "sleep-walking" scene from Macbeth.

After a delicious luncheon served by the hostess, Mrs. B. R. Gilbert, assisted by Miss Ethel Hall and Mrs. Allan McIntosh, all gathered around the fireplace and, while fagots burned, each member gave a brief talk on her favorite play or character.

Mrs. A. L. Pratt, who had charge of the program, showed her knowledge of Shakespeare plays as well as her versatility, by her well chosen comments on each character.

Among some of the favorites, Miss Edith McCann brought out Othello's absolute honesty, courage, and devotion to an ideal. Mrs. W. J. Bicknell chose Katherine of Aragon for her truth, goodness, and faithfulness. Miss Ethel L. Hall admired the joyousness of Rosalind like a May morning flush with opening blossoms and charm of earliest birds. Mrs. F. S. Keith, with her great love of youth, centered her thoughts on Juliet, with her bright colorings of the dawn of existence. Mrs. William Moore selected Isabella for her strong and upright mind, inflexible moral principles, and mercy. Mrs. Allan McIntosh chose Portia for her courage and intellect. Miss Virginia Drew dwelt on the beauty of the poetical passages of the play Macbeth, and the ruin of a great soul by cruel and misdirected ambition. Interesting to note, three members, namely, Mrs. Pratt, Miss Mary Sweeney, and Mrs. Gilbert chose King Lear, bringing out the beautiful characteristics of Cordelia and Edgar, and proving to the club that King Lear was the grandest of Shakespeare's tragedies.

As Shakespeare had interludes even in his most serious plays, so the afternoon had its enjoyable musical interludes, furnished by Mrs. Whitton, of Brookline, and Miss McCreary, of Boston.

All dispersed at 6:15 p. m. with happy memories that will always linger in the Shakespeare Club's garden of remembrance.

Auburndale Review Club

Another year of "Contemporary Literature" was voted by the members of the Auburndale Review Club when they met last Tuesday morning, with Mrs. Wickliffe J. Spaulding, of Wolcott street. Four new members were voted into the Club by ballot, their names to be placed on the Waiting List until there should be vacancies in the Club. They were Mrs. Maurice Bullock, Mrs. E. Dana Kendall, Mrs. Elbridge Minard, and Mrs. Ralph H. Rogers. The Waiting List, which is limited to fifteen, was filled by these additions.

At the close of the business session, the president, Mrs. Ernest Drew, turned the meeting over to Mrs. Charles W. Blood, who read a paper on "Magic Spades", by Magoffin and Davies, a humorous defense of archery. Mrs. Albert Palmateer gave the story of Ludvig's "Schleimann", a German gold seeker, whose wondrous discoveries brought him untold wealth. The last book to be reviewed was Philip Means' "Ancient Civilization of the Andes", and was given by Mrs. John A. Williams. Mrs. Charles W. Grover, a member of the Program committee, read from one of New England's outstanding poets, Edward Arlington Robinson, giving his "New England", "Dark Hills", "Richard Corey", and "An Old Story".

The meeting adjourned to meet two weeks later for its Annual Guest Night.

Auburndale Woman's Club

Thirty-six tables, each one a dream of beauty, met the eyes of Auburndale Woman's Club members as they entered the Auditorium of the Auburndale Club last Tuesday afternoon. At each table, appropriately dressed for the period suggested by the decorations, was a hostess. The entire room was a riot of color.

While tea was being served eight tableaux were shown on the stage, each one having some mistake in the setting. Assisting Mrs. Walter Wells, who was the prime mover of the entertainment, were Mrs. Alfred Becker, Mrs. Clifford Parcher, Mrs. Charles Valentine, and Mrs. Ernest Drew.

This was not a regular Club meeting, but one of the extras put on by the Activities committee. It was entirely different from the ordinary and very well received.

The first prize for the most beautiful table was awarded to Mrs. George W. St. Amant and Mrs. Richard Walter for their Colonial table. Honorable mention went to Mrs. Hervey F. Law and Mrs. Dana Kendall for their Tea Garden, which was most festive with umbrella and yellow and green striped balloons, suggestive of Southern climes.

The first prize for the most original table went to Mrs. Stephen Wright and Mrs. Charles Grover, for their Hawaiian Princess, with Slave girl wielding a fan, and honorable mention went to Mrs. Jarvis and her companion hostess for their Amos and Andy with ever-ready telephone.

Other original tea tables were the clever Bride and Bridegroom, the Japanese, the Wistaria, and several early American settings—all most attractive.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club enjoyed an evening of music at its meeting on January 18th in the Club rooms. A trio from the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston gave a very fine program. The violinist was Miss Priscilla Duncan, the cellist Miss Francis Boothby and both entertained at the piano. Mr. John Sheldon was the baritone soloist and was accompanied by Miss Duncan. The program was greatly enjoyed. Mrs. Joseph Connors was chairman of the meeting.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Sons and daughters of members were guests of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club at the regular meeting Tuesday afternoon, January 19th, in the Congregational Parish House, and enjoyed the beautiful illustrated lecture by the Rev. Austen T. Kempton, of Cambridge, on "The Holy Land".

During the business meeting, announcement was made that the American Home Committee, of which Mrs. Harold W. Drew is chairman, is giving a Charity Bridge at the Club Workshop, on Friday, the 29th, at 2 p. m.

In opening his lecture, Mr. Kempton mentioned his visit to "King Tut's Tomb". He described the specially made curtain which he uses with its millions of glass beads, and his pictures of sunrise and sunset over the lovely Sea of Galilee were myriads of fire.

The effects of the Christian home and of the Mohammedan home on the young people were shown very clearly in comparative pictures.

The beautiful paintings, with Mr. Kempton's reverent descriptions, brought the life of Christ from the manger to the Resurrection very close to his audience.

Newtonville Woman's Club

A unique and interesting departure from the usual Dramatic Afternoon, given each year by the Newtonville Woman's Club, was witnessed on Tuesday afternoon, January 19th, when each of three Woman's Clubs presented in turn a one-act play.

The three clubs participating in this inter-club Dramatic Afternoon program were the Auburndale Woman's Club, the Newton Centre Woman's Club and the Newtonville Woman's Club. These plays were presented first before the Newtonville Club and later will be given at each of the other Clubs.

The Auburndale Club presented a drama, "A Toast That We Can Drink". The scene of this play was laid in a home in Eastern France during the Reign of Terror. The characterization was exceptionally well portrayed, and the tense situations held the attention of an interested audience.

Dorothy S. Bates played the part of the Young Countess, Madame De Ramonquet. Florence Krueger, as the faithful Toinette, appealed very much to the audience. Helen Brown did a splendid bit of character work as La Torché, making her part very impressive and keeping her character throughout. Edith Gilpatrick, as Louise, completed this very well-balanced cast. This play was directed by Eunice Browning Prellwitz.

"Let It Go At That," was the comedy given by the Newton Centre Woman's Club. The scene was in Mr. Masserene's den about 2 a. m. Complications over the stealing of a diamond brooch make this play an extremely clever one. Each part was so different and the best was brought out in the lines.

The cast included Mrs. Theodore Masserene, taken by Mrs. W. J. Brackett; Duchess De Mex, by Mrs. George Waterman; Elizabeth Claude, by Mrs. Douglas R. Francis; Mrs. Hexway, by Mrs. Ralph Nickerson; Mrs. Beverly Jones, by Mrs. Harry Sutton; Alicia Romney, by Miss Carolyn Lewis; and Jarman, by Miss Lola White. This play was under the direction of Mrs. Maud McGarry Tibbets and Mrs. Wilma Carter.

The Newtonville Club presented a drama from the pen of Douglas Sloane who has written other plays for this same organization. Mr. Sloane also directed this play. "Gardella" was the story of a young girl driven to despair because of her young lover's husband who is away on a stormy sea. Her marriage has been kept a secret but through the workings of fate the tragic story is brought to a happy ending.

The storm and other scenic effects of this play were very realistic and deserve the highest commendation.

The prologue was read by Mrs. Edward P. Hendrick, and lent much atmosphere to the play that was to follow. Those taking part were Hortense Creed Rallsback, as Marguerite, who played a very appealing character and her lines were very beautifully spoken; Mrs. Hazel Sholley, as Gardella, who again played one of her convincing character parts; Gwendolyn Fried, as Madame Figano, and Constance Kemper, as Madame Straff, who were typical peasant women; Gertrude Hansen, who played the mother of the lover, Madame Bianchi; and Edith V. Morris, who played Sister Beatrix.

The Art committee, of which Mrs. Percy Woodward is chairman, is to be congratulated on the finished product presented in the painting of all the scenery used in the three plays. Mrs. Woodward was ably assisted by Miss Helen Brown and Miss Phyllis Wild.

The lighting effects were the always finished work of Hassler Capron.

Between the plays Mrs. Kenneth Hastings, Violinist, and Mrs. Henry Stanley, Pianist, played selections appropriate to the play that was to follow. It was a pleasure to listen to these two artists.

Immediately following the program

tea was served by the Hospitality committee, with Miss Florence Alexander, chairman, Mrs. George N. Abbott and Mrs. Harold H. Claffin in charge. Those presiding at the tea table included Mrs. Albert D. Auryansen, Mrs. Raymond Lang and Mrs. George A. Clapp.

Receiving informally with Mrs. Hubert F. Blair, president of the Newtonville Club, were Mrs. John F. Capron, president of the Newton Centre Club; Mrs. William H. Brackett, chairman of Dramatics of the same Club; Mrs. J. Warren Buckman, chairman of Dramatics of the Auburndale Club, and Miss Estelle G. Marsh, chairman of Dramatics of the Newtonville Woman's Club.

To Miss Marsh must be given much of the credit for this delightful afternoon, for through her efforts and the efforts of the combined Dramatics committees of the three Clubs this neighborly spirit among the Clubs has been established.

Lodges

Lieut. Col. Fred E. Perkins, Department Aide for Massachusetts, on the Staff of the General Commandery Patriarchs Militant, I. O. O. F., paid a visit with the Grand Patriarch Francis E. Stoddard to Lawrence Encampment, at Lawrence, last Friday night. Mr. Perkins is the representative of General Edwin E. Quimby of Manchester, N. H., in the departments of Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

Past Grand Patriarch and Past Grand Representative Charles W. Fewkes, of Newton Highlands, also attended this meeting.

At this meeting a reception to eleven of the Past Grand Patriarchs and Past Grand Representatives was given, followed by the working of the Patriarchal Degree with a team of only ten men. This work was done to show the smaller Encampments that this degree may be worked with a small team.

The Minute Men's degree team of the Middlesex Past Grands Association worked the Initiatory degree at Mt. Sinai Lodge, I. O. O. F., of North Cambridge, on Thursday evening.

Edwin H. Dyer, of Waban, P.G.M., of the M.O.V.P.E.R., installed the officers of the Aleithia Grotto, Worcester, on Wednesday night assisted by Thomas F. Murray, of Newton, P.M. of Omar Grotto, of Boston.

Clan MacGillivray of Newton will celebrate the anniversary of the birth of Robert Burns by attending a "Scotch Night" Church service at the Hill Memorial Federated Baptist Church, North Harvard street, Allston. Rev. W. B. Whitney, chaplain at the State Prison in Charlestown and a personal friend of Past Royal Chief Walter Scott will be the speaker.

Monday night Jan. 25 the Clan and Lady Mary Speirs Lodge will join in promoting a whisky party in Bay State Hall at 8 p. m.

The Clan has teams participating in the Fraternity Bowling League in Waltham and in the Gran Clan Carpet Bowling League this season.

Youth Service at Newton Church

A group of students from Boston University School of Theology will be at the Newton Methodist Church Sundays, January 24th and 31st.

These young men will have charge of the Epworth League service on January 24th at 6:15 p. m. and also will present a program for all at the evening service at 7:30.

On January 31st, there will be a union of the Epworth League and the evening service at 7:30, when a featured program will be given.

These young men come from many sections of our land and bring to us ideas and the aspirations of those sections. The groups are in charge of Professor Linfield and all work is done under his direction. The people of Newton are cordially invited to share with us the benefits of their presence.

MASTER PLUMBERS INSTALL

The Master Plumbers of Newton and vicinity held their annual installation and banquet on Thursday evening, January 14, at Hotel Beaconsfield, Brookline. Guests included the Ladies' Auxiliary and National and State Officers of the association. State President Darling of Fall River officiated as installing officer and inducted L. W. Stevens of Needham as president of the local association for a second term.

Among those who contributed to the entertainment program were Mrs. Florence Landers of Waltham, Mr. and Mrs. Perkins of West Newton. Following the entertainment dancing was enjoyed until midnight.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE, NEWTON

The Paramount Theatre, Newton, offers four star attractions next week, which is rather unusual even in our well managed local picture house. The opening performances will be "Will Rogers in 'Ambassador Bill'" and "Tullulah Bankhead in 'The Cheat.'" For the last half of the week Eddie Cantor will be seen in "Palm Days" and James Dunn and Sally Eilers in "Over the Hill." The ever popular Will Rogers will have a strong appeal to children as well as to the grown-ups in "Ambassador Bill," where Rogers represents a home-spun ambassador from the United States who pals with the boy king in a revolution torn country, introduces baseball and organizes a troop of Boy Scouts.

REAL RAIN TO FALL AT DRAMA

Real rain will fall Saturday night, Jan. 23, during the second act of "Behold This Dreamer," which is being given by the Newton Dramatic Club in the Newton Centre Club House. The effectiveness of this half hour rainfall outside the big window of the scene will add greatly to the well-produced play.

Much interest throughout the Newtons is being shown in the unique aspect which the scene in an insane asylum brings into this most unusual play. The "inmates" who are among Newton's best citizens are giving a delightfully whimsical interpretation to their characters.

HOLDS 97th ANNUAL

The Ladies' Benevolent Society of Upper Falls met for their 97th annual meeting on Thursday, January 7th, at the home of Mrs. Henry H. Fanning, 114 High street, Upper Falls. The records for the first meeting read as follows: "A few ladies of Upper Falls, feeling the importance of relieving the sick and destitute in their immediate vicinity agreed to meet on the first of January 1836 and from themselves into a society for that purpose."

Meetings were held the first of the month in the homes of the various members. The ladies would gather and sew all day for the needy and in the evening the men of the family would join them for supper which was followed by games and a good time. The society has been in continuous existence 96 years and is entering the 97th year of active service.

When the society was first formed it was known as the "Newton Female Benevolent Society" which title was later changed by vote of the descendants of the original members to the "Ladies' Benevolent Society."

The original members sewed for the needy of the village, and with the assistance of the men, who were auxiliary members, and with the form of warm clothing, coal, wood, and groceries but never any cash donations as they preferred to relieve the distress of the needy themselves.

This wonderful work has been carried on by the descendants of the first members on a smaller scale because of a smaller membership. The Society meets once a month to sew. They are making pillow cases which will be a gift to the Pomroy Home in Newton when completed and former donations have included gifts of sewing to the Stone Institute, Upper Falls and the Newton Hospital.

In 1931 the society donated $10 to the relief of the needy in Upper Falls and at the January meeting $10 was voted as the 1932 donation to the needy of the village.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. Henry H. Fanning; vice president, Mrs. James K. Hemphill; secretary, and treasurer, Mrs. Charles W. Johnson; Work Committee, Mrs. Charles Randall and Miss Helen Bacon. Refreshments were served by the hostesses at the close of the business meeting.

Aldermen Hold Annual Dinner At Brae-Burn

Mayor Compliments '31 Board For Co-operation

The 1931 Newton Board of Aldermen held a dinner at the Brae Burn Club on Tuesday night. This dinner is a custom which has been followed for many years by past Boards of Aldermen and serves as a farewell to retiring members. The committee in charge of the affair on Tuesday night was comprised of Aldermen Gallagher, Gordon, Jamieson and Smith. Mayor Weeks and City Clerk Grant were guests. An entertainment was provided by Joseph H. Gildea, pianist; Paul H. Ryan, baritone; and Walter Welsh, monologue artist.

Mayor Weeks complimented the Aldermen for their service to the city and their co-operation with him in keeping Newton's affairs on such a sound financial basis. He contrasted the condition of this city with that of many other municipalities which are in dire financial straits and he asserted that the same careful conduct in governing Newton must be continued. Ex-Alderman Chester A. Prior of West Newton told his former colleagues of the valuable experience he had acquired and the pleasure he had obtained by serving with them for the past four years. Fred W. Woodcock, who served as alderman from Ward 2 for the last four years, expressed his admiration for the city governments which have served Newton. He said that although he seemed to get only complaints and criticism while in office, the expressions of appreciation he has received since retiring from the Board, have proved to him that the people of Newton do realize that their Aldermen make commendable sacrifices of time and effort. Former Alderman Edward H. Powers also spoke.

Local Kiwanian Is Installed As Lieut. Governor

Officers and members of Kiwanis clubs from 10 cities and towns of Greater Boston met with the Newton club in Temple Hall, Newtonville Wednesday evening to honor Attorney James P. Gallagher of this city who was elevated to the office of Lieutenant-Governor of the Fifth Division of Kiwanis at the last New England convention. Nearly 200 Kiwanians and guests, which included members of the city government, enjoyed a well-prepared dinner after which the local club presented a gold wrist watch to the honored guest. Speeches and vaudeville entertainment followed.

Charles A. Mahoney, president, was toastmaster at the dinner and first introduced James Dempsey, representative of Mayor Sinclair Weeks. The mayor's representative, a member of the club, made the presentation speech and "Lieutenant-Governor Jim" responded in his inimitable manner. Then followed a series of one-minute addresses by the presidents and trustees of the Kiwanis clubs of Boston, Arlington, Belmont, Brookline, Cambridge, Needham, Quincy, Somerville and Waltham.

Every one of the speakers lauded the affable "Jim" Gallagher for the service he has given the Kiwanis clubs of the district and pledged the support of their clubs. He was verbally dissected and his qualities of leadership, ability and fellowship pointed out to the gathering. The climax of the speech-making period came with the introduction of Former Asst. United States District Attorney Daniel Gallagher of Boston, brother of the guest of honor. His was a speech of brotherly love, replete with witicism, in which he expressed his own appreciation for the honors which had been bestowed on his younger brother.

Costume Parade To Be Feature Of Carnival

Prizes To Be Given For Outstanding Costumes

The audience which plans to enjoy the mid-winter Ice Carnival at Crystal Lake, Newton Centre, scheduled for the afternoon and evening of Saturday, February 6th, or on a favorable day thereafter, will not be an audience of merely spectators. Every one who wishes may take part in a spectacular skating costume parade which is to be one of the features of the evening program. Every boy and girl, man and woman who enjoys skating is invited to devise his or her own costume and compete for the prizes to be awarded by a group of competent judges. Eight individual prizes will be offered. Four for the most beautiful costumes and four for the most grotesque costumes as first prizes for girls under 14, for boys under 14, for women and for men. There will also be a first prize awarded to the most original costumes group. It is understood that some groups are planning to have effective floats such as sleds, toboggans or other forms capable of easy propulsion across the ice. Entries for the costume parade are in charge of Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, who may be reached by telephoning West Newton 0413. Registrations for the parade will also be accepted at the entrance office on the evening of the meet.

The costume parade is but one of the many features planned. Other leading affairs will be the all-star hockey game by a team of Newton boys who later became college leaders in the popular sport against a team picked from the 1932 Harvard Varsity Hockey Squad; the brilliant night illumination under which several pageant scenes from the life of George Washington such as "Crossing the Delaware," "Valley Forge," etc., will be depicted; the excitement of speed and figure skating by nationally famous experts; barrel jumping by the famous Emil Roy and the side-splitting antics of Henry McLellan, skating clown.

There will be a phore bon-fire, appropriate rhythmic music for skating accompaniment as well as refreshments to add to the enjoyment of participants and spectators. Both the afternoon and evening will be replete with interest in the varied phases of this winter sport.

Entries for Newton citizens or for citizens of neighboring cities and towns, should be made as promptly as possible with the Playground Department, Mr. Ernst Herrman, Superintendent, either at City Hall, West Newton or with the directors in charge at Bullough's Pond, Newtonville, Crystal Lake, Newton Centre, or Pulsifer Cove, Auburndale.

Any necessitated postponement of the Carnival will be announced through the press and by bulletins.

Ask City to Pay Damage Claims

Alleged defects in Newton streets are responsible for several claims entered against the City of Newton.

Anne Rogers of Watertown seeks payment of money for injuries she received when she fell opposite 247 Washington street at Nonantum Square, Newton on December 19. She claims a hole in the street caused her to fall.

The condition of Washington street is responsible for two other claims against the city. E. J. Sennott of Milk street, Boston, asks for $15.67 to compensate him for repairs he had to have made to his car after it had been damaged by striking some holes on Washington street opposite 457 on December 23. Clyde Lombach of Boylston street, Boston, asks the modest sum of $2 to pay for a spring broken on his car when it hit a hole opposite police headquarters at West Newton on the night of January 12. Lombach states that no light had been placed as a warning at this defective place.

W. P. Coughlin of Fayette street asks for $7.50 damages. His overcoat was torn when a projecting wire on a gate at Boyd Park caught it as M. Coughlin passed through this gate recently.

Wm. E. Soule Is Elected President Of Imp. Society

Chestnut Hill Organization Elects Other Officers

At the annual meeting of the members of the Chestnut Hill Improvement Society held last Tuesday evening at the Commonwealth Country Club, William E. Soule was elected president, succeeding David C. Theall, who has been at the head of the organization for three years.

Other officers elected were as follows: A. C. Webber, first vice-president; Richard Harte, second vice-president; Rev. D. J. Lynch, S. J., third vice-president; Edward O'Connell, fourth vice-president; Bernard L. Gorfinkle, treasurer; and Fred S. Moore, secretary. The Board of Governors elected were David C. Theall, Moses H. Galesian, Charles Barnett, Moses E. Jacobs and M. J. McGuire and as president.

The remarks of the retiring president, Mr. Theall, concerning the accomplishments of the Society during his administration, were received with hearty applause. The members passed a resolution commending him very highly for his faithful efforts in behalf of the organization.

President Soule is one of the charter members of the Society and has been most active in its work since its inception. For the last three years he has been its secretary and a member of the Board of Governors. He is a graduate of Newton High School, Class of 1895 and is one of the best known residents of Chestnut Hill.

Mr. Soule has been identified with banking and financial interests in Boston for many years, having been with the banking firm of Estabrook & Co.; the Boston News Bureau and as financial editor of the Boston Post. He is now with the financial department of the Boston Globe. His long business and newspaper training, together with his following of city and Ward 6 affairs, makes him an outstanding figure and gives promise that the interests of the Chestnut Hill Improvement Society will be greatly enhanced.

Start Campaign To Aid Local Unemployed

The Newton Post of the American Legion and the Mayor's unemployment relief committee of Newton, have succeeded in getting off to a fine start with their recently announced unemployment campaign. A great many men in Newton, ex-service and otherwise, have already been put to work and temporary employment will be given to many more during the course of the next two or three weeks. Harold Young and Harold D. Ames are the two executives in charge of the campaign and they are in hopes of creating work for at least one hundred more men during the time that this campaign is in progress. Newton, like a great many other cities in and around Boston has a large number of unemployed citizens, more in fact, than can be readily taken care of. It was in the interest of these citizens who are needy and without work that this unemployment drive was commenced, and the co-operation of each and every individual who is in a position to help, will create more work and will add greatly to the solution of the present critical unemployment situation.

The Legion is asking the citizens of Newton to co-operate with them to the extent of donating one dollar and in return for this donation, the Legion is delivering to each contributor, as a token of appreciation, a copy of the famous World War book "The Lost Battalion" from the pen of Leo McCollum one of America's outstanding war poets; a writer who is commonly referred to as the "American Kipling." Through the kindness of the author, and an arrangement with his publishers, a quantity of these books have been obtained, and the Legion feels that this popular war memoir, which has already over a million readers will be thoroughly enjoyed by all those who secure a copy.

Welfare Bureau Annual Meeting

All members and friends of the Newton Welfare Bureau are cordially invited to attend the Annual Meeting of the organization on Wednesday afternoon, February 3, 1932, at 4:15 o'clock in the rooms of the Bureau, 12 Austin street, Newtonville.

Mr. William H. Pear, General Agent of the Boston Provident Association, will speak on the subject: "Trends of Relief Giving—Public and Private."

Mr. Pear has analyzed relief figures and trends in various parts of the United States and has worked them out on charts and graphs, so that he gives a most understandable and timely picture of a subject in which the general public is deeply interested at present. It is hoped that everyone interested will come to this meeting which will give an opportunity to find out, not only about the work of the Welfare Bureau but also the very interesting subject of Public and Private Relief Money; a subject which is being constantly discussed in the present emergency.

A report of the work of the Newton Welfare Bureau for the past year will be given, Officers and Directors for the ensuing year will be elected, and such other business transacted as may properly come before the meeting.

Will Determine if Schools Have Too Many Teachers or Too Many Subjects

Committee Acts on Mayor Weeks' Suggestion—No Profits From Athletics To Share With City—Oppose Attempt To Control Schools

The regular meeting of the Newton School Committee was held Monday night at School Headquarters in Newtonville. Chairman George H. Tracy presided and the members present included Mrs. Cornell of Ward 5, Church of Ward 1, Fernald of Ward 3, Amesbury of Ward 4, and Butts of Ward 7. Committeeman Mather of Ward 6 was again absent.

Mr. Tracy informed the committee that Mayor Weeks has suggested that a study of the Newton school system be made to ascertain if any surplus of teachers exists, or if subjects are being taught in the Newton public schools which are not necessary. It was voted that a sub-committee of three be appointed to investigate these matters.

A request was received from F. E. Wilson, director of athletics, asking that a wire fence be constructed between the grandstand at the high school athletic field and the running track. This fence would be 350 feet long, 4 feet high, and would cost $1.10 per running foot; the cost to be financed from the funds of the High School Athletic Association. The purpose of the fence is to keep persons leaving the grandstand after games from trampling over the running track. Mr. Butts objected to this method of financing the cost of the fence. He contended it would be establishing a bad precedent, as the athletic association might be expected to carry out other projects in the future. He believes the city should defray the cost of the fence. It was voted to refer this matter to the sub-committee on playgrounds.

A suggestion from Mayor Weeks that the High School Athletic Association share with the city profits made on athletic contests and games was deemed impracticable by the school committee. While the committee thought that the Mayor's proposal fair, because of the large amount which has been expended on the stadium and athletic fields, it believes that instead of any profit this year, the association will have a loss to show at the end of the season.

The Mayor had expressed the belief that the association could turn over about $1000 each year to the city. For the year beginning July 1, 1930, and ending June 30, 1931, there was a balance in the association's treasury of $2792.52. On December 31, 1931, this balance had increased to $5781.22. It is estimated that for the balance of this school year $3845 will be drawn from this balance to defray the upkeep of sports activities which are operated at a loss. This will leave only about $1900 on hand at the end of next June, as compared with $2792 last June. Football receipts fell off the past season, instead of increasing, as was expected.

A letter was received from Mayor Weeks in reply to the communication sent to him by the School Committee asking that an addition be built at the Bigelow School. The Mayor asked that the joint committee of Aldermen and School Committee members, which confers on new school buildings, meet to consider this matter.

The school committee voted to oppose House Bill 499 which is sponsored by Mayor Bates of Salem. This bill would give city and town governments more control over public schools than they now possess. At present about the only function city and town governments have regarding schools is to make appropriations asked by school committees for the erection and maintenance of school buildings and the conduct of school departments. The Newton School Committee considers this bill detrimental to the best interests of schools, and believes the passage of this bill would place schools under political control. Chairman Tracy was authorized to appear before the Legislative Committee on Municipal Finance to oppose the bill. Secretary Kellar was instructed to write Newton's representatives in the Legislature asking them to oppose the bill.

An application from Mary Stanley of Newtonville asking for the use of the high school auditorium on May 5 and 6 for recitals by her pupils in dancing was refused because the use of school buildings for private enterprises is not granted.

The committee went into executive session to consider the school budget. It was voted to hold the next meeting on February 15.

Seek State Aid On Washington St.

The resurfacing of Washington street from West Newton to Newton Corner, which is expected to be done sometime the coming spring, will cost about $300,000, according to current estimates. Mayor Weeks announced yesterday that he has conferred with State officials and has proposed that part of the cost of the resurfacing be borne by the State Department of Public Works. The continuation of Washington street in the towns of Wellesley, Natick and Framingham has been largely reconstructed the past two years as a State Highway. Much through traffic from other places passes over Washington street and it is expected that this traffic will be largely increased when the new Worcester turnpike is completed through Wellesley.

NEWTON DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

In order to meet the increasing demands for the services of their nurses, the Newton District Nursing Association has been obliged to add to their staff another full-time trained nurse.

Besides the Executive Director, Miss Hilga S. Nelson, the staff now consists of four graduate nurses, and four Senior student nurses from the Newton Hospital. This efficient staff makes their daily rounds in all parts of Newton either on foot or in three Ford cars which are provided by the Association.

Notify B. & W. To Raise Tracks

Another angle in the controversy between officials of the State Department of Public Works and the Boston & Worcester Street Railway over the new Worcester turnpike has been reached. The State officials have notified the B. & W. company that the tracks of this concern must be raised to the grade of the new highway at all points, including overpasses. The B. & W. demands $555,000 for the surrender of its track rights from Framingham easterly. The State contends this price is too high. If the State and the B. & W. reach an agreement, it is probable that the company will abandon trolley cars entirely as most of its business for the past few years has been conducted by the use of buses. If the B. & W. tracks are raised on the new highway, the roadways for automobiles will be only 20 feet wide instead of 30 feet, which would be the width if the tracks are removed.

AUTO TAX ABATEMENT SEASON CLOSES

Under the state law, motor vehicle owners who turn in or transfer their cars, can apply for abatement for the unexpired time within six months from the date of excise bill or date of transfer. On bills or transfers that have run less than six months the abatement period expires January 31, 1932.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON TAKES LEAD IN FIRST HALF OF MEET

Newton High took a 40 to 37 point lead in the first half of its two-meet series with Brookline high on the indoor track last Saturday with several of the local athletes coming through to upset the forecasts which showed Brookline a slight favorite. The second half of the meet will be held a week from tomorrow afternoon on the Brookline track and the orange and black has high hopes of coming through on top again for the fourth consecutive year.

In last Saturday's meeting it was nip and tuck all the way through with the visitors sweeping all three places in the shotput, the third event of the day, to take a lead which they maintained up to the relay race, the final event.

Last week in these columns a 39 to 38 score was predicted with either team the winner. In four of the nine events the point division ran true to form. In one event Newton picked up two points and in three other events one point in each while in the shotput Brookline gained three points to offset part of the orange and black gain.

Stanley Johnson of Newton and Allen Schwartz of Brookline were the leading performers for the two teams. Johnson totallied 13 points with first in the hurdles and broad jump and an all-important second in the high jump. Schwartz won the shotput and high jump to give Brookline ten points. Doug Sloane of Newton was on the heels of the leaders with a tie for first in the 300, a second in the dash, and lead-off man on the winning relay going his first under 9 points for the day. The Brookline sweep of the shotput was offset by Johnson's second in the high jump, Fitzgerald's win in the 1000, Terry's third in the dash, and Pescosolido's third in the 600.

The hurdle trials brought Stan Johnson and Milton Bradley of Newton against Milton Palmer of Brookline together in the finals. Johnson took first handily with Palmer second and Bradley a close third. It was the latter's first meet of the season and he won his trial heat in such fashion that it seemed for a time that he might nose out Palmer in the finals. Palmer had the edge, however, to give Brookline 3 points in the event to Newton's 6 as was forecast.

Newton picked up a point in the dash when Bill Terry came through over Sam Levine for third place which was figured as a Brookline point. Stanley Cohen of Brookline broke the tape ahead of Doug Sloane for a first place to keep Newton down to 10 to 8 score for the first two events.

The shotput was a clean sweep for the Wealthy Towners which gave them what seemed to be a commanding lead but the orange and black lads failed to crack under the pressure. Tom Malloy, Newton's leading shotputter tossed the leaden pellet his usual 40 feet but Coach Tom Hines and Allen Schwartz, Sam Lourie and Bob Hall, all of whom outdid Malloy's efforts. The nine points here gave Brookline a 17 to 10 lead as the 300-yard run was called.

The 300 was run in three heats against time with Captain Jimmy Cahill of Newton against Perkins of Brookline in the first heat, Doug Sloane against Bob Hall in the second heat and Francis Tusher against Stan Cohen in the third. Cahill was given little competition by Perkins and opened up an insurmountable lead in turning a flat 37 for the distance. Sloane gained the first bank over Hall and the latter went out of the race when he fell. Sloane was clocked in 37s to equal Cahill's time.

It was then up to Tusher and Cohen. Cohen took the lead and fought off every effort made by Tusher to pass him with the latter just failing to catch the Brookline lad at the tape. Cohen's time was slightly slower than the 37s of the first two heats and Newton chalked up 8 points to Brookline's one to tie the score.

Brookline was practically conceded first and second in the high jump with Stanley Johnson, Newton's ace, for third but Johnson came through in great style with a second place and Newton hopes brightened. The bar had been raised to 5 feet 7 inches with Schwartz of Brookline, the favorite and a 5 feet 10 inch performer, clearing it on his first trial. R. Plotkin and Bob Hall, with Johnson, were the other competitors still in the fight and all failed on their first two tries. Both Plotkin and Hall went out on their third trial but Johnson gave all he had to successfully clear the bar to earn second place. The bar was raised to 5 feet 8 inches and after Schwartz cleared it and Johnson failed on his first try the latter dropped out on Coach Enoch's orders. The score was now Brookline 24, Newton 21.

Captain Joe Enwright of Brookline was the 600-yard favorite with Willie Mullen, the Newton hope. Trainer of Brookline and Pescosolido were to fight it out for the odd place. Enwright stepped out in the lead with Mullen at his heels for the first half of the race. Mullen made a great bid to pass the Brookline leader half way through and for over two laps the two fought side by side for the lead. To many of the spectators it seemed that Enwright was using his arm to prevent Mullen from passing. At any rate it was nip and tuck race all the way with Enwright having a foot margin at the tape. On the wider track at Brookline next week Mullen should give Enwright the battle of his life with fine prospects of defeating the Wealthy Towners. Last Saturday Pescosolido took third place with a comfortable margin for a third place for Newton. Brookline's first place gave them another point mar-

OUR LADY HIGH FIVE BREAKS OWN RECORD

The Our Lady High School basketball five smashed its own high-scoring mark in a Greater Boston Catholic High School league game on Tuesday, in overwhelming the St. Clement's five of Medford 78 to 10 on the Newton floor. The previous mark of 77 to 12 was made by Our Lady in its game with St. John's of Cambridge about ten days ago. Last week Friday the local team took immaculate Conception High of Revere into camp to the tune of 65 to 28 and is deadlocked in a triple tie for first place with St. Charles of Waltham, 1931 winners, and Cathedral High of So. Boston. The Catholic league seeds its teams so that the four seeded fives do not face each other until nearing the last of each round. This afternoon the first of the games between the leaders will take place when Our Lady high goes to Waltham. The Newton team has scored 266 points in its four league contests thus far while St. Charles has totallied 216 points. The game between the two will be one of the feature games of the season and on the basis of its scoring power the Newton team is rated a slight favorite to take the Waltham outfit and also the lead in the circuit.

In beating Immaculate Conception high last Friday Charley Gallagher, Steve McLean and Leo Moran led the attack with 22, 20 and 18 points respectively while in the 78 to 10 win on Tuesday McLean tallied 33 points, Gallagher 23 and Moran 10.

NEWTON FIVE LOSES LEAGUE GAME AT RINDGE

The Newton high basketball team lost its second Suburban league game of the season Wednesday afternoon at Cambridge with the Rindge Tech five winning its second league contest, 29 to 15. The Rindge team led all the way and at half time was in front 11 to 6. The Newton points were well divided between Patterson and Gullan, guards, Jones and Grant, forwards, and Winslow and Wood, forwards.

Somerville High and Rindge are tied for the lead in the circuit with wins and no defeats each while Newton and Cambridge Latin have each lost to both. The Newton team hopes to keep out of the cellar berth by taking Cambridge Latin into camp this afternoon in the game scheduled for the Newton floor.

SPORT NOTES

In Winter Olympics

Two local youths are listed among the 354 athletes from 17 nations that will compete in the winter Olympics at Lake Placid the next few weeks. They are James L. Madden of Newton and John B. Garrison of West Newton. Madden will compete in the figure skating and Garrison on the U. S. Hockey team. Last Friday night the hockey team was defeated by the Boston Bruins in an exhibition game, 5 to 1. The sole goal for the amateurs was caged by Anderson on a pass from Garrison. Sunday the hockey squad left for Lake Placid.

Place in "Y" Meet

At the annual open meet at the Boston "Y" last Saturday night two local youths placed. Tom Clausen of the B. A. A., a former Newton high track captain took second in the 1000-yard run with a 12-yard handicap, and Curtis R. Scott, Northeastern, a Newtonville youth, tied for first in the high jump with a leap of 5 ft. 11 in. in a N. E. A. A. U. championship event.

Stanley Johnson won the broad jump with a leap of 10 feet 1 1/4 inches over Ted Plotkin of Brookline with a mark of 10 feet 1 1/4 inch, while Ralph Plotkin took third. This event placed the count at Brookline 33, Newton 30.

It was the 100-yard run that finally turned the tide in Newton's favor. Eddie Rae was Brookline's bet and in the forecast was the favorite for a first place while Newton hoped to take second and third. Had this event gone true to prediction Newton would then have needed to win the relay and the meet would have ended 39 to 28 in Newton's favor. But Tom Fitzgerald, Newton's leading 1000-yarder was in the right shape and frame of mind to upset the dope. Capt. Enwright entered the 1000 in the hopes of picking up further points for Brookline. Rae took the lead for several laps but about half way through Fitzgerald stepped out in front and began to open up a lead that was never cut down and he won by about ten yards. Enwright encouraged Rae and helped him through to take second place. Enwright took third over Roger Maynard of Newton who could not keep up the pace set by the three leaders.

Fitzgerald's victory made it Brookline 37, Newton 35 and the visitors about threw up the sponge as there was no prospect of picking relay quartet that could offset Newton's fast team of Sloane, Bradley, Tusher and Cahill. Coach Hines sent Perkins, Grenier, Wersman and Hall against the Newton four with each Newton lad gaining on his rival until Cahill broke the tape more than half a lap ahead of Hall.

The second half of the series of meets in which total points count for the ultimate victory, a week from tomorrow at the Brookline track will provide many interesting events with Newton hoping to increase its margin slightly despite the fact that they will be competing on the opponents' track. The dash and hurdle races are slightly longer which in the former event may make it possible for Sloane to nip Cohen in one of the outstanding events of the day.

LEAGUE SCRAPS STANDING TO STAGE TOURNEY

Due to the forced postponement of many of the outdoor games in the Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey League circuit it was voted to scrap the present standing of the eight teams, throw out the games already played and stage an elimination tournament at the Boston Garden in order to determine the championship schoolboy sextet. This action was taken at a meeting of the league the early part of this week.

The series will begin at the Garden rink on Saturday, Feb. 6th, with four games carded. The losers will be eliminated and the winners will meet in two games to be played the following Saturday and the winning teams on that day will meet for the title on Washington's Birthday. The four leading teams in the standing to date were Belmont, Belmont, Belmont and Belmont. Belmont won the first contest between the two teams but Arlington has come fast since the season opened. Newton and Melrose are practically certain winners with Medford the favorite over Rindge. As Melrose and Arlington are in the upper bracket and Newton and Medford in the lower half they should meet each other in the second round games. Melrose is considered one of the finalists while the Newton-Medford affair will provide the other. In its previous game with Medford the Newton team was held to a 3 to 3 tie. In case of tie games the league will request the Garden management to either permit overtime periods or allow the game to be replayed at the earliest opportunity the following week.

Prior to the scrapping of the league standing Newton High was leading the circuit with six victories and one tie in its seven contests for 13 points. Inasmuch as the four leaders won their games last Saturday the standing was not changed with Melrose holding second with 11 points, Medford third with 9 points and Arlington fourth with 8 points.

In defeating Rindge 5 to 3 the Newton team was forced to come from behind as the Cambridge team hung up a 2 to 0 lead before the first period was three-quarters over. Then Newton started to come. With a minute of the period left Dick Kelley scored and immediately afterward Bill Duane got the disc behind the Rindge, passed it out to Charlie Houghton who swept it to the goal to tie the count. In the second period Kelley put the local six in front with a wicked drive from 12 feet out. In the final session Duane counted on Carvell's rebound and Kelley scored his third unassisted tally. Rindge scored its third counter with the Newton third string playing the greater part of the final period.

Fox Out For Winter

Joe Fox of Newtonville, long distance runner at Harvard, is out of track competition for the Crimson for the winter season due to a floating knee cartilage that he received playing touch football. He ought to be ready for the spring outdoor season. The local youth is the sixth Crimson athlete to have received injuries in the "stompe" games in recent years and it is probable that Coach Eddie Farrell will ban the game for the track men.

Turns Professional

John Stanley of Cabot street, a former heavyweight national champion and instructor at Harvard for several years has taken up professional wrestling.

Newton League Bowling

In the Newton league bowling matches on Wednesday night the Newton Club took four points from Commercial of Brockton, Mauds took four from University and Middlesex took three out of four from Hunnewell to make a triple tie for first place with a 6-2 rating. Hunnewell follows close behind with a 5-3 rating. University and Weston, which split even in its match with Waban, led the lower half of the standing with Waban and Commercial in the last two places.

Jansen Retalls Crown

Tom Jansen of the Harvard Club and Willard Rice of the Newton Centre Tennis Club met last Saturday on the Newton Centre courts in the final round of the Middlesex Bowl Squash Racquet tourney. Jansen successfully defended his title by winning 15-8, 15-13, 15-14.

Peaky In Shape

Carl Pescosolido, former Newton high and Deerfield Academy athlete, is shaping up nicely in the dash for the Harvard varsity track team. He finished second to his teammate Art Watkins in the 50-yd. sprint at the K. of C. games last year and is expected to be in the running for first place at this year's games tomorrow night at the Garden.

WILL DEFEND TITLE AT N. U. INTERSCHOLASTICS

The Newton High school indoor track team will defend its 1931 title tomorrow afternoon at the annual Northeastern University Interscholastic meet. In the past four years Newton and Medford have been the winners and these two are leading contenders for the 1932 honors. Brookline High, Lawrence High and other strong teams will make things interesting and with twenty schools entered in the competition the point division will be split among many of the schools. In recent years approximately 15 points have been considered as a sufficient total to win and in as many events with the relay dependent upon places won in the relay, is capable of scoring this total.

Newton, although not as strong as a year ago when the team led by Captain Milton Green, scored in five events and the relay. In only one event was a first place hung up, that by Green in the hurdles. This year the orange and black may well score in as many events with the relay four having an excellent chance to hang up the fastest time of the day.

Doug Sloane should place well up in the dash and Stanley Johnson well up in the hurdles to give Newton any where from six to eight points in the first two events. Captain Jimmy Cahill is a possibility for a first place in the 300 while Willie Mullen and Tom Fitzgerald look good for at least a point or two each in their favorite events, the 600 and 1000. Johnson may also be in the point division in the high jump with the fraction that put Newton out in front. Brookline with Allen Schwartz a possible double winner in the high jump and shotput, Cohen in the dash and Enwright in the 600 will be right in the running to the end.

Newton fared well on the draw for places in the track events with Cahill getting the pole in the third heat of the 300, Mullen drawing third position in the first heat of the 600, and Fitzgerald No. 7 man in the second heat of the 1000.

Sloane will be in the third heat of the dash against Roberts of Lawrence, Phinney of Arlington, McDonald of Everett, Mangold of Watertown and Lindsey of Lynn English. Terry was drawn in the sixth heat.

Johnson is in the second heat of the hurdles with Winschusen of Malden as the leading competitor.

The Y. M. C. A. now holds third place in the league having won sixteen games and lost four. The Union Boat Club team in second place is just one game ahead of the "Y," and Dunster House is in first place, three games ahead, having won nineteen games and lost but one.

Next Saturday afternoon the "Y" plays the Weston Golf Club team at Weston.

Basketball

With six wins and three defeats the Senior Basketball Team is tied for second place with Beverly Y in the "Y" Suburban Basketball League. Saturday evening the "Y" defeated Newburyport Y. M. C. Sixty-Fourth Annual Meeting Of Central Church

The 64th Annual Meeting of Central Congregational Church was held on Thursday evening, January 21st. An informal reception preceded the dinner which was served at 6:30. Mrs. George A. Keil, chairman. Following the dinner the meeting was called to order by the moderator, Mr. William A. McCormick. In a brief and happy address the pastor, Rev. Randolph S. Merrill, outlined some of his plans and ideals. A Friendly Visitation during the week previous to Family Sunday, February 14th, will bring visitors into the homes of every member of the parish. Mr. Merrill in the short period since he became pastor has made 161 calls and is gaining in a personal knowledge of his people. The aged and ill have been his first care. He announced his intention of spending a week at Atlantic City before the duties of the Lenten season commenced.
Mr. J. B. Robson, treasurer, reported gifts for benevolences totaling over $8000.00. Mr. Frank G. Willson, deacon, and Mrs. Harold Billings, deaconess, who retire from these duties, were heartily commended for their efficient and loyal service to the church. Though they retire from these offices they will be useful in the others to which they were elected.

One of the most encouraging aspects of the work of the church is the successful organization of the young people into group activities suited to the various ages. Miss Isabelle Chute, director of religious education attracted attention to a pamphlet descriptive of her department. There is systematic training for the young which starts with the cradle roll. Mrs. Robert Lindquist, superintendent. Miss Charlotte Andrews and Miss Chute direct the Kindergarten; Mrs. J. Mace Andrews, the primary department; Mrs. W. A. McCormick, the pre-junior; Mrs. P. E. Woodward, the junior; Mr. H. P. Patey, the intermediate and senior. The senior class of the Church School is a teaching training class for young men and women under the leadership of Miss Helen E. Nute. Various clubs provide entertainment and instruction and the social contacts so necessary for the development of young people. Drama, music, athletics, discussion of modern problems are some of the interests. A retreat at Dunstable where 25 young people and six counsellors considered plans for the year's work was one of the projects.

An election of officers was held and after the ballots were cast Mr. McCormick requested the Women's Association, Mrs. Howard M. Waybright, Central Club, G. W. Brainerd, Central Guild, Miss Gladys Cunningham; C. C. C. Club, Miss Alma Warner; R. M. T. Club, Miss Grace Rangnow; Young People's Society, Philip Andrews; Junior High Society, James Stewart; Pi Gamma Society, Winslow Hartford; Finance Committee, Ralph W. Conant; Nominating Committee, Wallace C. Boyden.

Retiring Officers—Collector, Charles A. Rouillard; Deacon, Frank G. Willson; Deaconesses, Mrs. Harold D. Billings, Miss Mary L. Rolfe (appointed to fill vacancy); Standing Committee Members, Arthur H. Burdick, Strabo V. Claggett, Horace W. Orr, Mervin S. Giles.
New Officers—Collector, Dan P. Jewett; Deacon (for six years), Ernest L. Nichols; Deaconess (for three years), Miss Mary L. Rolfe; Mrs. Samuel Thurber; Standing Committee Members, Fred C. Alexander, Richard C. Ashenden, Harold D. Billings, H. H. Lounsberry; Delegates, William A. McCormick, Howard M. Waybright, Mrs. Austin H. Decatur, Mrs. William L. Vosburgh, Mrs. Florence A. Speaks On Chinese Textiles At Club Meeting

Mrs. George L. Davis of 52 Madison avenue, Newtonville, was hostess to the Boston Monnett Club of Ohio Wesleyan University at its recent monthly meeting, when Mrs. Frederick T. Morris of Cambridge spoke on "Chinese Textiles." Mrs. Morris, whose husband was a member of the party sent out to the Desert of Gobi a few years ago by the New York American Museum of Natural History, has spent some time in China where she made a valuable collection of textiles at the same time studying Chinese art which is symbolic of the religion, history, and folklore of the country.

The speaker gave an outline of the history of the silk industry in China. Legends dating back to 2200 B. C. have been found in terms of silk. Tapestries were first made in 100 A. D. and brocades in 1000 A. D. No matter how poor the Chinese home, it has its loom and one brocade pattern. The various widths of Chinese fabrics are accounted for by the fact that there is no standard width for the looms. Silk is the rich man's garment except when he is in mourning. Mrs. Morris spoke of the wild silkworm from which pongee comes. The making of felt had its origin in China. Basketry is also a very old art. There is one Oriental industry in which the Chinese are not at their best, that of carpet making.

Mrs. Morris found an appropriate setting for the exhibition of her interesting collection of textiles in the home of her hostess since Rev. and Mrs. Davis, who were missionaries in China for twenty-five years, have in their home many furnishings from that country. Mrs. Davis, assisted by Mrs. John S. Olcott and Mrs. C. M. McConnell, served her guests with tea, rice, cakes, and confections, all Chinese products.

PESCOSOLIDO REFUSED PAROLE

Girl Scouts

The Newton Girl Scouts have been interested, the past few years, in the work which is being done by the Needlework Guild. They feel that this year when all the troops are emphasizing community service, they would like to do more for this splendid organization which has such an active Newton chapter.

A representative from each troop in Newton met Tuesday at 3:00 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Carl H. Gove, Chairman of the Newton Branch of the Needlework Guild.

The purpose of the meeting was to explain more fully to the Scouts just how they could co-operate with the Needlework Guild. Mrs. George Clapp, Needlework Guild Representative on the Girl Scout State Board, spoke to the girls and showed them articles they could make for the different charities of their own city. The girls are asked to help if they want to and they may do as much or as little as they have time for. Mrs. Clapp suggested making brilliant colored afghans for the children's ward of a hospital.

Mrs. Arnold, Needlework Guild member, and Mrs. George Rechel, Needlework Guild Representative on the Newton Council for Girl Scouts, plan to go around to the various troops to show the other girls what articles they can make. The girls who represented the troops at this meeting will take charge and find out what the girls in their troops want to do.

With the city saving considerable sums of money on snow removal work this winter it would be highly desirable if a portion of this money could be used to put some of the city laborers back on the payroll rather than have them continue to swell the local unemployed. While it is true that we may still have considerable snow the amount spent thus far this year is almost negligible over the average amounts for December and January.

From one of the most outstanding groups of officers and trustees that ever represented any organization the Newton Hospital trustees have chosen Edward J. Frost as its president to succeed the late Charles E. Kelsey. Mr. Frost has taken an active interest in many affairs and is a worthy successor to the office. We congratulate the hospital on its selection.

If the ground-hog sees his shadow next Tuesday, Candlemas Day, and goes back for another six weeks, will this be the beginning or the end of winter?

Under The Gilded Dome

Newton has few bills of direct concern before this year's Legislature. Mayor Weeks has asked for legislation permitting the Aldermen, with approval of the Mayor, to order the widening of Homer street, Walnut street and Commonwealth avenue over the city land where the new City Hall and other municipal buildings are to be built.

The proposed measure reads as follows: "The Board of Aldermen of the city of Newton, with the approval of the Mayor, may lay out, relocate or alter in accordance with the provisions of the law applicable to the laying out, relocating or altering public ways in the city of Newton, Walnut street, Homer street and Commonwealth avenue over land heretofore appropriated and owned for other public uses, to wit, as a memorial to soldiers, sailors or marines of all wars for a city hall and for a group of municipal buildings."

Representative Baker has filed the petition of Laurence B. Fletcher and Herbert Parker to establish a fund for the benefit of Mrs. Etta L. Forbush, widow of the late Edward Howe Forbush who for many years was State ornithologist. The bill provides, "After the reimbursement to the Commonwealth of all costs and charges the proceeds from sales of the volumes known as 'The Birds of Massachusetts' shall be paid over to Mrs. Etta L. Forbush every three months during her lifetime which shall terminate with her decease."

The first bill enacted this session was signed Tuesday morning by Governor Ely. It provides that striped bass may be taken by means of bowled nets from the Parker river and its tributaries in Rowley, Newbury, Georgetown and Groveland.

Consideration of the State budget as submitted by Governor Ely is now the problem of the Joint Ways and Means Committee. For once the committee will be least harshly criticized for pruning items as this year it is pretty thoroughly agreed that there must be much drastic cutting. Usually the Ways and Means Committee is not enthusiastically supported in its desires to reduce the expenses of the commonwealth to the lowest possible figure. There will, no doubt, be talk this year that more money should have been spent for this, that or the other. On the whole, however, the matter of lowering departmental costs will not be so difficult in 1932, except the question of State salaries. This is certain to provoke much discussion. The Governor wants all State salaries of $2000 and above reduced by 10 percent. Naturally, State employees are not jubilant over this suggestion and the Governor is not as popular with them as he once was. The Legislature finds itself in a more or less embarrassing position as it has voted itself $400 extra compensation for the special session in the face of criticism. There seems to be an impression that a majority of the members of the General Court will go slow in reducing salaries of State employees. Furthermore, the Democratic members are said to oppose the Governor's idea and that he will have to look to Republican members to support his theory. All this means considerable of a mix-up before the matter is settled.

The Governor's proposal to lend the State's credit to cities and towns for the purpose of aiding them in financial difficulties is before the Committee on Municipal Finance. Hearings will start next Monday morning.

Senator Hollis appeared at a hearing Tuesday before the Committee on Pensions on the petition of Herbert W. Hall of Newton relative to the payment of annuities to dependents of policemen or firemen killed or

By L. D. G. Bentley

The days have a way of sliding along even if there hasn't been much ice this winter.

Things That Tire Us

Failure to appreciate something which has been done for our benefit is variously condemned as bad manners, extremely poor taste and even base ingratitude. We are warned, "Never look a gift horse in the mouth." No doubt all this is sound reasoning, but what about those people who expect you to admire something simply because you happen at the time to be their guest?

Should we meekly submit to the dominating host or should he stand up on our feet and tell him we didn't come to applaud him and the things that are his but to enjoy ourselves. Take for instance that invitation to accompany a friend who has a new car and who takes you out for a couple of hours. You accept, thinking it is to be a pleasant excursion. Before long you are urged, "Look over there, isn't that a lovely view?" At the beginning you agree because the landscape is picturesque and the whole thing agreeable to gaze upon. But after the fifteenth or twentieth time you've been nudged and commanded, "See that beautiful grove!" or "watch how the river winds in and out"—well, then it is that you get a bit peevish.

The host seems to have an idea that instead of belonging to Nature the show is something he has staged for your entertainment. There is no fun in a ride when you are obliged to keep praising the movement of the car in which you are riding and the stretch of country through which you are traveling. There is monotony in being a good fellow.

Still, there are individuals whose hospitality you share and in return are required to tell them what a beautiful house it is, how prettily decorated are its rooms and how exquisite the furnishings. If that isn't bad manners, extremely poor taste and other things then you have something more on me than I thought.

An Old Novelty

My error, of course, but when I first opened at an inside page the "Telephone Almanac"—you've received your copy no doubt—I thought it was a course of instruction on operating the dial telephones which I understand are to be installed throughout Newton pretty soon. Instead, I found I was gazing at small drawings pictorially presenting the history of the telephone. "Wall type of telephone used in Meriden, Conn., in 1878," said one and "Desk type of telephone used in 1886," said another.

After a time I got on the right track and interest was aroused. For my part I am greatly pleased to find that the telephone company has done this thing. I mean, given us an almanac. These volumes have always held my closest attention. The Old Farmers' Almanac, copies of which are to be found more commonly in the country, have many a time served to keep me quiet on a rainy afternoon. When you're on a vacation and supposed to seek complete rest you will, if you are like a good many of us, try to find things to keep you busy. Unfavorable weather may upset your plans and it is then you turn to the nearest available reading matter. In that way I acquired a fondness for almanacs.

The book which has been generously bestowed upon us is called "Telephone Almanac 1932," containing valuable information for farmers, business men, students and other telephone users. Much of it is historical which means that those of us who have short memories will find this helpful if we keep it handy as we should. We ought to get a lot of it. I am sure that it will be months before I finish the rebus page. It's a long time since I tackled a rebus and this looks like one of the best of its kind.

Although the past is more generously represented than the future we find information about eclipses during 1932 and the moon's phases month by month. Taken all in all this almanac is worth while. I shall hang mine where I can read it at my leisure while waiting for a busy line to become clear or while expecting to hear from someone who has promised to call.

Demand for Justice

One of my friends in the Legislature has reminded me that receiving appeals for loans, which are never repaid, is not the only penalty that goes with the job. He was not complaining, didn't even say he was penalized, but did declare that I had no idea how much was expected of a member of the Great and General Court outside his services in the chambers on Beacon Hill.

I tried to tell him that I did appreciate the exactions of a loyal and devoted constituency but he insisted that I did not and never would until I held office. His utterances did not cause me to think I would like to be a State legislator. If you must know it made me all the more certain that I am totally unfit for such labors.

However, this man's story is as interesting as it is brief. Said he, "My home and my office telephones are ringing all the time. People not only expect me to look up this and that at the State House for them but they want me to find work for men and women, young and old."

"Don't put me down as complaining for I want to be of use, but I cannot begin to accomplish all the things that are asked of me. If money were the only consideration I would gladly part with all the salary the State pays me for the sake of helping unfortunates. The fact is, there is no limit to what is expected of legislators. And the best we can

By Edw. H. Powers

Methods being used in the United Boston Unemployment Relief Campaign should not be tolerated. For instance, residents of Newton working in the Boston Postal District have been practically ordered to contribute one day's pay in each of the coming five months for the relief of the unemployed in Boston. There are many unemployed in this city and if residents of Newton virtually must contribute for the relief of the army of unemployed, such contributions should go to the unemployed of Newton who need relief. Those who desire, and rightly so, to help their friends and neighbors in their own city should not be "strong armed" into contributing to a relief fund for Boston.

About the nerviest proposal we have observed for some time is that received by the Newton School Committee asking that school rooms be provided for use as radio rooms by United States Naval Reserves. With constant demands for more school buildings to supply accommodations for the constantly growing school attendance in this city, citizens of Newton have had to pay huge sums to build new schools and enlarge old ones. Why should they provide quarters for the United States Navy or its reserves? If the Navy requires radio quarters, or any other quarters for its service, regular or reserves, it should erect, purchase or lease its own buildings.

In the press notices of the death of William Wrigley, chewing gum magnate, was the assertion that Mr. Wrigley originated the use of chicle as the base for chewing gum. Newspaper men making such a statement must be quite young. Otherwise, they would remember that Mr. Adams of "Tutti Frutti" fame, popularized chicle chewing gum years before Mr. Wrigley commenced to make the stuff for exercising jaws.

Cancel the huge debts owed by European nations to the people of the U. S. A., so that the altruistic, big-hearted, big-time bankers of this country can collect the loans they floated. That is the position in which we find more huge private loans to foreign countries—and make more profits from lucrative commissions.

Many weeks ago we called attention to the condition of Washington street between Thornton street and Centre avenue, where eastbound automobiles must cross over to enter Centre avenue. At a recent meeting of the Ward I Improvement Association it was urged that this part of Washington street be improved. Al-

George Washington didn't say a mouthful when he advised his countrymen to keep free from entangling foreign alliances. It was a seven-course dinner that George uttered.

And millions of gullible Americans want to join U. S. A. to join the League of Nations.

Amusing the Public

It was at a performance of one of the plays which stand for the best on the legitimate stage, free from coarseness, insinuating speech and cheap claptrap. The kind of play which seems to be more popular but which seems not to find great favor with those who spend their money for theatre tickets. A friend and myself happened to be members of the comparatively small audience. There were a number of people there, but such a production should have had more patrons.

Unable to conceal my disappointment, I asked my companion, "Why doesn't the public turn out when a really high class show like this is given?"

He is a trifle cynical so it did not surprise me when he replied, "Probably the word got around that it was a clean and decent play."

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Shakespeare Club

The Shakespeare Club will meet at the home of Mrs. William E. Moore, 55 Hillside road, Saturday, January 30th, at 2.15 p. m.

The study will be Acts I and II of The Tempest. The members are looking forward to refreshing their memories on this play, the only one laid in the New World and the most original of Shakespeare's works. Music and prophecy are more prominent in the Tempest than in any of the other dramas. This being one of the last of Shakespeare's works comparisons will be made with Washington's Farewell Address, Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar," and poems of Shakespeare's age.

West Newton Junior Educational Club

The play that was scheduled for February by the West Newton Juniors has been indefinitely postponed, due to the fact that the Club members' time is too taken up with other work. However, a Bridge Party will be held January 30th, at the home of Miss Phebe Giles, of Waltham street, West Newton, the proceeds of which will go to aid Newton's Unemployment Fund.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Under the able leadership of Mrs. Appoline Blair, the Newton Centre Woman's Club Chorus will present a program at the musical hour planned for Sunday, January 31st, at 3 p. m. at the Clubhouse.

A feature of the program will be community singing of famous old songs. In addition, Miss Marie Murray, one of the best-known contraltos in Boston, will sing two groups of songs. Among those who plan to attend will be Mrs. M. H. Gulesian, chairman of the Music committee, and Mrs. H. A. Nissen, vice-chairman.

This community affair is open to all, and men are particularly welcome. Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., chairman of the mid-winter activity of the Club, and her committee are preparing an attractive program for the evenings of Friday and Saturday, February 12th and 13th, in the entertaining comedy "The Whole Town's Talking," by Grant Mitchell. Mrs. James Watson is in charge of arrangements for serving a light supper immediately after the play. This will be followed by dancing until 1 a. m., Friday evening, and until midnight on Saturday. Tickets for the play are $1.00, and may be obtained from any member of the Ways and Means committee, of which Mrs. Frank N. Nathan is chairman.

WABAN WOMAN'S CLUB

"An Irishman in Darkest Africa" is the subject on which Captain H. Plunket Woodgate, F. R. G. S., will speak at the regular meeting of the Waban Woman's Club, on February 1st. Captain Woodgate was in service on four different fronts during the World War, and served, also, with the British Military Intelligence Service in Constantinople. He was for four years manager of an immense tea plantation in the mystery-land of the Orient, and knows Ceylon as few white people do today. This lecture describes the four years which he spent in Kenya in the dual capacity of soldier and settler.

During the social hour which follows the afternoon program, tea will be served by the Social committee, of which Mrs. John E. Denham and Mrs. Louis W. Arnold are the hostesses for the afternoon.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

On February 1st, in the Emerson School Kindergarten, the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club is planning to celebrate the Club's Thirtieth Birthday, and also at that time the Bicentennial of George Washington. It is hoped that every member will come to the party and join in the celebration. Miss Doris Hardy will be the chairman of the program.

Auburndale Review Club

Guest Night, an annual feature of the Auburndale Review Club will be held on Tuesday evening, February 2nd, in the Chapel of the Congregational Church, on Woodland road. The evening's entertainment has been planned by the Program committee, Mrs. Richard O. Walter, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Frank F. Davidson, and Mrs. Charles S. Grover. Everything pertaining to Club business has been eliminated, and the program will consist of a reading of "Capt. Drew's Leave," by Adele Hoes Lee, a well-known entertainer, and of music. Mr. Wickliffe J. Spaulding, a Club husband, will sing a group of songs, and will be accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Spaulding.

Professor Manley O. Hudson and Mrs. Leslie B. Cutler are the speakers at the regular meeting of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, on February 2nd, at 2.30 p. m., in the Congregational Parish House.

There will be open house on Sunday, January 31st, from 3 to 4 o'clock at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House, by invitation of the Newton Centre Woman's Club when there will

Since 1919, Mr. Hudson has been Bemis Professor of International Law at Harvard Law School, and as a student of international relations for many years has had unusual opportunities for gaining inside information. During the war he was attached to the Department of State in Washington; was a member of Col. House's Inquiry, in charge of American preparations for Peace; went to Paris with the mission in 1918, and served on the International Law Division throughout the Peace Conference. For a short time he served as special assistant to the American Embassy in Paris.

In view of the present situation in the Far East the address by Professor Hudson on "How the League of Nations Works" will prove particularly timely. Mrs. Leslie B. Cutler, of Charles River, is well-known as political advisor to the Women's Republican Club of Boston, and she comes to the Club to answer the question "What Can the 1932 Legislature Do for You?"

Newtonville Woman's Club

Dr. Abraham Myerson, renowned Neurologist and lecturer, will address the Newtonville Woman's Club, on Tuesday afternoon, February 2nd, at 2.30 o'clock in the Central Congregational Church. He also has been consultant Neurologist in many Boston Hospitals, besides practicing his profession, and is the author of numerous books on Neurology. This talk should be exceedingly interesting and helpful, as Dr. Myerson brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to his lecture on "The Laws of Satisfaction and Desire."

At this meeting the Club will have the pleasure again of hearing the Glee Club render several selections which they have been preparing under the able leadership of Miss Dorothy Curtis. At the close of the program, tea will be served by the Hospitality committee. Those having charge include, Mrs. Henry M. Weidner, Mrs. Leonard T. Clark, and Mrs. Willis O. Foss. At the tea table, Mrs. Charles D. Kerner, Mrs. F. Wendell Pray, Mrs. William F. Warner, and Mrs. Rupert C. Thompson will pour.

The preparation and cooking of the dishes make up the lesson, and samples are served to the audience. Printed recipes of new and modern dishes are presented, together with information on nutrition. These lessons are especially recommended for the woman who wishes to become a successful as well as a popular hostess. A nominal fee will be charged. For further particulars members may call Mrs. Clarence H. Spike, Newton North 3259.

The Garden Group, under the auspices of the Newton Community Club Conservation committee, meets Feb. 4th, at 10 a. m. at the home of Mrs. M. W. Dennison, 132 Farlow road, Newton. A speaker from the Waltham Field Station of the Massachusetts Agricultural College will give a practical talk on gardens.

An invitation has been given to members of the Newton Community Club to visit the Boston Airport. Any who are interested should call Mrs. Goodridge, Newton North 1129-W, for arrangements.

The members of the Newton Community Club are invited to the Presidents' Club, on Wednesday, March 2nd, at 2 p. m. in John Hancock Hall. The West Roxbury Woman's Club will present "The Dover Road," by A. A. Milne. Guest tickets are 75 cents. Any one who wishes to attend must communicate with Mrs. Goodridge at once, as reservations for tickets must be in before February 23rd.

There will be open house on Sunday, January 31st, from 3 to 4 o'clock at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House, by invitation of the Newton Centre Woman's Club when there will be Community Singing. It is hoped that a large number of the Community Club members will avail themselves of this invitation.

State Federation

Details for this all-day conference will be given later, but all who wish tickets for the luncheon must reserve them before February 8th, from Mrs. Charles Goodwin, 277 Pleasant street, Marblehead.

CLUB INSTITUTES. Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, chairman, announces the next Club Institutes for Thursday, February 4th, from 10.30 a. m. to 12.15 p. m., in the Auditorium of the Boston Y. W. C. A., corner of Stuart and Clarendon streets, with the general topic to be discussed "Club Ethics."

RADIO. Over WBZ, on Saturday, January 30th, at 11.30 o'clock, Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith, former president of the State Federation, will speak on the topic "Foundation Stones," recalling early Club days. C. M. Tremaine, of the National Bureau for the Advancement of Music, will be guest speaker for the Music Division, of which Mrs. George F. Schroeder is chairman. "Cello selections will be given by Miss Eleanor Dremer, of Mattapan.

On Saturday, February 6th, at the same hour over the same station, the State broadcast will be a drama entitled "A Woman of Character," given by members of the New Bedford Woman's Club. Mrs. F. M. del Castillo, president of the Cantabrigia Club, will be the pianist.

WASHINGTON BICENTENNIAL. Perhaps Club members need no reminder of the great event of the week in the stupendous spectacle to be staged at Symphony Hall, on the evening of February 6th. Attention again is called, however, to the date, and hour, 8.30 o'clock. Tickets, at prices ranging from fifty cents to $1.50, may be secured from Mrs. Harry S. Wells, 28 Parsons street, West Newton; telephone W. N. 0821-R, or from Miss Josephine G. Richardson, treasurer, 884 Huntington avenue, Boston. A Processional of presidents; addresses by the Governor, the Mayor of Boston, by Mrs. John D. Sherman, Presidential commissioner of the Bicentennial, and former National president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs; and fourteen episodes in the life of George Washington—tableaux that are sure to be most beautiful or interesting—will make up this event that should hold enough of value and charm to linger long in memory, and celebrate most fittingly the two-hundredth anniversary of the birth of America's greatest citizen.

The opportunity of a lifetime is offered to children in the morning performance, at 10.30 o'clock, when these episodes will be given for them, with a musical program added. Tickets for this are 25 and 50 cents.

Clubwomen are further reminded of the gala dinner to be given the previous evening, the 5th, at 6.30 o'clock, at the Women's Republican Club, 46 Beacon street, in honor of Mrs. Sherman, at which Grace Morrison Poole will be toastmistress. Dinner tickets, at $1.50, may be secured from Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, chairman in charge, 1 Hayden road, Cliftondale.

(For details in full of this celebration, see last week's Graphic, the 22nd, Woman's Club Column.)

Auburndale Woman's Club

Are Clubwomen interested in the World's Business? The audience of Auburndale Women's Club members, who taxed the seating capacity of the Plummer Memorial Library last Thursday morning, the 21st, for the first time in the series of Current Events lectures, answered this question conclusively. These four lectures, which were sponsored by the Literature committee of the Club, with Mrs. Arthur F. Freeman as chairman, are given by Professor Brewer G. Whitmore, of the Department of Government at Smith College.

Mr. Whitmore divided his time between "Foreign and Home Affairs". He described the reasons for the world-wide depression, and the measures that have been suggested for relief, including the Dawes Plan, later the Young Plan, and President Hoover's Moratorium. Taking several of the countries abroad separately, he described the Round Table Conference in India, the new French Cabinet, and the present Socialist Party in Germany.

Taking up Home Affairs, he described the Norris Amendment, which would do away with the so-called Lame Duck session of Legislature. Professor Whitmore closed with a tribute of Chief Justice Holmes who has tendered his resignation, after thirty years of loyal service to his government.

The second in the series of lectures will be held at 10.30 o'clock on Thursday, February 11th, in the Plummer Memorial Library. Single admissions may be had at fifty cents each.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

On Friday, January 22nd, the members of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, and their guests, enjoyed an imaginary trip across the continent on the "Poole Special".

Mrs. Joseph A. Otis, a former president of the Club, acted as the personal conductor of the tour. Beautifully colored lantern slides were shown, and all points of interest and views of gorgeous scenery were described by Mrs. Otis in an informal and charming way.

Any Clubwoman would be thrilled at the prospect of a ride on the "Poole Special" to Seattle next June, for the Biennial Convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, but, of course, the privilege will not have that delightful journey. However, those who listened to Mrs. Otis last Friday were grateful for an enjoyable, as well as educational, imaginary journey.

At the conclusion of the meeting coffee and dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. George D. Thomas and her able committee, Mrs. Harry L. Harding and Mrs. Edgar P. Hay were the pourers.

West Newton Junior Educational Club

The January meeting, held at the West Newton Baptist Church was the annual meeting of the West Newton Juniors for the entertainment of mothers. Several members of the West Newton Educational Senior Club were also present.

A report was made by Miss Constance Dort, chairman of the Christmas Welfare committee. The Club has adopted a family, composed of a mother and three children. The day before Christmas, Miss Constance Dort, Barbara Lester and Kate Black went shopping and were really of quite a bit of assistance to Santa. Christmas Eve, the committee loaded a car and proceeded to see Misses Santa Claus. Later it was interesting to discover, when the committee took a vote, that it was declared that the visit on Christmas Eve had been the happiest part of their Christmas.

Kate Black, chairman of the Dance committee, submitted a report of the dance held December 21st, at the West Newton Neighborhood Club. Over a hundred couples attended, making this affair a social as well as a financial success, due to the efficient committee, Miss Kate Black, Miss Elizabeth Bencks, and Miss Margaret McGarey, and due also to the marvelous cooperation of the other members of the Club. With the money raised, coal is to be bought for the adopted family. It was voted that the dance was a success that another is to be held during the Easter Vacation.

Mrs. G. Raymond Lehrer's lecture on the Passion Play was given, with beautiful slides depicting the scenes. This proved an interesting, as well as instructive hour.

Miss Jeanne Volley, Miss Charlotte Hall, and Miss Margaret McGarey, members of the Refreshment committee, served coffee and cake at the conclusion of the lecture.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

On Friday afternoon, January 22nd, in the Club Workshop, Mrs. Miriam Skirball presented Eugene O'Neill's play "Mourning Becomes Electra" to the Drama Reading Class of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club. Mrs. Skirball held one hundred and fifty women tense for two hours with her resume of Mr. O'Neill's plays; with her story of the Greek myth on which this modern tragedy is based, and with the reading of the play.

After Mrs. Skirball's wonderful presentation tea was served.

Community Service Club of West Newton

One of the most enjoyable afternoons on the program of the Community Service Club of West Newton was Wednesday, January 20th, when Captain Plunkett Woodgate spoke to the Club on "The Tower of London". Captain Woodgate, a well known British lecturer, is well prepared to speak with authority on this subject, which he himself considers his most interesting lecture. The picture which illustrated the lecture added much to the interest of the subject.

The records of antiquity in London are unsurpassed, and date from the time of the crucifixion, as Captain Woodgate showed. The Tower of London itself is an ancient citadel in the oldest part of the British metropolis, erected about 1078 by William the Conqueror, to dominate the city.

Captain Woodgate's pictures gave a very clear idea of it, of the bloody tower and the famous Traitor's Gate, which, he states, is about the most historic spot in London. He told of the different uses to which the Tower has been put; of its being the second oldest prison in Europe; and of the many distinguished persons who have been imprisoned there, or have met death on the scaffold, or by being beheaded, among the latter were two of the six wives of Henry VIII, and Lady Jane Grey. The last execution there took place about 1745.

In pleasant vein, Captain Woodgate showed pictures of the ancient and beautiful chapels, and an interesting one, in soft coloring, of the Coronation of King George V. Others, enlarged to show the beautiful intricacy of design and colors of the jewels, portrayed the Coronation Crown, used only in the rare occasions of the crowning of a King; the State Crown used for functions of State; and the magnificent Crown of India, belonging to the King of England as Emperor of India.

Captain Woodgate gave, also, a description of the locking up of the Tower, a ceremony which has taken place nightly for six or seven hundred years. About twice each year this ceremony is broadcast over British radio stations, when the marching feet of the guard, the military orders of the officers, and the closing and locking of the great door, are plainly heard in a broadcast which Captain Woodgate says is the most popular in England.

In modern times, this Tower of gloomy and bloody memory is used as a repository for the National arms, and as a museum, where the crown jewels and regalia are on exhibition, where thousands of tourists annually visit it.

Following this enjoyable program, tea was served under the direction of Mrs. Henry F. Morse.

Mrs. Percival F. Brundage was in charge of a Food Sale in conjunction with the meeting, and Troop 15 of the Girl Scouts sold hoarhound candy.

Newton Federation

Many items of interest were discussed, and several announcements were made at the January meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, held January 25th, in the Technical High School Library.

Attention was called by Mrs. Raymond Green to the Ice Carnival to be held at Crystal Lake probably the first week in February.

General information was given regarding the initial feature of the George Washington Bicentennial Commission to be held in Symphony Hall, February 6th, for which tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Harry S. Wells, 28 Parsons street, West Newton.

Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, chairman of the Community Service committee, sent an appeal for clothing which is much needed at the Welfare Clothing Chest, West Newton. The Mayor's Relief Committee has made it possible for the Federation to invest in wool which may be distributed to members who are willing to knit sweaters for children of school ages, and attractive colors will be ready for distribution February first.

Mrs. Miriam Drury, 334 Franklin street, Newton, telephone Newton N. 3380-M, will undertake the selling of this wool at a very moderate price, and also, will issue directions for the knitting, and it is hoped that in this way the money may be returned to the Relief Committee for their particular use.

The Legislative committee, Mrs. Arth. W. Desoe, chairman, has arranged for interested members to attend a session of the Court, to inspect the New Court House. This will probably be a March event. It is also planned for those who care to attend a meeting of the Board of Aldermen to make Monday, February 15th, the occasion of such a visit.

Tribute was paid to the Clubwomen who have worked in the Christmas Seal Drive. The amount so raised this year has been so far approximately $7,217.00, but there are still many returns to be made, and it is hoped that the receipts will be considerably augmented.

No meeting of Clubwomen in Massachusetts at this time can be held without the tribute being voiced for Grace Morrison Poole. Mrs. Charles C. Willson gave a most interesting impromptu talk about meetings and events to help further Mrs. Poole's campaign for the national presidency of Women's Clubs.

The president, Mrs. Samuel N. Braham, reported that she had accepted the resignation of Mrs. William W. Colton as president of the Press chairman, whose health had forced her to relinquish her work in this connection. Mrs. Robert S. Bowen, 42 Parsons street, West Newton, telephone West Newton 0303-J, has been appointed to succeed Mrs. Colton.

At the close of the business meeting, Mrs. C. Douglas Mercer, president of the Boston Y. W. C. A., was introduced as speaker, and she gave very convincing information as to the efforts and work of her organization, in relief work, vocational guidance, and financial assistance. About two years ago, the Newton branch merged with the Boston Y. W. C. A., and, therefore, the women of Newton interested in that work, have transferred their allegiance to headquarters. There are about six hundred girls and women from this City who take part in the various activities in Boston. From many sources the income of the Y. W. C. A. has, of necessity, been lessened, notwithstanding that the responsibility has become heavier. More help is needed as the number of girls and women increases. There are places for volunteers among Newton women to act as hostesses, to help with the games, and to play the piano for the recreation periods.

The next meeting of the Newton Federation will be the Mid-Year Meeting, and will be observed in commemoration of the Bicentennial of George Washington.

Auburndale Woman's Club

"Joint Drama Day," in which three Clubs participated, was the feature for last Tuesday afternoon at the Auburndale Woman's Club. Mrs. J. Warren Bucknam, Drama chairman for the Club, was hostess for the day. The program opened with a one-act play "Afterwards" coached by Eunice Browning Prelwitz, with Priscilla Fortesque, Dorothy De Witt, and Lorraine Foat Holmes, all Auburndale women, as the cast.

The Newton Centre Woman's Club followed with "Let It Go At That," featuring Mrs. W. J. Brackett, Mrs. George Waterman, Mrs. Douglas French, Mrs. Ralph Nicholson, Mrs. Harry Sutton, Miss Carolyn Lewis, and Miss Lola White.

The last play "Gardella" was presented by members of the Newtonville Woman's Club, including Hortense Rallsback, Hazel Sholley, Gertrude Hansen, Constance Kemper, Gwendolyn Fried, and Edith Morse, with the Prologue given by Minnie Kendrick. This play, coached by

Rotary Club

Dr. Charles E. Barker, former personal physician to the late President Taft, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club on Monday at the Woodland Golf Club. Dr. Barker, a wonderfully interesting speaker with a dynamic personality, has spoken to an amazingly large number of audiences in recent years, visiting the Newton High School on two occasions. His visit, coming as a surprise, was a most pleasant one for the local Rotarians and it was with intense interest that his address on "The Road to Happiness" was received.

Dr. Barker opened his remarks with a definition of "Happiness"—the underlying basic motive for all actions—the desire for joy. He stated that a gangster is a gangster because he has convinced himself that he derives greater pleasure than in any other way. The same is true as to the reason we join a church or attend church regularly. But why does it happen that more people do not seem to be happy? It is because most go through life on the theory that "Happiness" is dependent upon the leaving of certain material things. Money, he stated, has practically nothing to do with happiness. Lots of people have money and are not happy while many others without money are extremely happy. Happiness is the by-product of doing certain things. Thus Dr. Barker came to the simple rules for obtaining happiness which he asked his audience to test for three months.

These rules in brief were—cultivate the habit of looking on the bright side of things; throw yourself into your work with all your soul; get into the habit of being kind and courteous to all; adopt a simple childlike confidence in God as a Father.

K. OF C.

Plans for the monster pre-Lenten Mardi Gras Party have been completed and Chairman of the Committee, Robert Driscoll, announces the Dancing Party is to be held in the Walnut Park Day School, Newton.

Monday, February 8th, has been selected and inasmuch as this affair is the last social of the season before Lent, it is expected that many will attend.

Instead of the usual semi-formal dance, it is planned by the committee to make this party most informal with various stunts and novelty dances. Several old-fashioned dances, a dance for the real young people, elimination dance, prize dance and a leap-year dance are on the program. Paper hats and noise makers will be distributed.

A snappy orchestra has been engaged for the evening and with everyone enjoying the music and fun the night promises to be crammed full with laughter and enjoyment. This is the first Mardi Gras Party conducted under the auspices of the Council and the committee is working overtime to make it successful. In charge of the affair are Robert Driscoll, Chairman, Joseph Valente, John Glynn, John Quinn, Thomas Walters, John Hickey and John Mullen.

W. C. T. U.

The monthly meeting of Newton W. C. T. U. will be held in the First Baptist Church, corner of Beacon and Centre streets, Newton Centre, on Thursday afternoon, February 4, at 2:30.

Dr. Marietta Putnam Reid will speak on "Medical Temperance." Mrs. Sydney Porter is the hostess.

Douglas Sloane, was under the direction of Miss Estelle Marsh.

Between the acts the Rainbow Trio furnished music, with violin, trumpet, and accordion selections. A social hour with refreshments followed the program and an opportunity was given Club members to meet the guests of honor: Mrs. Selden E. James, Mrs. Samuel N. Braham, Mrs. Herbert F. Blair, and Mrs. John F. Capron.

LECTURE ON SYRIA ENTERTAINS SARAH HULL CHAPTER, D. R.

A somewhat novel and unusual program for a patriotic society was that enjoyed by Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R., on Wednesday afternoon, January 13th, when Mrs. Mary Parker Dunning, appearing in several quaint and attractive costumes worn in the country of which she lectured, told of manners, characteristics, and customs in Syria, in a talk entitled "Through Syrian Streets and Doorways". In a country where women are accorded freedom and opportunity, and where patriotic service is a feature of women's work and lives, it was decidedly unusual to hear a lecture the theme of which placed women and such service in such an anomalous position as Mrs. Dunning, with delightful sense of humor, described. The height of compliment paid to a bride in Syria is the wish that she may be blessed with five thousand sons; the height of her value to her lord and master is shown in the old adage to ask ten of one's friends for advice, or to ask one friend ten times for advice, or failing friends, to ask one's wife, and then to do the opposite. Surprising, too, and a bit saddening that modernity can have touched Bethlehem and Damascus, and the wonderful old towns of biblical charm, bringing into them electrical signs, automobiles, and such inventions, were her descriptions of these places.

Sharing honors with Mrs. Dunning, in the evening were Mrs. John Merrill, soprano, and her sister Miss Estelle Eastman, contralto, who delighted their audience with solos and duets of pleasing variety.

Guests of the afternoon were members of the Nathan Fuller Chapter, D. R., and of the William Dawes, Jr., Chapter, also the State regent, Mrs. Clarence Mansur, of Malden, who spoke, telling of the forthcoming celebration of the Washington Bicentennial at Symphony Hall on February 6th, at which time members of the Society will appear in one of the episodes, dancing the minut at the wedding of Martha and George Washington.

Mrs. Walter C. Whitney, vice-regent, presided, announcing the unfortunate accident of a broken arm which kept the regent, Mrs. John F. Dunning, from being present at this guest day.

Mrs. Robert J. Estabrook, corresponding secretary, read several letters of acknowledgment of flowers and letters, from sick members, and also applications for membership in the Chapter.

It was voted that members should bring all surplus Christmas cards, written upon or otherwise, which they felt they could give, to the February meeting of the Chapter, these to be sent to the Eskimos, at Labrador, through Dr. Adelbert Fernald, who is one of Donald MacMillan's party which goes each summer to assist these peoples. The Eskimos delight in these cards, having so few pleasures and beauties in their lives.

Mrs. Edgar M. Horne reported upon the financial success of the Bridge Party held by the Chapter in November, and Mrs. Ellen P. Harris, chairman of War Veterans Work, reported on the many gifts sent at Christmas to the war veterans in hospitals, reading letters of appreciation for hand-made gifts and for assistance during the year "that has been even more generous than ever before," a pleasing statement in these days of "depression."

Two recommendations of the Executive Board were adopted: first, that fifty dollars be contributed by Sarah Hull Chapter to the (Newton) Mayor's Committee on Relief of Unemployment; and second, that Sarah Hull Chapter donate one tree to be placed at the Valley Forge Memorial of the Daughters of the Revolution, provided that the plan for trees to beautify this landscape is sanctioned by the Park Commissioners of Pennsylvania. Mrs. Adelbert Fernald, a member of the chapter, and first vice-president general of the National Society, D. R., explained this project.

To wit: Tribute was paid to the passing of one of the devoted Chapter members, Mrs. Clair Siglin, when all stood with bowed heads, while "Abide With Me" was played.

After the program refreshments were served during a social hour, with Mrs. Adelbert Fernald and Miss Emma Downing Coolidge the pourers. Mrs. George N. Putnam was the Council in charge of the Social hour, in which she was assisted by the hostess, Mrs. William F. Bacon who had opened her delightful home on Hyde avenue, for the occasion: Mrs. Sayford Bacon, Mrs. Willard L. Sampson, and the hostesses of the afternoon: Mrs. Ada E. Davidson, Mrs. Ralph C. Emery, Miss Kate Fox, Miss Mary L. Fox, Mrs. Raymond S. Fosgate, and Mrs. Elmer Gibbs.

CHARLES RIVER COUNTRY CLUB

On last Friday evening, January 22nd, the first of a series of duplicate Contract tournaments was held at the Charles River Country Club for the members and their guests.

The winners were: Mr. and Mrs. Henri F. Prunaret, Jr., Mrs. R. G. Buchold and Mrs. O. W. Forte, Mr. Edward B. Murphy and Mr. Emery Stratton, Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Dyer, Mr. C. E. Holcomb and Mrs. Blackburn, Mr. Henri Bourneuf and Miss Charlotte Bourneuf, Mr. Walter Godsoe and Mr. Fred Godsoe, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Harry Hutchinson.

PARAMOUNT, NEWTON

"Frankenstein," the story which has aroused such great curiosity, will be shown at the Paramount next week starting Sunday. The authorship of this unusual story is most interesting. It was written by Mary Shelley, the wife of the celebrated English poet, Mrs. Shelley wrote the story in competition with her husband and two friends to see who could produce the most unusual story. By general consent the palm was awarded to Mrs. Shelley. Colin Clive takes the part of Frankenstein, and Mae Clark plays the part of the fiancée of Dr. Frankenstein.

Police Seek Daylight Thief

Officials of the Newton police department made known to the press yesterday that during the past month about ten houses have been burglarized in this city by some thief who enters homes during the afternoon hours. Apparently he has watched these houses until he saw their occupants depart and then entered by forcing a window. In most of the burglaries the articles taken have not been of much value. Chief Hughes requests Newton residents to report to the police any suspicious appearing person noticed loitering about a neighborhood. The identity of the houses burglarized was not made known.

The seven cars bought by the city some weeks ago for use by policemen as patrol cars have not been placed into service as yet. The delay is caused by the work necessary in equipping these cars with radio-sets.
Patrolman Walter Hartford was assigned to install the radio sets. Hartford was an electrician before joining the police department. It has been announced that Mr. Hartford will be permanently assigned to mechanical work in connection with the new cars and it was also published in one paper that he would be designated as "radio mechanic". As 11 radio sets would hardly require the services of a mechanic, the fact is that Mr. Hartford will be an assistant to Serg. Cullen in the mechanical branch of the police department and will have other duties besides caring for the radio sets.

When the aldermen voted to appropriate money for the radio sets they were informed that the sets would cost $65 each. It appears that this price did not include the cost of installation.

On Saturday the Newton police were notified by A. Leslie Moriarty, president of the Federation of State,
City and Town Employees that two impostors have been soliciting donations from people in this city on the claim that they are representatives of the Federation. Mr. Moriarty also notified the police of Boston, Waltham and other nearby cities.

Eleven youths were in the Newton court last Friday charged with loitering. Most of the boys reside in the vicinity of Pearl and Thornton streets, Newton and Patrolman Dow told the court they have been using the corner of these two streets as a meeting place, and loitering there.
Dow told Judge Braley, who was on the bench, that he had warned the boys a number of times to cease loitering on this corner and that he had received complaints from persons residing in the neighborhood about the noise the boys made. One resident of the vicinity testified that on January 10 while his mother was ill, the gang congregated at the corner and were noisy. Judge Braley placed all the defendants on probation. Two of them, who objected to having any police record, appealed and were then fined $5 and held in $100 bond for the superior court.

Federico Cioffi of 64 Hawthorne street, Newtonville was fined $20 in the Newton court on Monday for keeping decayed foodstuffs for sale at the store he conducts at 395 Watertown street. A nonantum. Insuper House of the Health Department was the complainant against Cioffi.

Paul Berger of 28 Sheffield road, Newtonville caught three youths stripping parts from a large sedan parked in front of 45 Sheffield road on Monday night. Berger grabbed one of the thieves and made the other two march ahead of him, telling them he had a revolver in his possession. He took the three to his home, but while he was telephoning the police, his captives escaped. Berger told the police that each of the trio was about 17 years old and of medium height.

William Levis, 24, of Linden street,
Wellesley was arrested Wednesday night by Newton police charged with the unlawful appropriation of an automobile owned by Merrill Nutting of Newton Centre. In the Newton court yesterday he was sentenced to serve two months in jail. Joseph De Wolfe of Taft avenue, West Newton was given a similar sentence in the Newton court last week for being implicated in the same theft.

SMITH—ROBERTS

Miss Ethel Roberts, daughter of
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Roberts of 898
Chestnut street, Waban and Mr.
Charles William Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Smith of Columbus avenue, Boston, were united in marriage by Rev. G. Vaughan Shedd of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Upper Falls at the home of the bride's parents Saturday, January 23, at four o'clock in the afternoon.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Edna Roberts as maid of honor and the groom's attendant was Mr. Douglas Field, of Wollaston. The bride was gowned in white satin, with a tulle veil and cap of lace trimmed with orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor was gowned in nile green georgette and carried a bouquet of tallismon roses. Preceding the ceremony, Mr. Grenfell Swim sang a baritone solo "O Promise Me."

The house was tastefully decorated in laurel and white, with a large white bell under which the ceremony took place. A small reception followed the ceremony at which relatives and near friends attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for a wedding trip to New York. They will reside on Woodward road, West Roxbury, where they will be at home after March 1.

The bride was for many years employed in the clerical department of the New England Telephone Company in Boston. Mr. Smith is employed by the Howard Printing Company of Boston.

yer, has been chosen chairman of the

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

The Board of Education of the District, at its recent meeting made plans for the next few months.

There is to be a Reading Campaign for Church School workers, beginning Feb. 11, the first day of Lent and closing on April 9th, the date set for the Annual District Convention. This campaign has been entered in advance by a considerable number of superintendents and teachers. Its aim is to encourage reading which will enrich the teacher's background and also give information as to methods and materials which will prove practical in the Sunday School class.

It was voted to encourage the plan of a Good Friday service for children in those communities where public schools close on that day. Program suggestions will be sent out in due time.

During March, at dates to be decided by local committees, sub-district institutes may be held. These are one-evening affairs in which the church school workers of a particular locality join, for an inspirational address and conference periods on practical departmental methods. Miss Barker is to meet next week with the Waltham committee interested in such an affair for that section of the District.

Lists are out this week for the Reading Campaign for Church School Teachers and Officers, to be conducted during the next two months, and closing
April 9, at the date of the District
Annual Convention.

This is an effort to spur church school workers to read books on methods and pupil development, as well as a few books that give important background material about the Bible.

Each reader is asked to enroll on either January 31 or February 7, by signing a blank provided. Church School superintendents will have the necessary materials. Everyone enrolled will receive from the Norumbega District office a blank form on which to keep track of the reading and to make a report.

The amount of reading asked of each person is a minimum of 300 pages. Church schools reporting that one-third of their workers have read this minimum number of pages will be entitled to a place on the Honor Roll at the District Convention.

Police News

William Baker of 29 Eddy street,
Waltham was found guilty by a jury in the Middlesex Superior Court on Monday of driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. He was fined $100 by Judge Hammond.
On the evening of September 21, 1931 a Middlesex & Boston bus operated by Baker struck Roland Ayer, 64, of Waltham as the latter was standing on Crafts street, Newtonville, near Albemarle road. Gertrude Drennan of Main street, Waltham, who was a passenger on the bus saw Ayer's body as the man was hurled to the street and demanded of Baker that he stop the bus, which had continued to proceed. Baker refused. Miss Drennan's request that he place Ayer in the bus and carry him for medical aid. A passing autoist carried Ayer to the Waltham Hospital where it was found he had been seriously injured. Baker contended that Ayer had been hit by another automobile and not by the bus. Miss Drennan testified that Baker had stated his name was Douglas, when asked. There is an employee of the M & B named Douglas. Baker was tried in the Newton court on December 7, fined $50 and took an appeal.

Francis Wheeler of 26 Homestead street, Waban was in the Newton court on Monday charged with operating his automobile until January 3 with 1931 number plates. He told Judge Bacon that he did not have time to change the plates; and the judge placed the case on file.

Gerhard Peuker, 19, who came to this country from Germany 3 years ago, was in the Newton court on Monday charged with stealing an automobile from Golden Mossman of 15 Walden street, Newtonville. Mossman had employed young Peuker as a painter and when the youth departed last Thursday, taking Mossman's car, the theft of the automobile was brought to light. Peuker was apprehended as he drove the car through Jersey City, New Jersey. Inspector King and Officer Feeley went to Jersey City and brought Peuker back. He pleaded guilty and his case was continued to February 5. He will probably be deported.

Henry V. Greene of 2 Alden street,
Newton Centre was in the Newton court on Monday charged with the larceny of $15 from John Sullivan of 13 Wiltshire road, Newton. Sullivan testified that as the owner of the Newton Iron & Wire Company he paid Greene the money on the promise of the latter that he would get him a contract to build a wire fence at St.
Regis College, Weston. Sullivan did not get the contract and neither did Greene return the commission.
Greene told the judge that he did not get the money as a commission but as a loan. On his promise that he would return the $15, Judge Bacon

George Diab and John Kadra of Framingham were arrested early on the morning of January 19 at Lower Falls by Serg. Sheridan and Patrolman Jenkins. The police had observed the pair acting suspiciously near a filling station at West Newton. When arrested a revolver was found on Kadra and a jimmy on Diab's person. In one of Diab's pocket-ets were found two white tablets which were discovered to be morphine. The pair were arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday and Kadra was charged with carrying a concealed weapon. Diab was charged with having a burglar's tool and with having a narcotic drug in his possession. Their cases were continued until February 4.
